

Today's Weather
Thunderstorms. Low, 63 degrees.
Yesterday: High, 86; low, 67.

THE ATLANTA CONSTITUTION

The Daily Constitution Leads in Home Delivered, City, Trading Territory and Total Circulation

The South's Standard
Newspaper
Associated Press United Press
North American Newspaper Alliance

VOL. LXX, No. 7.

ONLY MORNING NEWSPAPER
PUBLISHED IN ATLANTA

ATLANTA, GA., SATURDAY MORNING, JUNE 19, 1937.

Entered at Atlanta Postoffice
As Second-Class Matter

Single Copies: Daily, 5c; Sunday, 10c.
Daily and Sunday: Weekly, 20c; Monthly, 60c.

TREASURY LISTS NOTABLES WHO HAVE AVOIDED TAXES BY DEVICE OF 'INCORPORATING POCKETBOOKS' ABROAD

Republic Steel Accuses CIO Forces of 'Terrorism'

COMPANY OPPOSES PERKINS' REQUEST FOR 'STATUS QUO'

Declares Cessation of Efforts To Restore Jobs During Conferences Would Be 'Destructive' to Rights of Workers.

UNION FILES CASE UNDER WAGNER ACT

Mediation Board Commences Preliminary Work at Cleveland Despite the Controversy.

By the Associated Press.
Opposition to Secretary of Labor Perkins' plea for "status quo" pending mediation by a three-man board and charges that "civil authority has broken down completely before terrorism of the CIO" marked last night's developments in the seven-state steel strike.

At Cleveland, the Republic Steel Corporation charged a "veritable reign of anarchy exists."
"Any suggestion that the 'status quo' of plant operations be maintained during the work of the federal mediation board is destructive of the rights of the thousands of workers, idle for nearly four weeks, who want to go back to their jobs," the statement said.

John Owens, Ohio CIO director, immediately answered:
"Again we witness a deliberate plea on the part of Republic Steel Corporation for defiance of governmental agencies in their statement issued in relation to the naming of the federal mediation board."

"Republic Steel," said Owens, "is hoping that something will happen so they can avoid the inevitable day when they have to sign a contract with the steel workers' organizing committee."

Prejudice—Vandenberg.
Meanwhile, in Washington, Senator Vandenberg, Republican, Michigan, asserted Miss Perkins' board, "like the President who chose them, may have prejudiced the case to a damaging degree."

He charged two of the three-man board are already on record in favor of written agreements between workers and their employers. The third, he said, is the President's representative.

In the face of the controversy, Secretary Perkins and the board commenced mediation efforts in Cleveland.

Perkins Asks Status Quo.
Earlier in the day she appealed to governors of seven states to maintain peace and the "status quo" during the mediation.

Again Washington was a firing line in the fight when the SWOC invoked the Wagner Labor Relations Act against Republic charged.

Continued in Page 8, Column 7.

Ex-Tech Professor
Ends Seven-Seas Sail
NEW YORK, June 18.—(P)—Sailing around the world in a doughty little 37-foot ketch, he built himself, Professor Roger S. Strout thinks, is a series of lovely views and absolutely no hair-raising adventure.

With his wife, Edith, the 36-year-old former Georgia Tech physics teacher, completed the voyage today. The sun-bronzed couple, who started out from Jacksonville, Fla., in 1934, insisted there had been "no narrow escapes" but merely "the most beautiful scenery in the world."

What impressed them, too, was the trip's cost, or lack of it. They spent about $2,000, exclusive of the boat. "It doesn't cost any more to travel," Strout said, "than it does to live in a little apartment."

Toiling So Blind, Too, May Read 'Gone With Wind'

In order that the blind too may read Margaret Mitchell's sensational novel, "Gone With the Wind," Raymond Williams, blind student at the University of Mississippi, is translating the best seller into Braille. Williams, who says his translation will require 1,800 pages and 16 volumes, is shown above at work with his assistant, Miss Eugenia Rowland. The work is expected to take 30 days, Williams said.

LABOR MEN DEFIED BY BIBB'S SHERIFF

'I'll Put Them Under the Jail,' Hicks Declares, 'If Sit-Down Is Started.'

MACON, Ga., June 18.—(P)—A charge of "peonage" hurled by a labor group at Sheriff James R. Hicks Jr. over his threat to jail relief workers who refuse private jobs drew today a promise of like treatment for organizers if they try sit-down strikes here.

Directing his promise to John L. Lewis and his southern textile organizer, A. Steve Nance, Hicks said a sit-down strike in this middle Georgia textile center "will be the hottest seat they have had for some time."

"Legalized Peonage."
It was the Nance-controlled faction of the Georgia Federation of Labor that termed Hicks' relief drive "a barbaric attempt to establish legalized peonage."

Defending legality of his drive, which has already brought arrest on vagrancy charges of 14 persons, eight of whom were subsequently released because they had jobs, Hicks said:

"Neither Mr. Nance nor Mr. Lewis nor anyone can keep me from enforcing the law. If either of them will come to Bibb county and start their racket here with a sit-down strike, I will put them right where I put these negro vagrants—under the jail."

Vagrants Sentenced.
The first court action in the sheriff's drive came today when City Judge Earl W. Butler sentenced a negro to 12 months on the chain gang or a fine of $100. The

Continued in Page 9, Column 6.

Soviet Airmen Hop For U.S., Battle Storms

Trio Over Polar Wastes in Longest Non-Stop Flight in History.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 18.—(UP)—Three intrepid Russian fliers flew across bleak Arctic wastes tonight on an attempted 6,250-mile non-stop flight from Moscow to San Francisco.

Brief radio reports from the fliers told of progress of the flight, but left the plane's position in doubt. The plane was battling heavy storms, reports indicated.

As the trio neared the half-way mark in the flight that long had been the dream of Russia's aviation officials, attendants at Oakland airport, on the Oakland side of San Francisco bay, began preparations to receive them sometime Sunday.

Practiced for Flight.
At the controls of the single-motored, low-wing plane, was Valerie Chkalov, who in training for this flight made a 5,800-mile non-stop trip last year.

Taking over from time to time to rest the chief pilot was another experienced Russian flier, co-pilot Georgi Baldukov.

The third member of the party was Alex Beliakov, the navigator, to whom was entrusted the task of steering a course in the longest non-stop flight ever attempted.

Alexander Troyanovsky, Soviet ambassador to the United States, flew to San Francisco early today. It was from him and from General William F. Gilmore, of the National Aeronautical Association, that the meager details were made available.

Shrouded in Secrecy.
Shrouded in secrecy, the flight

Continued in Page 8, Column 8.

BILBAO DEFENDERS BLAST ARMS PLANT

Loyalists Carry Out Vow To Leave 'Nothing But Ruins' for Insurgents.

HENDAYE, Franco - Spanish Frontier, June 19, Saturday.—(UP)—Basque volunteers, carrying out their vow to leave "nothing but ruins" for insurgent armies sweeping down on the doomed city of Bilbao, early today blew up the great Guecho Arms Factory in the wake of their retreat.

The big munitions plant, one of the largest in Spain, was a prize of war which the Rebels coveted. General Jose Fidel Davila had warned that he would not leave a man alive in Bilbao if the threat of destruction were carried out.

Leave Naught But Ruins.
The Basque delegate to Madrid reported there, according to a government dispatch, that Bilbao's defenders "will continue to destroy the city so the Rebels will find nothing but ruins."

The same tactics were carried out at Galdacano, where Loyalists dynamited the largest munitions plant in the country before their retreat. The same plan was carried out at Irun earlier in the war.

Meanwhile Rebel guns poured more than 10,000 shells into the city upon covering women and children, many of whom were literally blown to bits.

City Not Yet Taken.
The Nationalist radio broadcast tonight that the city was "not yet taken" but entry would be made within a few hours. The road to Santander was under heavy shell-fire and Fascist and Requetista (Royalist) columns streamed up Windmill hill, the last heights overlooking the city.

From the top of the hill, with its single windmill, standing like a scarecrow with blades shattered by shells, the Rebel artillery was

Continued in Page 9, Column 4.

SECURITY BODY HIT FOR ITS REVISION OF COUNTY BOARDS

Clarke and Bibb Personnel Changes Bring Protests From Commissioners and Legislators; 147 of 159 Groups Named.

ACTION DEFENDED BY WELFARE HEAD

Murdaugh Asks Co-operation, Citing Reasons for Switch in the Lists Submitted for Approval.

Georgia's new social security system, scheduled to make first old age pension payments in July, was the target of protests yesterday when the state welfare board changed personnel of several county committees recommended by local officials.

The board announced approved committees for 147 of the 159 counties, designating five persons in each of them to take active direction of pension payments in their respective counties.

In two instances—Clarke and Bibb counties—where the board did not accept the recommendations of county authorities, complaints were voiced.

Authority Questioned.
From Clarke County, Representative Kent A. Hill charged the state had exceeded its authority and that the legislature had not intended for it to have the power of changing the selections of county commissioners for their boards.

The Bibb county commissioners by formal action directed their secretary to request information from the state department concerning the substitution of two unrecommended persons on the Bibb county for those named by the board.

In a prepared statement, Lamar Murdaugh, director of the state public welfare department, said the state board, in instances where "approval could not be given the names submitted," has "offered substitutions, which we hope the county commissioners will accept in a spirit of co-operation."

Co-operation Asked.
He added that "the efficient administration of the public welfare laws of the state contemplate close operation between the state board and the county commissioners and the various county boards. It is, therefore, essential that very careful consideration be given to the personnel of these county boards."

Continued in Page 8, Column 5.

'PAPA' DOUMERGUE PASSES IN FRANCE

Former President, Twice Premier, Succumbs Unexpectedly to Embolism.

AIGUES-VIVES, France, June 18.—(P)—Gaston Doumergue—"Papa" to most of France—died today in this ancient village of his birth which he left as president and premier to lead France through critical days of political strife.

Death came unexpectedly to the retired 73-year-old statesman. He awakened in apparent good health this morning. A few minutes later, his wife said, he complained of illness, fainted and died without regaining consciousness.

Death was due to an embolism, a physician said.

Perilous Weather Balks Flight Over Burma

Amelia Earhart is pictured perched on her trusty Lockheed Electra in which she today vainly attempted to take off on a 700-mile flight over the jungles and mountains of Burma in the face of treacherous monsoons—such as the deluge she battled for two hours yesterday before turning back to Akyab, Burma. In her story below, she writes that the water fell with such force that it wore paint from the wings of her ship.

Amelia Twice Forced Down In Perilous Hop Over Jungle

$1,750,000 IN BIDS FOR ROADS OPENED

Another Batch of Highway Contracts To Be Let on July 2 for Federal Aid

Bids were opened yesterday by the State Highway Board on road and bridge construction projects involving expenditure of more than $1,750,000 of federal and state funds.

Another letting of contracts will be held July 2 on projects intended to complete allocation of all 1936 federal funds, which otherwise would lapse and be lost to the state of Georgia.

The list of projects and apparent low bidders at yesterday's letting: Barrow County—4,034 miles of graded road and one bridge on the Monroe-Winder highway. New Winder Lumber Company, $65,062.28.

Bibb County—666 miles of paved road and one bridge on the Macon-Roberta road. Albert Lyons, Rogersville, Tenn., $58,910.52.

Bibb County—6,375 miles of surface treated road on the Macon-Roberta road. Albert Lyons, Rogersville, Tenn., $58,910.52.

Continued in Page 8, Column 1.

3 to 5 Age Group Counts Heavily In Local Search for Film Talent

Two Atlanta Little Girls Among Score Interviewed for Screen Tests.

Atlanta's younger social set—ages 3 to 5 years—constitutes a decidedly important group in The Constitution's movie talent hunt, the winner of which will receive a splendid trip to Hollywood and return with all expenses paid.

For example, there is Barbara Ann Arnold, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Arnold, of 973 Austin avenue.

ACTOR LAUGHTON AND 3 FINANCIERS NAMED AT PROBE

Only Direct Violation Is Charged to Ex-Banker Who Reported He Was Penniless After Giving $250,000 to Own Firm.

ADDITIONAL NAMES WILL BE REVEALED

Joint Congressional Committee Insists on Data on All Rather Than Mere 'Sample' Cases.

WASHINGTON, June 18.—(P)—The Treasury department spread on the public records today the names of six men who, it said, have utilized the device of foreign corporations in such a way as to reduce or eliminate income taxes.

Expressly making no charges of illegality, Elmer L. Irey, chief of the intelligence division of the Bureau of Internal Revenue, told the joint congressional committee on tax evasion and avoidance that the following have employed that practice.

Charles Laughton, the motion picture actor.
Jacob Schick, retired army officer, the inventor and manufacturer of an electric razor.

James S. Baugh, Wallace Groves and Percy K. Hudson, well known in investment, brokerage and financial circles.

$250,000 and Penniless.
In addition, a direct violation of the law was charged to Philip DeRonde, former president of the Hibernian Trust Company, of New York. Irey testified DeRonde swore he was penniless the day after he received $250,000 and turned it over to a personal holding company incorporated in the Bahamas.

A seventh name, that of George Westinghouse Jr., was brought into the hearings as illustrative of "the confusing practice" of filing income tax returns from a different house each year. Westinghouse filed in successive years from New Brunswick, British Columbia and Jamaica, it was testified.

"He jumps around like a bug," said Roswell Magill, under secretary of the treasury.

More Names to Come.
The activities of these men and their activities were laid before the committee as "sample cases," in the administration's drive for legislation to eliminate legal technicalities whereby, President Roosevelt had said, taxes are evaded or avoided.

More names are to follow. In fact, Senator La Follette, progressive, Wisconsin, plainly indignant, objected to the use of "samples" on the ground it would lay the committee open to charges of discrimination. On his motion, the committee ordered the names of all who have engaged in such practices be laid before it.

Between questions addressed to the witnesses, committee members felt to discussing methods of patching up the laws, and Undersecretary Magill readily

Continued in Page 9, Column 4.

WEATHER

GEORGIA—Partly cloudy Saturday and Sunday with scattered afternoon showers.

ATLANTA—One year ago today, June 19, 1936.
High 90; low 73; rain.

SUN AND MOON FOR TODAY.
Sun rises 4:28 a. m.; sets 8:32 p. m.
Moon rises 3:22 p. m.; sets 1:16 a. m.

LOCAL WEATHER REPORT.
(Observations at 6:30 p. m. central standard time.)
Highest temperature 79
Lowest temperature 74
Mean temperature 76
Normal temperature 76
Precipitation in past 24 hours, ins. 1.9
Total precipitation this month, ins. 1.28
Deficiency since 1st of month, ins. 35
Total precipitation this year, ins. 27.07
Excess since Jan. 1, ins. 2.67

Dry temperature 80
Wet bulb 70
Relative humidity 66

Reports of Weather Bureau Stations.

STATIONS AND STATE OF WEATHER Temperature (Fahrenheit) (Normal) (High) (Low)

ATLANTA, Ga., cloudy 79 80 81 74

Augusta, cloudy 78 79 80 73

Birmingham, cloudy 82 83 84 76

Boston, cloudy 82 83 84 76

Buffalo, raining 80 81 82 73

Chicago, part cloudy 70 71 72 64

Houston, cloudy 82 83 84 76

Jacksonville, cloudy 80 81 82 73

Kansas City, clear 82 83 84 76

Memphis, cloudy 80 81 82 73

Miami, cloudy 80 81 82 73

Montgomery, cloudy 80 81 82 73

New Orleans, cloudy 78 79 80 73

Newark, cloudy 80 81 82 73

Oakland, Cal., dry 86 87 88 79

Raleigh, cloudy 82 83 84 76

St. Louis, clear 82 83 84 76

Savannah, cloudy 78 79 80 73

Tampa, cloudy 80 81 82 73

Thomsonville, pt. cldy. 78 79 80 73

Washington, cloudy 79 80 81 74

150,000 ENLISTED IN KIDNAP SEARCH FOR MRS. PARSONS

District Attorney Asks County Residents To Comb Every Spot.

STONY BROOK, N. Y., June 18. (P)—State authorities tonight sought to enlist the entire population of Suffolk county in their search for Alice McDonnell Parsons, missing Long Island matron.

Federal agents, on the other hand, appeared ready to abandon the bushwhacking, foot-by-foot coverage of the countryside. Already the searchers have raked nearly 15 square miles.

Baffled by will-o-the-wisp clues, Assistant District Attorney Henry at his press conference tonight appealed to the county's 150,000 residents to find Mrs. Parsons—"dead or alive."

District Attorney Hill, meanwhile, announced he would request that an aerial search be made of the waters of Long Island sound. He said he would ask Nassau county police to furnish a glass-bottomed plane.

While he suggested that all reasonable chances of finding Mrs. Parsons in the Stony Brook area had been exhausted, the assistant district attorney in charge of the state forces was pointing searchers to "vacant houses, barns, ponds, cisterns, wells, wooded or wild property."

He proposed that responsible citizens in every community secure permission from property owners to search for the 38-year-old woman.

A search already was under way of lower New York harbor for a woman's body reported seen floating four miles south of the narrow entrance to the upper harbor. A coast guard plane and two police boats were engaged in the search.

FINAL RITES TODAY FOR H. B. FLEECE

Former HOLC Regional Director Will Be Buried in West View.

Funeral services for Hugh Berry Fleece, southeastern regional manager of the Home Owners' Loan Corporation who died Thursday night, will be held at 10 o'clock this morning at Spring Hill chapel with the Rev. Richard Orme Flinn officiating.

Burial will be in West View cemetery under the direction of H. M. Patterson & Son.

Mr. Fleece was 59 years old and resided at 253 Fifteenth street, N. E. He was transferred here from Washington in 1934. He was a member of the North Avenue Presbyterian church, where he was an elder.

Active pallbearers will be C. J. Williamson, Herbert Halverson, N. M. Patten, Ralph Holzworth, Frank A. Holden and James C. Moody.

Honorary escorts will be John W. Childress, assistant to the chairman, Home Loan Bank Board, Washington; Horace Russell, general counsel, Home Loan Bank Board, Washington; Fred W. Catlett, member Home Loan Bank Board, Washington; Tom H. Semple, assistant general manager, Home Owners' Loan Corporation, Washington; Harry C. Peiker, assistant general manager, Home Owners' Loan Corporation, Washington; J. Arthur Younger, chief, savings and loan division, Federal Savings and Loan Association, Washington; H. E. Cox, assistant regional manager, Home Owners' Loan Corporation, Atlanta; Robert Brock; William Franklin, James Edwards, Wells Hoge, D. S. Audsley, Franklin Taylor, the elders and deacons of the North Avenue Presbyterian church, and the department heads of the regional office of the Home Owners' Loan Corporation.

Among those who will attend the funeral are the state managers of the HOLC offices in Georgia and Paul E. Vardeman, regional manager of the HOLC, of the Memphis district.

FRAUD IS CHARGED

U. S. Files More Complaints in Gas Tax Conspiracy.

SHREVEPORT, La., June 18. (P)—Complaints filed against two more men today brought to 53 the number of persons charged by federal authorities here with a conspiracy to defraud states of gasoline taxes.

Charges of conspiracy and fraud were filed by U. S. Attorney Harvey G. Fields against Robert M. Dudley Jr. and Jordan Vance Beasley, of Tennessee.

Fields prepared for presentation Monday to the grand jury complaints filed yesterday against them and 51 others in five states ordered arrested in alleged fraudulent oil shipments from this area. Those named reside in Louisiana, Mississippi, Alabama, Florida and Tennessee.

Roadside First Aid Given Tech Party Hurt in Crash

Professor Arthur Armstrong, director of athletics at Georgia Tech University, and two students were injured in this accident near Alexandria, Va., while they were motoring to Philadelphia for national collegiate tennis matches. One of the students, William Moore, 19, is in Alexandria hospital with a possible fracture of the skull. The other, Burtz Boulware, escaped with lacerations. Pictures show the auto after they crashed, and Professor Armstrong as he received first aid on the roadside. Police said the Atlanta group's car collided with an Alexandria auto which was attempting to pass a third car.

INDUSTRIAL SLUMP HELD IMMATERIAL

Economists See Little To Fear in Minor Drop

WASHINGTON, June 18. (P)—Government economists predicted today that there will be a minor slump in industrial activity in the next few months.

They added, however, that the longer range outlook is relatively favorable.

In a report issued by the Bureau of Agricultural Economics the economists said: Sales of goods by a number of important industries, particularly textiles, have been well below current output recently.

The report said further "the general impetus of recovery should carry industry through any temporary period of hesitation."

CHARLESTON MAYOR REFUSES FEDERAL POST

CHARLESTON, S. C., June 18. (P)—An appointment to the Federal Power Commission was refused by Mayor Burnet R. Maybank, of Charleston, it was disclosed here today, because the mayor feels he "still has obligations to the city of Charleston."

Announcement was made in Washington last night that Mayor Maybank had declined an appointment to the commission in a conference with President Roosevelt last week, and John W. Scorr, who served as federal counsel for the Santee-Cooper project in recent litigation, had been named to the post.

Tech Professor Resting Easily Despite Injury

WASHINGTON, June 18.—Professor Arthur Armstrong, director of athletics at Georgia Tech, was reported resting comfortably at Georgetown University hospital here tonight although he was suffering from a dislocated right leg and concussion received in an automobile accident in near-by Virginia yesterday.

In the company of two Tech students, William Moore and H. B. Boulware, both of Atlanta, Professor Armstrong was motoring to the National Intercollegiate tennis matches at Philadelphia when his car collided with a machine driven by Archie Thomas, of Alexandria, Va., below Fairfax, Va. Hospital attendants were unable to say how long Professor Armstrong would be confined.

According to police, Thomason was driving on the Winchester road when he pulled out to pass a car going in the same direction, and was in collision with the Georgia car. Although both cars were badly damaged, neither driver was charged by police who investigated.

Young Moore and Boulware were treated for minor injuries.

KRACKE HONORED BY MEDICAL GROUP

Emory Man Elected to Board of Pathology.

Dr. Roy Kracke, head of the department of pathology in the medical school of Emory University, has returned from the American Medical Association convention in Atlantic City, N. J., with several new distinctions.

He was elected to the American Board of Pathology for a six-year term, the only southern representative on the eight-man body, and was named chairman of the pathology section of the association.

Before the convention he delivered an address at the annual session of the American Society of Clinical Pathologists held in Philadelphia as retiring president. His new book on blood diseases, termed the first comprehensive blood atlas to be published, was presented to the profession for the first time at the Atlantic City meeting.

LOSS OF TENANTS LAID TO SIDEWALK

City Sued for Techwood Drive Collapse.

A collapsed sidewalk which allegedly was responsible for tenants moving from property on Techwood drive was given as basis for a $4,705 damage suit filed against the city of Atlanta yesterday in Fulton superior court by Mrs. Minnie Lee Austin.

Mrs. Austin alleges the city began construction of a water main on Techwood drive near the intersection of Alexander street, N. W., on January 30, 1936, causing the sidewalk to cave in. This condition was not repaired and consequently her tenants moved away and her houses have not been re-rented, the petitioner declares.

$5 Per Week Temporary Alimony Chagrins Mrs. Virginia Anderson

Young Mrs. Virginia S. Anderson, whose husband, Alvin Victor Anderson, says he's broke despite her attorney's contention to the contrary, expressed joy yesterday when informed she had been awarded temporary alimony by New York Supreme Court Justice Ernest E. L. Hammer.

"How much," she inquired. "Five dollars a week."

"For Heaven's sake," she had asked $50.

"Say, what time is it?" was her next question.

"It's six minutes of 1 o'clock. Why are you just getting up?"

"No-o-o. My clock's stopped."

Mrs. Anderson's husband is seeking an annulment on various grounds.

1. That his pretty wife neglected to tell him before their marriage that she had been wed twice previously.

2. That his wife posed in the semi-nude for Murray Korman,

New York photographer, and embarrassed him by allowing the pictures to appear in the newspapers.

3. That she quaffed too long and too often of the wine when it was red.

Says He's Dependent.

Anderson's claim is without a job and without funds. He said further in his plea to the New York court that he is living on money advanced by his mother and that his father is a shop superintendent. Mrs. Anderson's attorney claims her husband's father is a member of the board of directors of a $3,000,000 New Jersey corporation.

"You'll have to move into more modest surroundings, won't you?" Mrs. Anderson was asked yesterday. "She's been living in an expensive hotel here to be near her mother pending outcome of the suit."

"Say," she said. "Do you think that $5 a week is all the money I've got?"

POLICEMAN, NEGRO SLAIN IN GUN FIGHT

Third Participant in Highway Shooting Hunted in North Carolina.

GOLDSBORO, N. C., June 18. (P)—A state highway patrolman and a negro were killed in an early morning gun battle near here, and an all-day search failed to turn up an alleged third participant in the shooting.

The victims were Patrolman I. T. Moore, 28, and Frank Cox. Tonight deputies continued a search for Lester Cox, brother of the slain negro.

Sheriff Garrison said the patrolman stepped on the running board of the negroes' car to halt them for driving with one headlight. An argument ensued, and the firing began. Moore, fatally injured, died a few minutes later in a hospital.

The negroes, after firing, ran, Garrison said, and other officers with the patrolman, opened fire on them. The slain negro was found in a ditch about a mile from the scene of battle, five miles south of here on State Highway No. 117.

Mary, Excited, Goes With Buddy To Seek License

LOS ANGELES, June 18. (P)—Mary Pickford was so excited she could not remember the street address of Pickfair, her home, when she and Buddy Rogers applied for a marriage license today.

Breathlessly, they arrived at the license bureau just at closing time. Word spread quickly through the hall of records and soon the floor was jammed with people.

Rogers, actor and orchestra leader, gave his age as 34 and said this would be his first marriage.

Miss Pickford, who identified herself as an actress-producer, said she was 43 and that this would be her third wedding. Her previous husbands were Owen Moore, star of the silent screen, and Douglas Fairbanks.

"I guess I never did know where that place was," she said, when the clerk asked her the address of Pickfair "except I always knew how to get there."

"We are going to have the quietest possible kind of a wedding," she continued.

"We'll be married at 3 o'clock next Saturday afternoon at the home of my old friends, the Lightons. We will have a reception afterward, but the details have not been completed. Then we will sail for Honolulu June 26 for a month's honeymoon."

EXPANSION DEPENDS ON TROLLEY'S SERVICE

Expansion of trackless trolley service in Atlanta will depend upon the success of the College Park-Hapeville trackless trolleys now being installed, Preston S. Arkwright, president of the Georgia Power company, wrote Mayor Hartsfield yesterday.

City council has adopted a resolution asking the power company to substitute trackless trolleys for street cars on Peachtree street. Arkwright said the company will determine expansion of the service soon to be placed in operation on the Hapeville-College Park line by the amount of success it has with the public.

RALPH H. SHROPSHIRE BURIED IN WASHINGTON

Final rites for Ralph H. Shropshire, 54, former Atlanta resident who died in Washington, D. C., Tuesday, were held here yesterday. Burial took place there.

Mr. Shropshire was a native of Atlanta and a former official of the Southern railroad. For the past several years he had served as a railroad supply firm's representative in Washington.

He was a graduate of Georgia Tech.

Surviving are his wife, a sister, Mrs. Edna S. Colyar, of Rome, Ga., and two brothers, E. Shropshire, of Rome, and J. C. Shropshire, of Atlanta.

GEORGIAN AND SISTER MEET AFTER 60 YEARS

FRANKLIN, N. C., June 18. (P)—Mrs. F. C. Galloway, of Highlands, and N. M. Chambers, of Rome, Ga., brother and sister, met here today for the first time in 60 years.

They were separated when they became orphans.

Horns Well Pounded By Autoist, Cow, Goat

SAUGUS, Mass., June 18. (UP)—Traffic on Newburyport turnpike was held up for 15 minutes today while a goat and cow staged a butting match in the middle of the road.

Patrolman Edgar McKenney finally coaxed the contestants off the main highway to a nearby field.

PIEDMONT FEED & GROCERY CO.

117 Piedmont Ave. W. A. 9686
WHITE ROSE (GUARANTEED)
FLOUR 48 LBS. $1.65
RED PURE-CARTON
LARD 8 LBS. $1.15
50-50 CHICKEN
FEED 100 LBS. $2.75
WATER-GROUND
MEAL 15 LBS. 35c
100 POUNDS 75c
C. S. MEAL $1.95

Business Recovery In Progress Parade

Business Observers Hopeful of Outlook

NEW YORK, June 18. (P)—Comparisons of statistics at the depth of the depression today afforded a brilliant example of the distance traveled by the recovery machine in the past five years and provoked discussion on how much further business will advance. Business observers were more or less uniformly hopeful of the outlook.

Electric Output Shows Advance for Week

NEW YORK, June 18. (P)—United Gas Improvement Co. reported an increase of 9.3 per cent in electric output for the week ended June 12 over the same week a year ago.

Divisions of Trade Overcome Handicaps

NEW YORK, June 18. (P)—Most division of trade succeeded in surmounting increasing handicaps to progress this week. Dues & Bradstreet said today in the weekly review of business.

"Accumulated summer requirements, spurred by warmer weather, imparted a faster momentum to retail trade," the agency said. "The broader flow of reorders to wholesalers for seasonal goods revealed the cautious policy merchants have followed in building inventories."

ARREST EXPECTED IN COW POISONING

Police Lieutenant Reports Progress in Investigation.

Efforts of county police to apprehend persons who placed poison in the dairy pasture of C. S. Webb, on Roswell road, had proven vain early last night but an arrest is expected in the near future, Lieutenant A. T. Butler said.

Four valuable cows died Thursday afternoon as a result of eating the poison which was mixed with bran and left where the cows would find it, the officer said. Apparently no other cows in the herd of 11 ate the poison food, he added.

HEARING SCHEDULED ON MANN ACT CHARGE

A preliminary hearing will be given Richard Thomas Tillman, charged with violation of the Mann act, Thursday before United States Commissioner E. S. Grifith.

Tillman, apprehended by agents of the Federal Bureau of Investigation in Chicago, was returned to Atlanta yesterday. Bond of $2,000 was fixed for him by a United States judge in Chicago. In event he is unable to make bond, Tillman will remain in Fulton tower to await trial.

The warrant charged Tillman with transporting a young woman from Atlanta to Chicago for immoral purposes.

Kamper's

555 Peachtree St.
H. H. H. H. H.
290 Peachtree St.
Emory University Store
Corners 500

69c EACH

Fresh Dressed Hens

A little less than 3 lbs. each. 69c each

Forequarter Beef Roast, 25c lb.

Marie Elizabeth Boneless, Skinless Sardines (olive oil) 35c-3 for $1

Now! Fresh Mountain Grown

Huckleberries 20c qt.

Large Cuban Avocados, 20c ea.

Home-Grown Beans, 5c bunch

Large Cantaloupe (from California) 2 for 25c

Ga. Grown Butter Beans 2 lbs. 25c

Texas White Boiling Onions, 3 lbs. 10c

Fresh Ga. Corn 40c doz.

Dad's Dilemmas

HOLE IN ONE

What a sock! And actually a hole-in-one! But there's no miracle to this kind... it happens to Dad almost every time he tees off to get dressed. No wonder, though... there are holes in socks and shoes alike when Dad's been trudging around all day making a living for you to enjoy. But here's a chance for you to plug that hole, rather—to replace those perforated hose with some nice, new, comfortable ones. Treat Dad to this pleasure for Father's Day... from our assortment at 50c, $1.00, $1.50.

FATHER'S DAY

JUNE 20

Lew Adler

113 PEACHTREE STREET

What a young Bride found out

YOU MEAN ALL "CORN FLAKES" AREN'T THE SAME?

NO, INDEED, MY DEAR! YOU WON'T FIND KELLOGG'S FINE FLAVOR AND CRISPNESS IN ANY OTHER BRAND

EVERY DAY, women are learning from experience that the way to get the best in Corn Flakes is to insist on Kellogg's.

Kellogg's are made better. They're packed better—with the exclusive heat-sealed inner wrapper that brings them to you oven-fresh. And they taste better—a flavor secret that only Kellogg knows.

Enjoy Kellogg's Corn Flakes any time of day. They're wholesome, easy to digest. Ready to serve with milk or cream, for breakfast, lunch or the children's supper.

An outstanding value at all grocers. Served by hotels, restaurants and dining-cars everywhere. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

ENTER KELLOGG'S BIG CORN FLAKES CONTEST $54,000 in 5148 prizes. $5000 cash, 1st prize. Automobiles, Crosley "Sheladors," Grunow "Teledials," bicycles, grocery orders. Easy to enter—easy to win. Ends July 12. Ask your grocer for details. Or write Kellogg Co., Battle Creek, Mich.

NO MORE IMITATIONS FOR ME... I'LL TAKE KELLOGG'S CORN FLAKES

WHERE'D YOU GET THESE CORN FLAKES? THEY'RE DELICIOUS!

YOU CAN'T BUY MORE FOR YOUR MONEY, THEY'RE OVEN-FRESH AND GUARANTEED

AREN'T THEY GOOD? I'LL STICK TO KELLOGG'S FROM NOW ON!

Say "Kellogg's" before you say "CORN FLAKES"

THE CONSTITUTION

CLARK ROWELL, President and Publisher
R. H. FROTH, V.-Pres. and Business Manager
FRANCIS W. CLARKE, Executive Editor

Entered at the Postoffice at Atlanta as second-class mail matter.

Telephone Walnut 6565

SUBSCRIPTION RATES
By Carrier or Mail
Daily and Sunday 1 Mo. $3.00 3 Mo. $8.00 6 Mo. $15.00 1 Yr. $28.00
Single Copies—Daily 5c Sunday 10c
By Mail—Daily 1 Mo. $2.50 3 Mo. $7.00 6 Mo. $13.00 1 Yr. $25.00
Mail rates for R. F. D. and small or non-deliverable towns for 1st, 2d and 3d postal zones only, on application.

KELLY-SMITH COMPANY, national representatives, New York, Chicago, Detroit, Boston, Philadelphia, Atlanta.

THE CONSTITUTION is on sale in New York City by J. P. in the day after issue. It can be had at Houlston's News Stand, Broadway and Forty-third Street (Times Building corner). Request a copy of The Constitution to be delivered to your room each day when you register at a New York hotel.

The Constitution is not responsible for advance payments to out-of-town local carriers, dealers or agents. Receipts given for subscription payments not in accordance with published rates are not authorized; also not responsible for subscription payments until received at office of publication.

Member of the Associated Press.

The Associated Press is exclusively entitled to use for publication of all news dispatches credited to it or not otherwise credited to this paper and also the local news published herein.

ATLANTA, GA., JUNE 19, 1937.

THE REGENTS' CONSTRUCTIVE STEP

The board of regents of the University of Georgia decided at a meeting held Thursday to offer scholarships, in the form of remission of tuition fees for the first year of the course, to the first honor graduate in all of the 419 accredited high schools of the state. The offer applies to all units of the University System, the recipients of the scholarship being given the choice of the particular institution they wish to attend.

Winners of these scholarships thus will have no expense for their freshman year except living costs. The entire cost of tuition for the year will be born by the University System.

For years many leading universities and colleges in other parts of the country have offered scholarships to honor graduates of high schools and private secondary schools in Georgia. The result has been a constant drainage of the brightest students in the state into other sections.

Many of them have remained out of the state after graduation. Georgia thus has lost many of her most promising young men and women and has been deprived of professional, technical and public leadership for the future. Of all Georgia's assets there is none of such value or importance to the future guidance, growth and development of the state as its young men and women. When these are tempted away, to become citizens of other states, they leave Georgia bereft of a new citizenship it can ill afford to lose.

A state without the strength and initiative of its fairest and finest youth is a state poor indeed.

The offer of the board of regents of scholarships which hold out equal inducement for attendance at Georgia institutions will do much to stop this human depletion. It will rebuild the strength of citizenship and develop a new source of human wealth. It will bring to Georgia problems the genius of loyal Georgia intellectuals, and stop the erosion of the state's youth.

Georgia's finest boys and girls, trained in Georgia colleges to take their place in Georgia's march toward technical, scientific, industrial, commercial, intellectual and social leadership: that is the vision seen by the regents and their action should bring new inspiration and new loyalty to their home state in the minds and hearts of Georgia's youth.

THE PARKS OF GEORGIA

The second unit in Georgia's new system of state parks will be opened on July 1. It is called Vogel Park, located in the mountains near Blairsville.

The new park has a well-stocked fishing lake and cabins for week-end vacationists. Incidentally, however, it is announced that all seven of these cabins are already engaged for practically the entire summer.

Linked with the national park program, these state centers of recreation will ultimately provide opportunity for all citizens to know better the national glories of their state. The parks, both national and state, provide conveniences for visitors and present nature in all the wonder of her natural beauty, opened up and made accessible to everyone.

Proper use of these parks by the public will preserve them for the enjoyment of generations yet unborn and will enhance, from year to year, their beauty. Visitors must observe the primary rules of the open. There must be no danger of forest fires from carelessly abandoned cigarettes or from sparks of camp fires. There must be no litter of sandwich wrappings and empty food and drink cartons. There must be no injury to the trees and shrubs and flowers.

Observance of these few simple rules will mean that Georgia will always possess an asset of incalculable value for the ethical and spiritual growth of her people.

TROUBLES OF A GERMAN EDITOR

A newspaper editor in any free country is an object of envy when he can print an "exclusive" news story. Particularly by his rivals in the particular journalistic vineyard. He is, similarly, admired by the reading public and complimented by his office associates.

But listen to the woe of the story of the editor of the Marienwerder, East Prussia, paper.

The local Nazi leader in Marienwerder whispered a "hot tip" in the ear of his friend, the editor. It was a grand exclusive story. A "scoop," if your knowledge of newspaperdom was gained through motion pictures. Der Fuehrer himself was coming to Marienwerder.

The editor, imbued with his profession's instinct for news, spread the story all over his front page and, editorially, called on the local authorities to extend the most enthusiastic of welcomes to Herr Hitler. He called for the utmost in street decorations and for a spirit of jubilee that would leave echoes ringing down the Marienwerder welkin for generations to come.

The result? The editor was officially reprimanded and, it is understood, doomed to think upon his error during weary months of incarceration in a concentration camp.

For he forgot that Herr Hitler is a nervous individual and dislikes advance publication of his itineraries. It gives him the jitters.

THE CHART OF OPINION TRENDS

The American Institute of Public Opinion, has been in existence for 19 months. During that period it has measured public opinion in America on more than 60 important public questions, exclusive of its advance polls on candidates for office and on election results. Its record of accuracy is striking and convincing.

The weekly polls of the Institute have appeared exclusively in this section, in The Constitution. They have provided an important gauge of national reaction to social conditions, political policies and governmental proposals and have been of immeasurable value to students of public affairs, as well as to business men who require dependable indications of future developments for successful planning of their commercial or industrial undertakings.

One of the most significant of Institute records is that which reveals the month by month changes in popularity of the Roosevelt administration. By carefully rechecking national sentiment once a month, the Institute is able to keep an accurate chart of the percentage of approval by the public generally to the presidential policies. Such a chart, kept for the period between 1934 and 1940, will be of great value to future historians.

It is interesting to note, from this record, that the Roosevelt popularity has shown a steady decline since the announcement of his plan to change the supreme court. Last November, at the time of his re-election, pro-Roosevelt sentiment was represented by 62.5 per cent of the voters. The months immediately following recorded a steady increase in his popularity until it reached a three-year peak of 65.5 in February of this year. In that month he announced his supreme court plan. The popularity percentage has since shown a steady decline, until it has slumped almost back to the November level, standing at 62.8 today.

Among some of the outstanding achievements of the Institute have been:

Its final national election poll gave Governor Landon, the Republican candidate, only three states. He actually carried two. The average state-by-state error in the Institute poll was only 6 points.

It foreshadowed the nomination of Landon in December, 1935, long before the Landon boom started and 7 months before he was nominated.

It foretold the decline of Townsendism. In January, 1936, when the Townsendsites claimed their plan was spreading like wildfire, the Institute revealed only 3.8 per cent of the voters favored the $200-a-month pension plan.

It is a remarkable fact that on every major national issue where there has been opportunity to check on the accuracy of Institute polls by an election, the Institute has never been wrong on its forecast. Its state forecasts, later checked by elections, have been correct 50 out of 56 times.

The Institute is solely a fact-finding organization. It takes no sides in any controversy and simply endeavors to report what the public is thinking. Careful check of the records reveals that the outcome of its various polls has had no effect on the final official result. In other words, the record of the Institute explodes as fallacious the "band wagon" theory.

The record of the past is an impressive indication that The American Institute of Public Opinion has developed a barometer of public opinion of vital importance to observers of the social and governmental trend, as well as the public as a whole.

The past 19 months have furnished acid test of its forecasts and the weekly reports of its polls will command respectful attention in the future. It has provided a measuring rod for that previously intangible power, the ruling opinion in a democracy.

A. C. Blumenthal, a New Yorker, is introducing the hamburger to London. Our hot dog already is there, so Britain knows the worst.

A philologist in England has worked out a system of oral shorthand. Just the thing, probably for short short short stories in the digest.

Hazards to life in the old countries continue numerous—like being shaved by a Viennese barber in 19 seconds on an all-time record.

A New York hairdresser finds that drinking cocktails is bad for permanent waves. A little poor gin has been known to curl the hair the wrong way.

Are the 12-inch guns trained on the orphanage? Are the others leveled on the hospitals and the school yards? All right, men, let's vindicate the national honor!

The French chamber of deputies votes to abolish tipping, but only a brave tourist would whip out the revised statutes on the garçon.

The American Medical Association warns all who drink more than a quart of liquor a day that they may get beri-beri. At any rate, beri drink.

Editorial of the Day

CO-OPERATING WITH CAR THIEVES

(From the Kansas City Star)
If the average law-abiding citizen were to be accused of aiding car thieves, he would get pretty indignant over it. And yet that, in effect, is what many motor car owners are doing today.

Recently Kansas City police arrested several young men who had stolen cars. In the possession of these youths were the original ignition keys of the cars they had taken, leading to the unavoidable conclusion that the motorists had left their motor cars with the keys in the locks. All the thieves had to do was to turn on the ignition and drive away.

Ninety per cent of all stolen cars, says Lieutenant Oscar Johnson, of the Kansas City police, are taken for transportation or joy rides. In almost all these cases the cars thus appropriated are the ones with the keys left in the locks. Insurance companies are thinking of putting a "key clause" in their policies, whereby the owner would be penalized in collection if he had not removed his key.

To leave a car unguarded and all ready to drive away is to put temptation into the way not only of professional thieves but of irresponsible youths. The motorist who fails to observe the obvious safeguards has himself to blame in large degree if his car is stolen.

Behind Washington Headlines

By H. R. BAUKHAGE.

NOVEL QUIRK WASHINGTON, June 18.—History is quite an old lady and often repeats itself, but she manages to put a highly novel quirk into some of the tales she tosses out as news.

As tax evasion investigators hunt the headlines, some tax collectors shiver a little. Because—and here history winks reminiscently—there is certain apprehension lest the public lose confidence in the Treasury itself as an efficient tax collector. A sentiment held by no less a person than John Nance Garner—once.

SOME GARNER QUOTES

"I just want the house to understand this situation (the collection of taxes and refunds), and especially my Republican brethren, as to how much dependence can be placed upon statements of the Treasury Department, based upon any statistics it gives . . . give me an opportunity to investigate the Treasury Department, and I will do it." That was Mr. Garner speaking, date December 16, 1930.

LADY HISTORY CHUCKLES

The investigation that the then member of the house of representatives was trying to promote was aimed at Treasury methods, primarily, in permitting the evader to evade. He was unsuccessful. Two years later, the picture changed. It is now July, 1932. Representative Garner has become Speaker Garner, but, more than that, vice presidential candidate.

"I still have the same opinion about the necessity of an investigation," he said. But he did not want to carry it out and have the people of the country lose confidence in the Treasury. Those were the disturbed days before the bank holiday.

In Uvalde, Mr. Garner reads the news of the hearings. Perhaps he wonders. Old Lady History chuckles at the new turn she has given an ancient tale.

MOVIE FILM AS WITNESS

The La Follette civil liberties committee is making history. Police officials and others who took part in the Memorial Day riot in Chicago will face themselves on the witness stand. For the first time, a moving picture film will testify at a congressional hearing. It has been taken by the police and others who are to be called to Washington to appear before the committee.

When the film is shown officially before the committee, an important break, it is asserted, will be filled by the amateur shots of a minister who had his camera trained on the riot scene. The interruption in the sequence occurred when the newsreel men switched from a long "shot" to a close-up of a striker just before the firing began. It is said that the minister's film will reveal the fatal "first shot."

CAN'T BE CROSS-QUESTIONED

The cameraman who took the pictures in Chicago may go down in history. In any case, his handiwork will stick to his story as long as celluloid lasts, even then can be recreated and called back to the stand indefinitely, and become a part of the archives of the United States. As testimony before a committee, it is a part of the official records of the senate. Gradually all records are being transferred to the fire-thief-and-bomb-proof vaults of the archives building.

The senate has no safe place to store that inflammable and inflammable negative. The archives building has. In fact, it has the most up-to-date vaults in the world for storing film in heat and damp-resisting containers.

WITHHELD FROM PUBLIC

The official reason for the withdrawal of the film from public presentation in the theaters is that, like other "horror" scenes, it isn't "good theater."

MELLON'S MUSEUM RISES

As the tax evaders' investigation rolls on, great shovels tear into the earth where the museum will soon rise which is to hold the collection of priceless masterpieces donated by Andrew Mellon to the American people.

At the same time, behind the dull red facade of an ancient three-story-and-a-half house on Lafayette square, across from the White House, hammers are ringing. Here Mr. Mellon will have an office. Close by is the tall Brookings Institution, of late severe critic of certain New Deal activities. Around the corner, where once the wide branches of an historic elm once shaded the home of Daniel Webster, rises the imposing Chamber of Commerce of the United States. Gradually, this tree-filled square, upon which in some cases as the personal ambitions of a few, but, in any event, the sole, individual workman's civil liberty has not yet been written out of the constitution, and is not to be legislated out of existence by the claim that a state of lawlessness constitutes war.

But unless architects order a modern front, Mr. Mellon's Washington headquarters will not change the profile of what is left of a treasured and reminiscent skyline. (Copyright, 1937, for The Constitution and North American Newspaper Alliance, Inc.)

SILHOUETTES

By RALPH T. JONES.

The world spins on,
Some work and hope;
While others
And cry call-ropes!

A Screen Tip

For All of You.

There is a screen production coming to Atlanta that is rare for its performance which calls for advice. Here it is: Be sure to see "Captains Courageous."

I had the privilege of witnessing this picture at a preview this week. It is customary for previewers—masculine, at least—to be hard-boiled in their reactions. Yet, to be truthful, it must be admitted I hurried away after the screening with a mistiness in my eyes and a sort of a constriction in my throat that made conversation reluctant.

Yet, despite the emotional reaction, it is the sort of picture where you'll want to rear up on your hind legs and cheer several times. It is the sort of picture which will renew your faith, both in man and in God, and the sort of picture that is quite apt to teach everyone of us a lesson we are too prone to forget. The lesson, in short, of decent manhood.

Yet, despite the emotional reaction, it is the sort of picture where you'll want to rear up on your hind legs and cheer several times. It is the sort of picture which will renew your faith, both in man and in God, and the sort of picture that is quite apt to teach everyone of us a lesson we are too prone to forget. The lesson, in short, of decent manhood.

Yet, despite the emotional reaction, it is the sort of picture where you'll want to rear up on your hind legs and cheer several times. It is the sort of picture which will renew your faith, both in man and in God, and the sort of picture that is quite apt to teach everyone of us a lesson we are too prone to forget. The lesson, in short, of decent manhood.

Yet, despite the emotional reaction, it is the sort of picture where you'll want to rear up on your hind legs and cheer several times. It is the sort of picture which will renew your faith, both in man and in God, and the sort of picture that is quite apt to teach everyone of us a lesson we are too prone to forget. The lesson, in short, of decent manhood.

Yet, despite the emotional reaction, it is the sort of picture where you'll want to rear up on your hind legs and cheer several times. It is the sort of picture which will renew your faith, both in man and in God, and the sort of picture that is quite apt to teach everyone of us a lesson we are too prone to forget. The lesson, in short, of decent manhood.

Yet, despite the emotional reaction, it is the sort of picture where you'll want to rear up on your hind legs and cheer several times. It is the sort of picture which will renew your faith, both in man and in God, and the sort of picture that is quite apt to teach everyone of us a lesson we are too prone to forget. The lesson, in short, of decent manhood.

Yet, despite the emotional reaction, it is the sort of picture where you'll want to rear up on your hind legs and cheer several times. It is the sort of picture which will renew your faith, both in man and in God, and the sort of picture that is quite apt to teach everyone of us a lesson we are too prone to forget. The lesson, in short, of decent manhood.

Yet, despite the emotional reaction, it is the sort of picture where you'll want to rear up on your hind legs and cheer several times. It is the sort of picture which will renew your faith, both in man and in God, and the sort of picture that is quite apt to teach everyone of us a lesson we are too prone to forget. The lesson, in short, of decent manhood.

Yet, despite the emotional reaction, it is the sort of picture where you'll want to rear up on your hind legs and cheer several times. It is the sort of picture which will renew your faith, both in man and in God, and the sort of picture that is quite apt to teach everyone of us a lesson we are too prone to forget. The lesson, in short, of decent manhood.

Yet, despite the emotional reaction, it is the sort of picture where you'll want to rear up on your hind legs and cheer several times. It is the sort of picture which will renew your faith, both in man and in God, and the sort of picture that is quite apt to teach everyone of us a lesson we are too prone to forget. The lesson, in short, of decent manhood.

Yet, despite the emotional reaction, it is the sort of picture where you'll want to rear up on your hind legs and cheer several times. It is the sort of picture which will renew your faith, both in man and in God, and the sort of picture that is quite apt to teach everyone of us a lesson we are too prone to forget. The lesson, in short, of decent manhood.

Yet, despite the emotional reaction, it is the sort of picture where you'll want to rear up on your hind legs and cheer several times. It is the sort of picture which will renew your faith, both in man and in God, and the sort of picture that is quite apt to teach everyone of us a lesson we are too prone to forget. The lesson, in short, of decent manhood.

Yet, despite the emotional reaction, it is the sort of picture where you'll want to rear up on your hind legs and cheer several times. It is the sort of picture which will renew your faith, both in man and in God, and the sort of picture that is quite apt to teach everyone of us a lesson we are too prone to forget. The lesson, in short, of decent manhood.

Yet, despite the emotional reaction, it is the sort of picture where you'll want to rear up on your hind legs and cheer several times. It is the sort of picture which will renew your faith, both in man and in God, and the sort of picture that is quite apt to teach everyone of us a lesson we are too prone to forget. The lesson, in short, of decent manhood.

Yet, despite the emotional reaction, it is the sort of picture where you'll want to rear up on your hind legs and cheer several times. It is the sort of picture which will renew your faith, both in man and in God, and the sort of picture that is quite apt to teach everyone of us a lesson we are too prone to forget. The lesson, in short, of decent manhood.

Yet, despite the emotional reaction, it is the sort of picture where you'll want to rear up on your hind legs and cheer several times. It is the sort of picture which will renew your faith, both in man and in God, and the sort of picture that is quite apt to teach everyone of us a lesson we are too prone to forget. The lesson, in short, of decent manhood.

Yet, despite the emotional reaction, it is the sort of picture where you'll want to rear up on your hind legs and cheer several times. It is the sort of picture which will renew your faith, both in man and in God, and the sort of picture that is quite apt to teach everyone of us a lesson we are too prone to forget. The lesson, in short, of decent manhood.

Yet, despite the emotional reaction, it is the sort of picture where you'll want to rear up on your hind legs and cheer several times. It is the sort of picture which will renew your faith, both in man and in God, and the sort of picture that is quite apt to teach everyone of us a lesson we are too prone to forget. The lesson, in short, of decent manhood.

Fair Enough

By WESTBROOK PEGLER.

Steel Trouble WASHINGTON, June 18.—Quite a few of our heavy-duty philosophers have been saying lately that the steel trouble is not a mere dispute, but a war, and in that case the army and navy should be notified at once, because war is supposed to be their business and not an affair for the cops, the Elks and the Parent-Teacher Association.

War should be a national affair, not a private enterprise, and it is against the safety of the country to permit an independent war to proceed within its borders, scuttling up the countryside and interfering with the innocent activities of the citizens.

However, the term war in this case seems to be merely a convenient figure of speech selected to justify outrage, accidental damage and violations incidental to a fight which has gone out of control. It is, rather oddly, the pet alibi of those labor-fakers and pub-crawling liberals who are all for law and order, and who can bleed for the civil rights of the Puerto Ricans but in the event of excessive conduct committed under orders by a union, say, "too bad. It's war!"

It is my rather juvenile belief that a violation of law or a denial of civil liberties is as bad on one side as on another, and there I see no difference between the case of Henry Ford and coercion by some one from Union Square. And while it is easy to agree that labor has taken a terrible beating from the Harlan deputies and other spectacular animals of the Nazi strike, it is impossible to endorse rough stuff against nominally free American workmen, even though it be done ostensibly for their own good.

Sorrow for

Agreed that no employer has a right to punish a man for joining a union, it follows that nobody else has a right to tell him that he must, and that if he doesn't join and pay tribute out of his earnings he won't be allowed to work at all. If the employer has no right—and the law says he has no right—to snoop and spy on the man's private affairs and harass him and his wife, and maybe pat him on the head with a saw-edged police baton, then neither has anyone else that right, and he deserves the same protection from both sources of danger.

Unfortunately, however, it is coming to be said by parties who claim to sorrow for the toiler that if the employer resorts to abuse that is an evil, but that if a man is blacklisted, starved and pushed around in the name of progress and labor organization, his civil liberties are unimportant against the desires of so many. The desires of the many may be accurately described in some cases as the personal ambitions of a few, but, in any event, the sole, individual workman's civil liberty has not yet been written out of the constitution, and is not to be legislated out of existence by the claim that a state of lawlessness constitutes war.

Free-Lance I may be a little ahead of my time in proposing that the government, when it gets through protecting the individual from the abuse and exactions, espionage and coercive pressure of the boss, then should turn its attention to similar safeguards against the unions. That time may come, however, because otherwise the labor organization will become a free-lance dictatorship operated within the government and under its protection, but without the responsibility of government.

The second source of danger to labor organizations will arise when the effect might wipe out the liberty of those from whom it was exacted through a private taxing authority. But my topic is the utter cynicism of men who protect their respect for human rights and the law as it affects their opponents in thought and action, but waive all this when consistency would be inconvenient. This is of the Soviets and Hitler and the Duke, whose morals and honesty are indistinguishable, and whose method and temperament are so much alike that they would save lives and trouble by getting together. But we have been viewing the affairs of the crazy countries so long and reading so much of their brutal thought that a slight infection has set in in our own country. And it is worst, in all people, an element who profess to be liberal or progressive, and, anyway, human, but count a snigger at no troller, but some very low sort of vermin and beyond protection of the laws merely because he will not do as they think best for him.

(Copyright, 1937, for The Constitution.)

Romeo and Juliet.
March 11, 1302 is the date fixed in Verona history and legend as the wedding day of Romeo Montecchi and Giulia Capelletti at the Citella church of Minorites. As Romeo Montecchi and Juliet Capelletti are the most famous lovers in history, and in the Campo di Fiera, Verona, you may see by paying one and one-half lira what is supposed to be the tomb of Juliet; yet there is no proof that they ever lived.

Test Your Knowledge
Can you answer seven of these test questions? Turn to want ad pages for the answers.

1. Name the capital of the state of Chihuahua, Mexico.
2. On which bank of the Hudson river is West Point?
3. Who was Michelangelo?
4. What is a micrometer?
5. Who wrote, "Origin of Species"?

6. Does Soviet Russia have the same calendar as the United States?
7. In which book in the Bible is the story of Jonah and the Whale?

8. Where is the Cathedral of Lubek?
9. Of which river in West Africa is the Faleme a tributary?
10. Of what country is Kabul the capital?

Sin of Kissing
A ship captain returning to Boston from a long absence arrived on Sunday and was given a joyful greeting by his wife. Next day he was summoned before the Puritan town magistrates and sentenced to be lashed for violation of the law against kissing on Sabbath.

End of Great War.
The last shots of the American Revolution were fired in a sea fight between the American ship Alliance and British ship Sybille, March 13, 1783. Peace had been declared, but the British, who were in the area, did not know it.

The revolution had begun exactly eight years before. For you're wrong if you believe that the first shots were fired at Lexington and Concord. Actually, the fighting started at Westminster, Vt., on March 13. Thus the revolution started and ended on the same date.

Sin of Kissing
A ship captain returning to Boston from a long absence arrived on Sunday and was given a joyful greeting by his wife. Next day he was summoned before the Puritan town magistrates and sentenced to be lashed for violation of the law against kissing on Sabbath.

End of Great War.
The last shots of the American Revolution were fired in a sea fight between the American ship Alliance and British ship Sybille, March 13, 1783. Peace had been declared, but the British, who were in the area, did not know it.

The revolution had begun exactly eight years before. For you're wrong if you believe that the first shots were fired at Lexington and Concord. Actually, the fighting started at Westminster, Vt., on March 13. Thus the revolution started and ended on the same date.

Sin of Kissing
A ship captain returning to Boston from a long absence arrived on Sunday and was given a joyful greeting by his wife. Next day he was summoned before the Puritan town magistrates and sentenced to be lashed for violation of the law against kissing on Sabbath.

End of Great War.
The last shots of the American Revolution were fired in a sea fight between the American ship Alliance and British ship Sybille, March 13, 1783. Peace had been declared, but the British, who were in the area, did not know it.

The revolution had begun exactly eight years before. For you're wrong if you believe that the first shots were fired at Lexington and Concord. Actually, the fighting started at Westminster, Vt., on March 13. Thus the revolution started and ended on the same date.

Sin of Kissing
A ship captain returning to Boston from a long absence arrived on Sunday and was given a joyful greeting by his wife. Next day he was summoned before the Puritan town magistrates and sentenced to be lashed for violation of the law against kissing on Sabbath.

End of Great War.
The last shots of the American Revolution were fired in a sea fight between the American ship Alliance and British ship Sybille, March 13, 1783. Peace had been declared, but the British, who were in the area, did not know it.

The revolution had begun exactly eight years before. For you're wrong if you believe that the first shots were fired at Lexington and Concord. Actually, the fighting started at Westminster, Vt., on March 13. Thus the revolution started and ended on the same date.

Sin of Kissing
A ship captain returning to Boston from a long absence arrived on Sunday and was given a joyful greeting by his wife. Next day he was summoned before the Puritan town magistrates and sentenced to be lashed for violation of the law against kissing on Sabbath.

End of Great War.
The last shots of the American Revolution were fired in a sea fight between the American ship Alliance and British ship Sybille, March 13, 1783. Peace had been declared, but the British, who were in the area, did not know it.

The revolution had begun exactly eight years before. For you're wrong if you believe that the first shots were fired at Lexington and Concord. Actually, the fighting started at Westminster, Vt., on March 13. Thus the revolution started and ended on the same date.

Sin of Kissing
A ship captain returning

THIS MORNING

By JOHN TEMPLE GRAVES II.

"For who would live so petty and unblest
That dare not tilt at something ere he die,
Rather than, screened by safe majority,
Preserve his little life for little ends
And never raise a rebel battle cry?"

Vanderbilt's new chancellor, like the great one he succeeds, is no pale, lean scholar tiptoeing noiselessly nowhere through a world of facts and ideas that cry aloud for educated leadership. Oliver Cromwell Carmichael comes to his great task as a man exceptionally educated, but educated as Woodrow Wilson was, not as Henry Adams. His education has not robbed him of his power of decision but has, rather, made his decision more quick with the authorities of thought. He believes in things, and what is more, he believes in the importance of believing in things. That is his educational ideal, as we understand it, and it is an ideal that needs great sounding at this moment in the south. If the passionate faiths of the south, the intense beliefs, are left to the south's uneducated men, its illiterates, its bigots, its persecutors, or its greedy little money-getters, there is no hope of light to come. It is important that our literates prove themselves at least as able as our illiterates to champion causes, to make decisions, to exercise choices.

Listen to the new chancellor in a recent address: "It may be argued with some justice that much so-called scholarship consists mainly in investigation, a pursuit of facts, but real scholarship involves more than that. It is concerned with the search for the truth and its bearing on life. It represents the creative art of thinking, of interpretation, of application."

In other words, Chancellor Carmichael thinks of education not only as a "leading forth" but also as an arriving. He wants men educated not only to know but to do something with their knowledge. He wants men equipped to draw conclusions who will draw conclusions, not stand forever tentative and afraid. "The serious problems of our age," he declares, "are not related to the struggle for existence against the forces of nature. It is not food, shelter and other necessities that we lack. It is social adjustment. Production of goods was once the chief need of society, today it is distribution. Growing out of that fundamental need are numerous problems that present themselves on every hand. Who can solve them? It is clearly the man of affairs who must do it if it is to be done. . . . The present age is greatly in need of the scholar who will participate in the life of the world and of the man of action who is imbued with the spirit of learning. . . ."

"If one is to support the truth he must be dominated by sincerity and integrity of purpose. These qualities involve facing issues courageously and a refusal to be blinded by external considerations. They involve also standing by one's convictions in essential matters with a clear determination to keep the issue from being obscured by a compromise. . . ."

We hold it a happy event for the south that the institution Vanderbilt has come to be under Chancellor Kirkland's long contriving, an institution belonging to education in its very widest and deepest sense, should be entrusted now to such a man as this. When the new chancellor quotes Woodrow Wilson, as he often does, we like to think the quoting speaks a great affinity of ideal between quoter and quotee. Woodrow Wilson loved scholarship for its own sake but he loved, too, to put scholarship to work in the passionate service of man. The same love, we choose to believe, actuates Chancellor Carmichael and Vanderbilt.

ANDREW MADISON RITES TOMORROW

Burial To Be in College Park Cemetery.

Funeral services for Andrew B. Madison, prominently identified with business and fraternal affairs of the city, who died Thursday night, will be held at 4 o'clock tomorrow afternoon at the Brandon-Bond-Condor chapel with Revs. H. H. Dillard and Herman L. Turner officiating. Burial will be in College Park cemetery.

Mr. Madison succumbed to injuries he received last week when his car crashed head-on into a southbound street car at Peachtree road and Belmont drive. The accident occurred out of the city limits and is not to be charged against the city's auto fatality record.

He was 59 years old and resided at 181 Roswell road.

GEORGE YANCEY NAMED IN JAYCEE ELECTION

DENVER, June 18.—(P)—Roswell P. Yancey, of Buffalo, N. Y., was elected president of the United States Junior Chamber of Commerce today.

Vice presidents elected include George Yancey, Atlanta, Ga.

Stills in Dry Districts Suffer Law's Attention

"We will capture one still a day in the dry districts of Fulton county," County Policemen H. H. (Tiny) Green and Hubert Reed resolved Monday.

That was after the people in these districts had voted dry in the June 8 special election.

"If they want dry enforcement, we will give it to them," they said.

Yesterday, five days after making the election, the officers had exceeded their promise—they had captured nine stills and destroyed several thousand gallons of mash ready to be made into whisky.

Their latest capture was early yesterday when 600 gallons of mash beer buried in barrels a quarter mile off Spalding drive in Grogan district and the seizure of seven barrels of mash north of Mountain Park in Little River district.

Their biggest difficulty, they say, is catching the portable stills. They find the malt beer ready for a run, but still runners, apparently are carrying it around with them—at least it is not on location when officers arrive.

Now at less than half price! $1.00

DAGGETT & RAMSDELL PINE BATH OIL

Until today this concentrated, real pine bath essence sold for $2.50! It's refreshing, relaxing—a value not to be missed at $1.00.

TOILETRIES—STREET FLOOR

TOILETRIES—STREET FLOOR

CABINET OF BLUM IS AGAIN AT STAKE

French Senate Refuses To Grant Premier Full Power To Control Finances.

PARIS, June 18.—(P)—The life of Premier Leon Blum's cabinet virtually was put at stake tonight in a deadlocked conflict with the senate over the premier's demand for emergency powers over France's finances.

The senate today refused to grant Blum the powers to control finances by decree he asks until July 31. The premier refused to accept anything else.

Premier Blum and Abel Gardey, reporter of the senate's finance committee, conferred tonight, but both announced they had been unable to find any grounds for compromise.

This foreshadowed a stiff battle in the senate tomorrow, with the fate of the People's Front cabinet in the balance.

As a result of the dispute, Premier Blum was faced with the choice of allowing the senate to pass its own measure, or insisting on passage of his own bill and making it a question of confidence in the government.

MACON MILK PRICES INCREASED ONE CENT

Delivered milk prices in the Macon area were moved up 1 cent by the Milk Control Board yesterday, but cash-and-carry prices remained the same.

Fourteen cents a quart will be charged for delivered milk and 13 cents, formerly the prevailing price for all milk, will be charged for cash-and-carry. Farmers will receive an increase of approximately 4 cents, C. D. Duncan, board head, said.

A reduction from 12 cents to 10 cents for cash-and-carry milk if bought at the plants in quantities of 12 quarts or more was ruled for the Atlanta shed area, Duncan said.

GOOD MORNING

By LOUIE D. NEWTON.

I walked down in the patch late this (Monday) afternoon. I hadn't been down there for several days, dreading the ordeal of seeing the tortured vegetation that has struggled through these weeks of drought. There was my corn that had been so promising, twisted and limp, trying to tassel! Beans that haven't had any rain since they were planted, trying to put on a few slender little hulls, throwing off all the leaves to give what life was left to the pods. Squash plants wilted, with bunches of little squash trying to fill out. Beets and cabbage and peas and peanuts and all the rest shedding leaves and all but dead. Only the cotton and okra seemed to be holding out against the hot sun and parched soil.

And then I thought of my farmer brethren in this area where no rain has fallen since back in the first week of May, dependent entirely upon their land, and I forgot all about my little patch. We can see our dry up, and still we have a salary on which to live, but what about the neighbor who has no salary?

A man told me this afternoon that he had planted the best four acres in his small truck farm in string beans, expecting to market them this week. He does not have artificial irrigation. He said he wouldn't get enough beans to pay for the seed. That is distressing, isn't it? I know a number of farmers in this section who have not been able to plant their corn, having delayed planting on account of winter cover crops.

If it is good to know that even in this section there are communities where they have had local showers. For two or three weeks the rain has come near enough to smell it, and we can be thankful for that. I hope ere the week ends we shall not only see the clouds and hear the thunder, but feel the rain and see the parched lawns and the twisted corn refreshed.

EXTRA SPECIAL

LEGHORNS

... with beautiful brims—for summer flattery!

What to wear with summer brown—with black—with blue—with all the summer shades? The answer's always... LEGHORN. Medium and large brims with gay trimmings. Only 100 to go!

New Hats Arrive Every Day

MILLINERY DEPT. HIGH'S SECOND FLOOR

A. C. WELDEN DIES AT FAYETTE HOME

Inman Leader To Be Buried Today.

FAYETTEVILLE, Ga., June 18.—A. C. Welden, 51, member of the Fayette county board of education for many years, and active in educational work in the county, died suddenly this afternoon at his home in Inman, near here.

He is survived by his wife; three sons, A. C. Welden Jr., John G. and Robert Welden; a daughter, Miss Edith Welden; three sisters, Mrs. Mamie Wills, Mrs. D. A. McLucas and Mrs. W. E. Brown, and a brother, W. W. Welden.

Funeral services will be held at 3 o'clock tomorrow afternoon at Inman Methodist church. The Rev. A. C. Stone will officiate and burial will be in Inman cemetery.

FILM GAG WRITER DIES—LAUGHING AT JOKE

HOLLYWOOD, June 18.—(P)—Al Boasberg, called "the funniest guy in Hollywood," died laughing today.

A heart attack ended the life of the gag writer while he still was chuckling over the startled look friends gave him last night when he told them he was going to one of Hollywood's "colossal" film epics "to get some sleep."

Boasberg was 45. He signed a new contract for the Jack Benny program yesterday. His most recent picture was the Marx Brothers' "A Day at the Races."

UNSETTLED FORECAST REPEATED FOR TODAY

Unsettled weather continued to be the prospect for the week end, but tonight's forecast of the local United States Weather Bureau indicating probable local thunderstorms for today.

Today's temperatures were expected to range from a low of 68 degrees to a high of 86, while yesterday's readings showed a low of 67 and a high of 86.

Imagine! 7 LAYER PREPARATIONS for only 85¢

★ This new BEAUTY BOX by Harriet Hubbard Ayer contains seven essential aids to a young and lovely skin—everything from Luxuria Cream to Lip Stick. After you buy one you'll want a dozen, for BEAUTY BOX is ideal for guest rooms, bridge prizes, week-end trips, pocket of your car, your desk at the office. It's the season's most outstanding beauty value.

TOILETRIES—STREET FLOOR

TOILETRIES—STREET FLOOR

TOILETRIES—STREET FLOOR

TOILETRIES—STREET FLOOR

TOILETRIES—STREET FLOOR

TOILETRIES—STREET FLOOR

TOILETRIES—STREET FLOOR

TOILETRIES—STREET FLOOR

TOILETRIES—STREET FLOOR

TOILETRIES—STREET FLOOR

TOILETRIES—STREET FLOOR

TOILETRIES—STREET FLOOR

TOILETRIES—STREET FLOOR

TOILETRIES—STREET FLOOR

TOILETRIES—STREET FLOOR

TOILETRIES—STREET FLOOR

TOILETRIES—STREET FLOOR

TOILETRIES—STREET FLOOR

TOILETRIES—STREET FLOOR

TOILETRIES—STREET FLOOR

TOILETRIES—STREET FLOOR

SHRUBS DISCUSSED AT GARDEN SCHOOL

Mrs. Fletcher P. Crown Addresses Closing Session in Athens.

ATHENS, Ga., June 18.—(P)—The use of shrubs for designing gardens, and the requirements garden show judges should have, were discussed at the final session of the second annual garden school here today.

Sponsored by the University and the Garden Club of Georgia, the school was attended by more than 300 garden lovers from all parts of the state.

Mrs. Fletcher P. Crown, of Decatur, said shrubs should be used only when there is "a definite need or place for them." She also pointed out that the type of shrub used should depend on its purpose.

Outlining essential qualifications for judges, T. H. McHatten included "knowledge of plants, methods of culture, diseases and insects that may affect the foliage and flowers," and "information concerning scorecards, the various points that make them up and the approximate weight that should be given to these points."

Parents Blamed In Boiling-Water Death of Child, 10

Jacksonville, Fla., June 18.—(P)—Officials said tonight no charges had been filed in the death of Virginia Mae Peak, 10, despite the fact a coroner's jury held the child died because of "culpable negligence on the part of her parents."

Boiling water in a wash tub scalded the child when she fell in it June 8 as she played in her aunt's yard. Testimony given by witnesses at the inquest indicated a doctor was not called for 24 hours after the accident.

Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Peak, blamed by the jury for the child's death, testified "our holy faith in God made us feel calling a physician was dismissing a higher physician."

Mrs. Rosa Pierce, the child's aunt, told the jury she applied olive oil to the small scalded body. Dr. C. F. Turner, called the day after the accident, said the parents did not object to his visit, but did not follow his directions. The county medical examiner said an examination showed no traces of medical attention.

The mother and several neighbors testified solutions had been applied.

OHIO YOUTHS FACE AUTO THEFT CHARGE

Dayton Pair Held Under $500 Bond by U. S. Here.

Two youths, who said they lived in Dayton, Ohio, yesterday faced United States Commissioner E. S. Griffith in a preliminary hearing on charges of interstate transportation of a stolen automobile.

Commissioner Griffith fixed their bail at $500 each.

Frank Poling, 16, one of the boys, testified he and Arthur Easterly Jr., left home June 7 to "beat their way" on freight trains and hitch-hike to the south. Arriving in Chattanooga, he said, he noticed an automobile with the key in the switch and he and Easterly got in and he (Poling) drove it away. He told of running out of gas near Lafayette, and how, in trying to push the car off, they rolled it down an embankment and abandoned it.

Easterly also testified, verifying Poling's statement.

John H. Zimmerlee, Walker county deputy sheriff, said he caught the boys walking railroad tracks after he had been called to look out for the car. Attaches in the office of United States Marshal Charles H. Cox indicated the boys would be put in the juvenile detention home to await trial.

ROBERTS AND RALLS TO ATTEND SESSIONS

Commissioner of Agriculture Columbus Roberts and Marketing Supervisor Hamilton Ralls will attend the American Institute of Co-operation at Ames, Iowa, next week.

The two state officials planned to leave the state today for the conference touching co-operating methods of farm marketing.

Your Eyes

Deserve Attention

Consult

DR. JOHN KAHN

At J. M. HIGH CO.

Eyes scientifically examined—Glasses correctly fitted. Moderately priced. With the convenience of charge account.

HIGH'S MEN'S STORE Is Full of Gifts for

Father's Day

Just in Time For "HIS" GIFT! Sensational One-Day

SALE—SHIRTS

Famous "HIGHLANDER" Brand!

Every One Brand-New—Perfect!

Every One Regularly $1.35

- Non-Wilt Collars
- Double-Yoke Backs
- Seven-Button Front
- Fade or Shrink—NEVER!
- Finest Broadcloth
- Woven Madras
- All White Solids!
- Most Wanted Patterns

At this price they'll sell faster than we can wrap them! Every shirt was made to our own specifications, which means they're cut full with plenty of shirt tail! Pleated sleeves, correct lengths! Ocean pearl buttons—7 of them down the front! Comfortable fitting collars that won't wilt down in sweltering weather! Get Dad a supply! All summer long he'll bless you!

"Marlboro" and "Lion" Brand SHIRTS

Finer shirts with a national reputation for quality and style in grand variety! All white, solids and patterns. Sizes 14 to 17. $1.65

MEN'S STORE—HIGH'S STREET FLOOR

"Superba" TIES—the gift superb!

Full cut, hand-tailored, resilient construction, all silk-tip lined. Sparkling new patterns on light backgrounds, $4.50 and . . . $1.00

"PALMY BEACH" CRAVATS, styled by Hollywood, in shantung and other summer silks—famous for style and quality 59c

COOL, COMFORTABLE PAJAMAS, all pre-shrunk and fast color, in plain colors and combinations, including B. V. D. "feather-weights," all sizes . . . $1 to $1.98

WASH ROBES FOR BEACH OR LOUNGE of terry cloth, ratines, shantungs, broadcloth, double and single-breasted . . . $1.98 to $2.95

BETTER WASH TROUSERS—SANFORIZED—shrink, expertly tailored of fine Caledonia cloth, woven checks, corded stripes . . . $1.69 to $2.95

ALL-WOOL SPORTS TROUSERS of flannels and serges, light grounds in stripes and checks. Ideal for Dad to wear with that extra coat! . . . $4.95

INTERWOVEN SOX, in checks, patterns, and solids. Light backgrounds. Included are anklets with lastest tops. 3 for $1, or each . . . 35c

B. V. D. FEATHER-WEIGHTS, shirts and shorts, each . . . 50c

SWANKY PERSONALIZED JEWELRY: Tie chains, collar pins, tie and chain combinations—initialed. Neatly boxed . . . 50c and $1.00

MEN'S STORE—HIGH'S STREET FLOOR

Father's Day Gifts boxed, if desired

HIGH'S

SEPARATE STREET ENTRANCE

SOVIET CONTINUES WAR ON 'TRAITORS' WITHIN ITS BORDERS

Alleged Followers of Trotsky Are Hunted Down, Executed.

MOSCOW, June 18.—(P)—Russia's drive against enemies within was expanded tonight to include those charged with speculation in bread, tampering with the Soviet timber industry, delaying automobile production and wrecking locomotives.

There was no indication of any lessening of the hunt for those accused of adhering to Leon Trotsky, exiled revolutionary leader, or of sabotage and conspiracy plots to overthrow the Soviet union.

Already more than 100 persons have been executed by firing squads. Many thousands are believed to be in jails and labor camps. Denunciations of "wreckers, spies and diversions" continued to pour into Moscow from Arctic Archangel and the Black and Red deserts of middle Asia to the Taiga or swampy forest-lands of the Soviet Far East.

Seven Persons Condemned.

The latest indications of executions came from middle Asia where seven persons were condemned on charges of wrecking locomotives in the shops of the Middle Asian Railway which connects with the famous Turkish (Turkistan-Siberian) railway built in 1930 under the direction of "Bill Shatoff, Russian-born anarchist and one time member of American labor movements. Shatoff himself is reported in difficulties.

Information here did not make clear whether the condemnation entailed prison sentences or the firing squad for persons convicted of these charges.

From Archangel came reports that two persons "and others" were prosecuted as "enemies of the people." This charge customarily means the firing squad.

Charged With Spying.

Khabarovsk in the Far East reported arrest of a man, Gerbek, former director of the Far Eastern timber trust, on charges of spying and being a counter-revolutionary.

He is alleged to have prevented delivery of lumber to the Red army and to have agitated against the regime among the people.

Another man, Vasiliev, was denounced along with numerous aides for failing to provide 5,000 immigrant families at Khabarovsk with living quarters.

Eight persons were arrested at Rostov for purchasing large quantities of bread. They were charged with speculation, arousing the belief among foreign observers here that there is a bread shortage in that vital industrial center.

Elsewhere, the arrest or condemnation of dozens of important officials was reported in today's officially controlled press.

TWO PAY PENALTY IN ELECTRIC CHAIR

Edgar Rose, James Worthy Are Executed.

MILLEDGEVILLE, Ga., June 18.—(P)—A convict who killed a guard in a break for freedom paid for the act with his life today.

Walking calmly to the electric chair at the state prison, the accused man, Edgar Rose, 26, said simply, "I have confessed my sins before God and man, and have been forgiven. I have nothing more to say."

It took four shocks to kill Rose. He was followed to the chair by James Worthy, Atlanta, 26, who was convicted of killing Berry C. Dodson, a street car operator, in an attempted holdup. Worthy died protesting his innocence.

Rose was convicted last January of slaying Tom Lewis, Dougherty chain gang guard, during an escape along with another prisoner, Fred McMichen. The latter, also convicted in the Lewis slaying, received a life sentence.

At the time of his escape attempt, Rose was said by the prison commission to be serving sentences totaling eight years on charges of attempted robbery, pointing a pistol and assault and battery.

BELGIAN PREMIER ARRIVES IN U. S.

Refuses To Discuss Planned Visit to Roosevelt.

NEW YORK, June 18.—(P)—Premier Paul van Zeeland, of Belgium, was willing to talk about the honorary degree he would receive at the university in New York next Tuesday when he arrived here today aboard the Berengaria.

He would not say one word, however, and he was emphatic in his silence, about his conversation with President Roosevelt next Wednesday which has been reported would concern a world economic security.

The 43-year-old premier did admit that he was co-operating with Great Britain and France, but he would not go into detail.

HABEAS CORPUS WRIT COURT HEARING DENIED

A petition for writ of habeas corpus, filed by Albert Hayes, inmate of the Atlanta Federal penitentiary, was denied a hearing yesterday by Judge E. Marvin Underwood.

Court attaches said Hayes' efforts to obtain a writ had been adjudicated seven times, once by the circuit court of appeals, each time resulting in dismissal.

He is serving a five-year sentence on conviction of violating federal liquor laws.

MOROLINE
SHOW WHITE PETROLEUM JELLY
LARGE JARS $1 AND 50c

Golf, Bridge Favorites at Advertising Men's Outing

Golf held the interest of many yesterday at the Brookhaven Country Club as the Atlanta Advertising Club held its annual outing. Strolling toward the green are (left to right), Evans Joseph, C. H. Williams, J. W. Petty Jr. and John K. Otley Jr., president.

Bridge tournament was one of the features of the annual outing of the Atlanta Advertising Club, held yesterday at the Brookhaven Country Club. The players are (left to right), Mrs. Dan Shirley, Miss Mabel Loeb, Mrs. W. E. Parker and Mrs. George Ripley.

YOUNG ATLANTAN BELIEVED DROWNED

Doctors Seek to Save Victim of Arabia Lake Excursion.

Doctors at Grady hospital early this morning were working desperately in an effort to revive John W. Jones, 22, of 202 Ormond street, whose body was taken from Arabia lake, near Lithonia, where he had been swimming. It was feared he had drowned, however.

A brother, D. L. Jones, and a friend, R. M. Patrick, told police they were "frog gigging" and then decided to go for a swim.

Patrick said he saw Jones go under, and attempted to rescue him. He was taken from the lake a short time later.

HUMAN BIOLOGY FAVORITE COURSE

Georgia Students Also Vote It To Be Hardest.

MILLEDGEVILLE, Ga., June 18.—(P)—Here's something for the producers of rah-rah college movies to ponder:

Eight hundred students in Georgia colleges voted by large majorities that their favorite course is their most difficult.

F. S. Beers, examiner of the University System of Georgia, announced 80 per cent of the students named human biology the most popular course of the first two years.

Ninety-one per cent of them, he said, selected the same course as the most difficult.

The order of popularity of the "survey courses" which are standard throughout the state system the first two years, was human biology, functional mathematics, Georgia problems, humanities, physical science and social progress.

Students at Georgia State College for Women, the University of Georgia, Armstrong Junior College, Middle and North Georgia colleges voted.

Incidentally, the ballots were not signed.

FARMER AND HIS DOG KILLED BY LIGHTNING

GENEVA, Ala., June 18.—(P)—Cleo Galloway, 29-year-old farmer, was found dead today on Dead river, the victim of a bolt of lightning.

Galloway and his dog were lying in shallow water when other members of fishing party found them. A thunderstorm a few hours earlier was blamed in the death.

Yawn Locking Her Jaw, Woman Goes to Hospital
BIRMINGHAM, Ala., June 18.—(P)—A yawn brought Mrs. Heyter Williams, 32, to a hospital here today.

Mrs. Williams was sleeping, she said, and yawned. To her surprise, she couldn't close her mouth. Her dislocated jaws were "unlocked" at the hospital.

Jack-Pots Pay Off On Burglars' 'Hit'

COLUMBUS, Ga., June 18.—(P)—Slot machines seized by police in a recent drive on gambling here paid off handsomely to burglars.

Without removing the jackpots from the confiscated machines, police stored them in the court-house basement.

Returning to check the machines, police found a lock on the storage room door broken and the machines empty.

Burglars had hit the jackpots with hammers.

Flogged To Cure Laziness, Man Collapses on Job

DUNLAP, Tenn., June 18.—(P)—Bill Williams, 33, who Sheriff Barker said was flogged Tuesday night "because he was no account," collapsed today when he attempted to work on a WPA project.

Dr. R. E. Stander warned Williams to rest for several days and recover from bruises and cuts on his body.

Williams said he was tied to a tree and "hit at least 100 times" by a group of men who took him from his home on the banks of the Sequatchie river.

Sheriff Barker asserted he "investigated around some," but added he "didn't expect nothing to come of it."

"Bill just wouldn't work, and a bunch of good men flogged him to try to make him take care of his wife and children," he added.

Williams has three children, Pearl, 8; Willie Mae, 5; and Hilda Marie, 3.

2 MORE PASTORS ARRESTED BY NAZIS

Read Names of Members Who Resigned.

BERLIN, June 18.—(P)—Two more pastors and members of the Council of Brethren of the Protestant Confessional Synod have been arrested, Berlin headquarters of the synod was informed tonight.

They were the Rev. Mr. Heime, of Schneidemühl, and the Rev. Mr. Middendorff, of Oldenburg. They were charged with violating the interior ministry's decree which forbids reading from the pulpit the names of men and women who have resigned church membership.

A careful check of the present status of arrests among the confessionals, which the government seeks to bring under its administration, revealed that more than 500 pastors have been arrested under Nazi rule.

POSTOFFICE CONTRACT. WASHINGTON, June 18.—(P)—The Davis Washington Company, Gainesville, Ga., submitted a $34,928 low bid to the treasury for construction of a postoffice at Hawkinsville, Ga.

Clarence Lee Morris, 35, of 567 Highland avenue, N. E., was admitted to Grady hospital yesterday afternoon suffering from effects of a poison dose, according to police reports.

His condition last night was described as critical. Details were not learned.

CO-OPERATIVE MART PROPOSED AT CLUB

Ready Cooked Meals To Be Sold With Products of Women's Skill.

The tired housewife will soon be able to purchase Sunday dinners cooked and ready to serve at the Atlanta Woman's Club, according to Mrs. Alva Maxwell, president.

It is planned to institute this as well as a number of other services at the co-operative market for rural women which the club will establish in its building, with Mrs. Robin Wood, of the state bureau of markets, as director.

Co-operation between rural and city women will be the principal objective of the project, which Mrs. Wood expects to expand as quickly as practicable to 10 markets in various parts of the city.

Mrs. I. R. Banks, designated as manager of the Woman's Club market, said it is planned to have rural women bring in their handiwork, canned goods, preserves and farm and dairy products for sale at these outlets.

Two other markets in other parts of the city are in immediate prospect. The Decatur Co-operative Market, sponsored by the Decatur Woman's Club, is expected to open soon, according to Mrs. J. P. McGovern, president. This unit will be managed by Mrs. W. Guy Hudson. The West End Market unit have joint sponsorship of the West End Woman's Club and the West End Civic Club.

J. H. LORD'S FUNERAL WILL BE HELD TODAY

Funeral services for J. H. Lord, 63, retired city employee who died Thursday, will be held at 3 o'clock this afternoon at the Collins Memorial Methodist church, with the Rev. T. P. Tribble and R. L. Whitehead officiating. Burial will be in Magnolia cemetery.

Mr. Lord, prior to his retirement, was an engineer at the city's pumping station near Bolton. He was a native of Fulton county.

J. D. ROCKEFELLER JR. GETS NEW GRANDCHILD

NEW YORK, June 18.—(P)—A spokesman for the Rockefeller family announced tonight a son was born to Mrs. John D. Rockefeller III at the Presbyterian hospital.

The boy, who weighs 8 pounds 5 ounces, will be named John D. Rockefeller. The Rockefellers have a young daughter, Sandra.

ATLANTA'S CONDITION FROM POISON CRITICAL

Clarence Lee Morris, 35, of 567 Highland avenue, N. E., was admitted to Grady hospital yesterday afternoon suffering from effects of a poison dose, according to police reports.

His condition last night was described as critical. Details were not learned.

BODY CRACKS DOWN ON BEER, WINE SALES

General Tightening Up Indicated in Police Committee Action.

Actions reflecting a general "tightening up" in regulation of beer and wine dealers were taken last night by the police committee of city council as it also took further steps toward solving some of Atlanta's traffic problems.

Committeemen refused to revoke four wine and beer licenses at 1003 Piedmont avenue, 183 Harris street, 898 McDaniel street and 777 Gordon street upon the recommendation of J. H. Smith, investigator. His recommendation to revoke the business license in addition to the beer and wine license of the place at 1003 Piedmont was not accepted by the committee when W. A. Fuller, lawyer-owner of the property, declared reported disturbances were exaggerated in his opinion.

Non-Parking Zones.

Non-parking on Forsyth street from Trinity avenue to Peachtree street between the hours of 7 and 9 o'clock in the mornings and 4 to 6 in the afternoons was recommended. Similar parking restrictions were voted for Decatur street from Five Points to the Washington street viaduct. The committee favored non-parking on street intersection curbs where trackless trolley buses will load and unload passengers when they are put in operation. The committee said motorists will be allowed to pass trolley buses on the left.

Resignation of W. C. Nix, patrolman under fire for alleged acceptance of a bribe, was accepted by the committee while the trial of his partner, F. A. Turner, on similar charges, was postponed two weeks. Three supernumeraries, J. M. Smith, J. B. Adams and J. H. Vinings, were elevated to the regular force to fill vacancies while two new supernumeraries, T. O. Sturdivant Jr. and R. E. Fotts, were named. Fotts was put on to enable him to play soft ball with the police team, committeemen said.

Alderman G. Dan Bridges, chairman, sponsored a resolution to allow 20-day vacations for police after Chief M. A. Hornsby said 20 days instead of two weeks could be given without extra cost. The committee approved it. Mayor Hartsfield said, "it will not cost extra money but it will mean less protection for the public."

Nash On Trial.

Patrolman W. D. Nash stood trial on charges made by C. M. M. and E. B. Cohn, second hand furniture dealers, that he had mistreated C. M. Cohn in arresting him on a charge of receiving stolen goods and not reporting the purchase, of which charge he was acquitted in police court.

The committee instructed Chief Hornsby to "handle the matter."

The committee voted to receive bids for the police burglar alarm system at the next meeting.

Councilman John T. Marler attempted to get the committee to put on two additional supernumeraries last night. He had engaged in heated debate with Councilman Cecil W. Hester over the number of men he had already sponsored. His motion was defeated, the committeemen agreeing to elect the two soon.

Stricter Regulation.

Hartsfield moved for stricter regulation of beer and wine dealers by advocating never granting another license to sell beer and wine in the same location where a license had been revoked. His effort to have this stipulation attached was unsuccessful last night. However, he volunteered to re-write the license application forms to obtain more information about applicants.

Hartsfield sponsored a movement to "treat all motorists alike" in enforcing traffic regulations. In refunding $3 which C. F. Dooley paid on a Winnepeg tag charge, Hartsfield told the chief to "make passes against taxicabs that park on yellow lines." Dooley said he parked where a cab had been and got a ticket.

Committeemen voted to employ Mrs. Clyde C. Aven as a policeman and to raise salaries of matrons if the money can be obtained.

TRUCK TAX CASES SLATED FOR TODAY

Judge Gaillard To Hear 3 in Gainesville.

GAINESVILLE, Ga., June 18.—(P)—Judge B. P. Gaillard, of Hall county superior court, will hear three injunction petitions here tomorrow contesting validity of the state bus and truck maintenance tax.

Temporary restraining orders have been issued stopping collection of the tax from the numerous plaintiffs in the three cases.

One case involves the right of the state to levy a tax against transfer companies, another against trucking company operators, and the third against farmers. The collection of the tax has been postponed three times by executive orders, the latest extending the time limit to July 15.

Income of the tax will support the post roads division of the state highway department.

ATLANTA IS KILLED BY PANAMA LIGHTNING

Private William Cornett, 21, was killed by a bolt of lightning yesterday at his sentry box on the east center wall of Gatun Locks, according to an Associated Press dispatch from Colon, Panama.

The victim was a member of Company C, Fourteenth Infantry, of the canal locks guard, and enlisted in the service in 1935.

According to the dispatch, he is survived by his father, Leonard Cornett, of Atlanta, but the latter could not be located last night.

ATLANTA THEATER NEWS

'The Go-Getter' Proves Swift-Moving Comedy

George Brent and Anita Louise romp gaily through "The Go-Getter," engaging and swift-moving modern comedy that began a week's run yesterday at the Paramount theater.

Adding greatly to the film's entertainment value is Charles Winninger, well known to radio audiences, who is seen in an admirable characterization of "Cappy Ricks," testy but lovable shipping magnate.

The supporting cast includes John Eldredge, Henry O'Neill, Joseph Crehan, Gordon Oliver, Eddie Acuff, Herbert Rawlinson, Mary Teen, Helen Lowell, Helen Valkis and Minerwa Ureca.

A high point in the film is a view of the wrecking of the dirigible Macon, which plunged into the ocean a few years ago. Brent plays the role of a member of the dirigible's crew.

How Brent overcomes the obstacles placed in his path by the irascible Cappy, and wins the hand of the fair Anita Louise forms the basic plot structure. Busby Berkeley directed.

Short subjects round out the bill.—B. M.

'Silent Barriers' Opens For Run at the Rialto

A two-week, action-packed story of pioneer days held audiences yesterday at the Rialto theater as "Silent Barriers" opened a week's engagement.

The cast is headed by Richard Arlen, Lilli Palmer, Antoinette Cellier and Barry Mackay, with supporting roles played by Roy Emerson, J. Farrell MacDonald, Ben Weldon, Jack Mackay, Ernest Sefton, Henry Victor and Frank McGlynn Sr.

Directed by Milton Rosmer, the picture tells an enthralling, exciting story of the building of a transcontinental railway. Troubles, both political and labor, beset the men who seek to build the road.

Difficultly in locating a pass in the Canadian Rockies also cause the builders plenty of trouble, but this is solved when the engineers find "Eagle Pass." There's plenty of life and color in this film. It's the kind of picture most audiences enjoy.

Completing the program, short subjects are shown.

VALDOSTA VISITED BY STATE AIR TOUR

Thirty-Three Planes Stop at Albany, Moultrie.

VALDOSTA, Ga., June 18.—(P) Maneuvering to avoid rain squalls, Georgia air tourists headed for the Valdosta airport, food and rest here tonight.

When a Waco to nose over in a stop at Albany, Ga., a pilot reported, but it was not damaged.

Thirty-three planes were in the party—the second annual event of its kind in Georgia—headed by Major Wiley Wright.

Dick Allen, Mayor of Augusta, and Billy Lee, 13-year-old licensed pilot of Augusta, were among the tourists.

Mayor T. L. Bell and Miss Mary Walker, Chamber of Commerce secretary, joined the party at Americus, Ga.

GENERAL MALIN CRAIG SPEAKS AT FT. BENNING

FORT BENNING, Ga., June 18.—(P)—General Malin Craig, chief of staff of the United States army, told a graduating class of 173 officers of the Fort Benning Infantry school today that "wars are won by formulas."

"Success in battle," he said, "comes primarily with leadership. The brilliant leader inspires confidence in his men and marches from victory to victory."

"Confidence in a leader," he said, "comes from a knowledge of his demonstrated reliability."

Theater Programs.

Legitimate
ATLANTA—"By Candlelight," with Helen Sturges and featuring Helen Sturges at 8:30.

Pictures and Stage Shows
CAPITOL—"That I May Live," with Robert Kent, Richard Kent, and featuring Robert Kent at 8:30.

ATLANTA—"The Go-Getter," with George Brent and Anita Louise, at 11:45, 2:30, 5:01, 7:30 and 9:30.

ATLANTA—"Silent Barriers," with Richard Arlen, at 11:45, 2:30, 5:01, 7:30 and 9:30.

ATLANTA—"The Go-Getter," with George Brent and Anita Louise, at 11:45, 2:30, 5:01, 7:30 and 9:30.

ATLANTA—"The Go-Getter," with George Brent and Anita Louise, at 11:45, 2:30, 5:01, 7:30 and 9:30.

ATLANTA—"The Go-Getter," with George Brent and Anita Louise, at 11:45, 2:30, 5:01, 7:30 and 9:30.

ATLANTA—"The Go-Getter," with George Brent and Anita Louise, at 11:45, 2:30, 5:01, 7:30 and 9:30.

ATLANTA—"The Go-Getter," with George Brent and Anita Louise, at 11:45, 2:30, 5:01, 7:30 and 9:30.

ATLANTA—"The Go-Getter," with George Brent and Anita Louise, at 11:45, 2:30, 5:01, 7:30 and 9:30.

ATLANTA—"The Go-Getter," with George Brent and Anita Louise, at 11:45, 2:30, 5:01, 7:30 and 9:30.

ATLANTA—"The Go-Getter," with George Brent and Anita Louise, at 11:45, 2:30, 5:01, 7:30 and 9:30.

ATLANTA—"The Go-Getter," with George Brent and Anita Louise, at 11:45, 2:30, 5:01, 7:30 and 9:30.

CONVICTED LAWYER TO GET NEW TRIAL

Appellate Court Reverses Verdict Against Ben C. Williford for Perjury.

Ben C. Williford, Atlanta attorney convicted in Fulton superior court for perjury in connection with defense evidence introduced in his disbarment trial, won his fight for a new trial yesterday when the state court of appeals reversed the trial court's decision.

The attorney was found guilty on four counts of perjury and sentenced to serve concurrent two-to-three-year sentences on each. The court of appeals' decision sets aside and gives the lawyer a new trial in Fulton superior court.

Assistant Solicitor Ed A. Stephens said it would probably be fall before the Williford is again placed on trial.

In ruling for a new trial, the court of appeals held the trial court, presided over by Judge James C. Davis, erred in permitting introduction of evidence regarding a previous disbarment proceeding against Williford in Atkinson county and also in refusing to permit introduction of a letter written in Williford's behalf.

Disbarment proceedings against the attorney were filed as an outgrowth of the "fake damage claim investigation" begun by the solicitor general's office several years ago.

MAGICIANS PICK CINCINNATI
HIGH POINT, N. C., June 18.—(P)—The International Brotherhood of Magicians unanimously selected John H. Davidson, of Asheville, R. I., president today at a closing business session of its convention here. The 1938 convention was awarded to Cincinnati, Ohio.

Martha Raye is up to her usual in the supporting role.

Shorts and a newsreel complete a well-rounded bill.—M. S.

DR. W. C. CARLTON IS HURT IN CRASH

Brenau Official, Wife Injured Near Dublin.

DUBLIN, Ga., June 18.—Dr. W. C. Carlton, traveling representative of Brenau College, and Mrs. Carlton, were injured shortly before noon today when the automobile in which they were riding skidded and overturned during rainstorm on the highway near here.

Dr. Carlton and his wife were admitted to Claxton hospital, here. Dr. Carlton suffered a broken clavicle and Mrs. Carlton suffered bruises and shock. Tom Carlton, a son, driver of the car, and Ruth Carlton, a daughter, were unhurt.

Dr. Carlton was formerly professor of history at Brenau.

F. D. R. ASKS $200,000 FOR FLOOD CONTROL

WASHINGTON, June 18.—(P)—President Roosevelt submitted to the senate today a supplemental estimate of $200,000 for flood control work on the Mississippi.

The proposal, which will be offered as an amendment to the war department supply bill in the senate, would increase the total in the bill from $100,000 to $300,000.

PARAMOUNT NOW
GEO. BRENT ANITA LOUISE
"The Go-Getter"

CAPITOL
ROBERT KENT
"That I May Live"

ATLANTA Federal Theatre
CANDLELIGHT
BY SHIGFRED GEYER
(Works Progress Administration)
JUNE 15-20
Atlanta Theatre 25 Exchange Pl.

LIFER IS IDENTIFIED AS ONE OF GUNMEN IN SUBURBAN FIGHT

Bob Jarrard, fugitive, also named as kidnaper of Gainesville Girl.

Bob Jarrard, life term and fugitive from the Cherokee county chain gang, was one of two principals who escaped in a fusillade of bullets following a gun battle with police nine days ago in College Park, county police stated yesterday.

The escaped convict, who was sent up for murder from Hall county in 1935, was identified by County Policemen West and Gilbert from a picture shown them by City Detectives Leo Nahlik and M. M. Coppenger. They said the other fugitive principal was Vincent T. Baker, also a gang leader. H. L. Turner, brother of Forrest Turner, was killed by bullets fired by Officers West and Gilbert during a running gun battle in the suburban city. His two companions escaped. Officers had thought his brother, Chester, and not Jarrard, was the third occupant of the car.

Identified by Girl. Jarrard, it was revealed yesterday, was the man positively identified by Miss Verlin Stargel, of Gainesville, as one of two men who kidnapped her last week. From her description Baker was identified as the second man.

Previously released information was that Chester Turner and Baker were the men identified as Miss Stargel's kidnappers. Identification of Jarrard as the third man in the fatal gun battle came after Chester Turner gave up to Detective Nahlik Thursday at the request of his mother. He stoutly maintained he was not the third man in the car and said he had been hiding in north Georgia until his mother appealed to him to surrender.

Police continued last night to search for Mrs. LeRoy Manders, 17-year-old sister of Chester and Forrest Turner and bride of only a few weeks, who disappeared while on her way to work Tuesday morning. Officers are of the opinion Baker is the man responsible for her disappearance as underworld information revealed he had long admired the sister of his criminal associate.

Miss Stargel, it was learned, was never shown the picture of Baker but was shown the pictures of Chester Turner and Jarrard, whom county police had listed under the name of Alvin Still. She said Chester was not the man but that Jarrard was one of her two abductors. She then described a man similar to Baker.

Police yesterday had information that the now dead H. L. Turner, Baker and Jarrard met near College Park on the morning of the gun battle to divide money obtained in a robbery earlier in the day. This information supplemented the photographic identification that Jarrard was the third man.

Baker Not Identified. Officers West and Gilbert refused to identify the picture of Baker as the other man in the car during the gun battle because, they said, he was lying down on the back seat.

Jarrard was arrested on suspicion on May 22 with Chester Turner following two robberies in East Point. At the time, he gave his name as Alvin Still. It was not until several days later when FBI fingerprints were compared, after Turner and Still had been released, that officers discovered Still was, in fact, Jarrard, life-termer from Hall, who had escaped from Cherokee county in March. He escaped with Chester Turner and six others.

Officers, having learned the alleged haunts of Jarrard and Baker, are watching for their return.

CANNING PLANT OPENS. WARESBORO, Ga., June 18.—The Wareboro canning plant, a community enterprise, has opened for the season under the direction of C. P. Hamilton and will operate on each Monday, Wednesday and Friday.

Wheary Wardrobe Wardrobe Trunks

Most Modern and Durable Trunks Made.

W. Z. Turner Luggage Co.
219 PEACHTREE ST.

CHICAGO DETROIT CINCINNATI KNOXVILLE AND THE NORTH AND WEST

THE SOUTHLAND

completely air-conditioned
LEAVES ATLANTA (Union Station) 8:15 a.m. Central Time
Ar. Knoxville 12:45 p.m. Ar. Louisville 9:15 p.m.
Ar. Cincinnati (T) 6:25 a.m. Ar. Chicago 6:25 a.m.
Ar. Cincinnati (E.T.) 8:25 a.m. Ar. Detroit 7:50 a.m.
Through sleepers to Cincinnati, Chicago, Detroit, Observation car.
Dining car. Coaches through to Cincinnati and Chicago.

THE FLAMINGO

completely air-conditioned
LEAVES ATLANTA (Union Station) 6:25 p.m. Central Time
Ar. Knoxville 11:02 p.m. Ar. Louisville 7:20 a.m.
Ar. Cincinnati (T) 7:10 a.m. Ar. Chicago 4:30 p.m.
Ar. Cincinnati (E.T.) 4:30 p.m. Ar. Detroit 4:30 p.m.
Through sleepers to Cincinnati, Chicago, Detroit, Observation car.
Dining car serving dinner leaving Atlanta. Observation car. Coaches.
Both trains offer direct connections at Cincinnati Union Terminal for Cleveland, Columbus, Pittsburgh, Buffalo, Indianapolis, etc.

For fares, reservations, tickets, call.

J. W. Moore, C.P.A.
87 Luckie Street
Phone MAIN 5131

L & N

F. T. Alexander, D.F.A.
101 Marietta Street
Phone WALNUT 1400

Train travel is safe—not a single fatality to a passenger in a train accident on the L. & N. in over 19 years.

This Man Identified as Gunman, Kidnaper

Bob Jarrard, alias Alvin Still, shown above, yesterday was identified from this picture by County Officers West and Gilbert as the third man in the College Park gun battle in which H. L. Turner, paroled convict, was killed last week. Previously officers had thought Chester Turner was the third man in the car. Vincent T. Baker, chain gang fugitive, is thought to have been the other occupant of the car. Jarrard's picture also was identified by Miss Verlin Stargel, of Gainesville, as being one of the two men who kidnapped her last week.

Hunger-Striking Clerk Ends Fast, Claims Victory in CCC Protest

Husky World War Veteran Has Dwindled to Mere 156 Pounds From 196; Believes He Has 'Done Something To Remedy Conditions.'

ROSSVILLE, Ga., June 18.—(AP) Rice gruel was swallowed by jobless Philip A. Baumgartner today to break a hunger strike he began May 15 in protest against CCC "conditions" at nearby Fort Oglethorpe.

"I believe I have done something to remedy them," he said. Baumgartner was fired from his position as Civilian Conservation Corps clerk in the fort's subsistence warehouse 10 days after he started the fast, and simultaneously ceased shaving.

Baumgartner weighed 196 pounds when he started the fast. He estimated his weight today at "less than 156."

The husky, 37-year-old World War veteran said he was unable to support his wife and six children upon his CCC pay of $105 a month and that he should have received promotion to a better-paying position that went instead to a retired regular army man.

He testified three days ago before Colonel Charles Patterson, corps area inspector, in an investigation at Fort Oglethorpe.

"I have accomplished my purpose, and now I can eat," he said. Dr. Doyle Curry said the emaciated faster's physical condition "is very good except that he has lost considerable weight. By remaining on a liquid diet for a few days he will be all right."

ELKS PLAN FROLIC IN LAKEWOOD PARK

Carnival, Supper and Dance To Be Staged Today.

Beginning this afternoon at 1 o'clock and continuing until midnight, Atlanta Elks will roam at will over the walks and lawns at Lakewood park. Billed as a "carnival, country store and dance," the degree team of Atlanta Lodge, No. 78, B. P. O. E., headed by J. B. Harris, has been making preparation to entertain Elks and their friends at the park throughout the afternoon and evening.

The occasion is given for the purpose of buying equipment and uniforms for the 20 members of the Elks' degree team. A spaghetti supper will be served at 8:30 o'clock. All friends of Elks and the public generally is invited.

COURT DECISIONS

SUPREME COURT OF GEORGIA. Judgments Affirmed. Hightower et al. v. Phillips, from Early superior court—Judge Worrell. Gray, for plaintiffs in error. Lowrey State, Petter Z. Green, contra. Guthrie v. Gaskins, administrator, and vice versa; from Berrien superior court—Judge Smith, Corbett & Sumner, for plaintiff in error in main bill of exception. E. R. Smith, contra. Crockett et al. v. Wilson; from Laurens superior court—Judge Kent, C. C. Crockett, W. W. Larsen, J. Lester, J. Watson, for plaintiffs in error. John S. Adams, Carl K. Nelson, contra. Massachusetts Mutual Life Insurance Company v. Birch, executor, et al.; from Fulton superior court—Judge Moore, Walter Mason, for plaintiff in error. Albert E. Meyer, Albert G. Callaway, contra. Cook v. Securities Investment Company; from Floyd superior court—Judge Porter, Lanham & Parker, for plaintiff in error. Wright & Covington, contra. Luke v. State; from Douglas superior court—Judge Hutcheson, A. J. Veomans, for plaintiff in error. Smith, attorney general. Hal C. Hutcheson, solicitor general. Elmer G. Arnold, J. J. Clower, Ellis G. Arnall, contra. Davenport v. Hartman et al.; from Webster superior court—Judge Harper, G. V. Harrell, for plaintiff, Julie Felton, M. A. Walker, for defendants. Bibb County v. Elkan et al.; from Bibb superior court—Judge Jones, James C. Estes, for plaintiff in error. Hall & Bloch & Weaver, Carlisle & Boothe, Russell & Odum v. State; from Quitman superior court—Judge Wright, R. M. Perry, for plaintiff in error. M. J. Veomans, solicitor general. R. A. Patterson, solicitor general. Hooper & Hooper, E. J. Clower, Ellis G. Arnall, contra. State of Georgia v. Aetna Casualty and Surety Company; from Fulton superior court—Judge Thomas, M. J. Veomans, attorney general. B. D. Murphy, O. H. Dukes, for plaintiff. Harold H. Hinch, Marion Smith, for defendant. Johnson v. Liberty National Life Insurance Company; from Fulton superior court—Judge Humphries, J. C. Bowden, J. W. Hinchman, for plaintiff. Bryson, Middlebrooks & Carter, Yantis C. Mitchell, for defendant. Newbro Manufacturing Company v. American Can Company; from Atlanta municipal court—appellate in error. J. H. Calhoun, J. Herbert Johnson, contra. Keating v. Periodical Publishers' Service Bureau Incorporated; from Sumner superior court—Judge Humphries, Giles & Lullie Scheck, for plaintiff. Marshall, Marshall & Greene, for defendant. Pass v. Pass, executor; from Hall superior court—Judge Gaillard, Hammond Johnson, for plaintiff; Wheeler & Kenyon, Charles J. Thurmond, for defendant. Maryland Casualty Company v. Smith, administrator, et al.; from Wilcox superior court—Judge McDonald, Jones, Russell & Sparks, Johnston & Jones, for plaintiff in error. J. H. Dorsey, contra. Willford v. State; from Fulton superior court—Judge Davis, B. C. Willford, Giles & Scheck, for plaintiff in error. John A. Boykin, solicitor general; for plaintiffs. William Story, Corbett & Sumner, for defendants. Rehearing Denied. Johnson v. Starr; from Fulton. Upchurch v. Carroll Furniture Company; from Fulton. Liberty Mutual Insurance Co. v. Lipscomb et al.; from Hall. Savannah Bank and Trust Company v. Groover; from Chatham. Carr v. Swift & Company; from Moultrie. City National Bank v. Bob's Candy and Pecan Company; from Dougherty. Oliver et al. v. Chance; from Burke.

34 EMBRYO LAWYERS ASK BAR EXAMINATION

Fulton county's semi-annual crop of would-be attorneys are preparing for the regular weeding out process—bar examinations. Thirty-four aspirants have already filed application for permission to take the examinations in Fulton county. Monday is the last day on which applications may be filed. The bar examinations will be held in various cities of the state on June 30 under supervision of superior court judges.

U. S. TO HELP KEEP 'ARID' GEORGIA DRY

Alcohol Commissioner Says He'll Give Liquor Permitters Trouble.

Holders of federal liquor permits in future will have some difficulty in disposing of liquor for illegal use in Georgia, according to advice received yesterday by T. Grady Head, state revenue commissioner, from W. S. Alexander, federal alcohol administrator.

Alexander told Head that "so far as we are able to do so, we will make it as difficult as possible for wholesalers and other permittees operating under our jurisdiction to sell or otherwise dispose of any liquor destined for illegal use in Georgia."

The promised action, Head said, "is just what we want the federal government to do in helping us to

Contagious Diseases At Low Ebb in City

Atlanta is singularly free from serious contagious diseases at present, Dr. J. P. Kennedy, city health officer, reported yesterday.

"There are no cases of scarlet fever, diphtheria or meningitis on record for the first time in years," he said. The physician said there are only a few cases of whooping cough. The diseases usually are most prevalent among children.

keep liquor out of Georgia under terms of the 21st amendment."

He said also he would recommend to Governor Rivers that revenue commission inspectors be given authority to assist the county and state enforcement officers in checking liquor shipments coming into and through Georgia.

It is probable that legislative action will be necessary to give state inspectors this authority, he said, but he will request Rivers to include this action in his call for a special session now under study for July.

13 SEEK FREEDOM BY HABEAS CORPUS

Petitions From Penitentiary Inmates To Be Heard Today in U. S. Court.

Thirteen petitions for release under habeas corpus, filed by inmates of the Atlanta Federal penitentiary, will be heard today in United States court by Judge E. Marvin Underwood.

In addition, attaches of the office of District Attorney Lawrence S. Camp said, it was probable 20 pleas of guilty might be heard from defendants now under indictment.

The petitioners, with offenses for which convicted sentences and states from which they were sent here, as follows:

William Hazelwood, Kentucky, five years, national prohibition act; Cassel Lowe, Mississippi, five years, national prohibition act; Steve Lipscomb, West Virginia, five years, national prohibition act; Robert Earl Stewart, Tennessee, three years, national motor vehicle theft act; Victor J. Evans, Florida, five years, using the mails to defraud; Jack Shearer, West Virginia, five years, Mann act; Phillip Warden, West Virginia, five years, Mann act; Clark T. Ward, Mississippi, five years, illicit distilling; Herbert Hoke, West Virginia, four years, illicit distilling; Henry Kelly, Kentucky, three years, impersonating a government officer; Ernest Locke, Tennessee, seven years, illicit distilling; John Irvin, Virginia, five years, theft from interstate freight; Pierce Griffin, Alabama, two years, using the mails to defraud.

Spent THE DIFFERENCE FOR SOMETHING ELSE

Best Laundry Costs You Less at Briarcliff Pick-up stations finished laundry 5¢ per lb. entire bundle washed and flatwork ironed

10¢ per lb. additional for finishing wearing apparel

HIGH'S BASEMENT SALE

COOL DRESSES

Today! We Expect A Boom Business Because of These Extraordinary Values in This

- New Late Styles in Bomberg Sheers
- Separate Cape Styles in Wash Crepes
- Tailored Frocks in Imported Cords
- Contrast Trimmed Silk and Acetates
- Neat Small Pattern Printed Frocks
- Classic Shirtwaist Types in Variety

Head for this sale before you do another thing this morning! Make your selections from full assortments at their peak! Be assured of finer materials and better styles than you could reasonably expect for such a low price. A round-up of summer dresses you can't be without for summer and vacation wear.

HIGH'S BASEMENT

What a Size Range! Misses, Juniors—12 to 20 Women's Sizes 38 to 46

GIVE "HIM" A USEFUL GIFT FOR FATHER'S DAY

Now's the Time! Here's the Place to Buy

Men's Swim Trunks

All wool! Regularly $1.39! Side buckles or belts; pockets. Navy, wine, black, royal. 30 to 38 waist.

Boys' All-Wool Trunks $1.19 values! Navy, wine, black and royal, sizes 26 to 32.

Men's Sport Shoes $1.99

Reg. $2.95! White! Sizes 6 to 12 AA to D

White buck or kid! White kid trimmed with black or brown!

- Wing Tip
- Perforated Toe
- Creased Vamp

Fine leather, yet lightly constructed for cool summer comfort. Genuine Goodyear welt soles.

Men's Ties

49c and 59c kinds! Cool summer stripes, checks, plaids.

Men's Reg. $1.49 SHIRTS

- Broadcloths
- Percales
- Big Variety

89¢

All With Comfortable Wanted Fused Collars!

Doubtless his supply is getting slim, and he'd appreciate some of these well-tailored shirts in a choice of light and dark patterns. Sizes 14 to 17.

Men's Reg. $1.39 Wash Pants

- Sanforized—Won't Shrink
- Neat Prints, Checks, Stripes

89¢

Every Dad should have two or three pairs for office comfort! For sports, vacation and home wear! Well tailored, they'll retain their smart appearance with frequent laundering. Sizes 29 to 42.

SENATE POSTPONES RELIEF BILL VOTE UNTIL NEXT WEEK

Decision Follows Debate on Compelling States To Share WPA Expense.

WASHINGTON, June 18.—(AP)—The senate weary by four days of strenuous debate, agreed today to wait until next week before voting on the $1,500,000,000 relief bill.

It had heard four hours of argument on a proposal by Senator Robinson, Democrat, Arkansas, the majority leader, that states and local communities provide 25 per cent of the cost of WPA projects if they are able to do so.

Robinson's contention that "the largest public debt in our history" made it necessary to "put our house in order" was supported by economy advocates. But his proposal was fought doggedly by a group urging that Harry L. Hopkins, Works Progress administrator, be given discretion to fix local contributions.

"We can't go on forever," Robinson retorted. "I do not think a $3,000,000,000 debt is dangerous to the credit of the government, but in time of prosperity we ought to begin to put our house in order."

His amendment, submitted as a compromise substitute for the proposal of Senator Byrd, Democrat, South Carolina, that localities put up 40 per cent, was fought by a group which included Senator McCadeo, Democrat, California, wartime secretary of the Treasury.

McCadeo asserted relief was a national problem which "should be administered on a mathematical formula or percentage basis." California, he said, had 37,000 migratory children and 150,000 "tramps" from other states.

$1,750,000 IN BIDS FOR ROADS OPENED

Continued From First Page.

Cochran highway. Claussen-Lawrence Construction Company, Augusta, $115,675.63.

Bridge for Chatham.—Overhead bridge, remodeling another bridge and building surface treated approaches near Savannah city limits on the Savannah-Brunswick road. Espey Paving and Construction Company, Savannah, $117,702.62.

Chattahoochee.—331 miles of paved road and 1,969 miles of graded road on the Summerville-Menlo highway. Sullivan, Long and Hagerty, Bessemer, Ala., $58,251.82.

Dade County.—5,444 miles of chert road and one bridge culvert on the Chattahoochee-Birmingham highway. Mitchell Brothers Construction Company, Birmingham, Ala., $145,701.34.

DeKalb County.—5,754 miles of road improvement on the Stone Mountain-Avoncote highway. W. C. Shepherd, Atlanta, $106,156.19.

DeKalb County.—Highway crossing signal equipment at the railroad grade crossing on Mayson avenue, Roadway street, Candler street and Oak street. S. B. Black, Decatur, $21,984.

Albany Gets Paving.—Dougherty County—513 miles of surface treated road on Monroe street in Albany. Carleton Contracting Company, Albany, $40,635.98.

Floyd County.—Widening and raising deck of bridge over Cabin creek on the Rome-Gadsden highway. Leo T. Barber, Moultrie, $12,975.20.

Floyd and Gordon Counties.—4,407 miles of surface treated road and two bridges on the Rome-Columbus highway. Ledbetter-H. Johnson Contractors, Rome, $108,945.97.

Floyd County.—3,233 miles of paved road on the Rome-Cedar-town highway. Hardaway Construction Company, Columbus, $82,632.02.

Grady County.—Bridge over Barrett's Mill creek on the Cairo-Pelham highway. Crumney and Crumney, Rochelle, $10,867.50.

Gwinnett and Walton Counties.—8,336 miles of surface treated road on the Loganville-Savannah road. S. E. Finley and A. P. Milam, $198,218.08.

Hall County.—3,508 miles of paved road on the Dawsonville-Gainesville highway. W. L. Cobb Construction Company, Decatur, $110,545.83.

Grading Included.—Jackson County—305 miles of paved road and 4,571 miles of graded road on the Commerce-Athens highway. W. L. Florence Construction Company, Powder Springs, $69,181.53.

Jefferson County.—449 miles of graded road on the Midville-Wadley highway. W. F. Scott and Company, Thomasville, $47,271.57.

Mitchell County.—244 miles of surface treated road on the Cairo-Pelham highway. William F. Bowe Jr., Augusta, $12,980.83.

Monroe County.—Three bridges on the Forsyth-Knoxville highway. D. B. Scott & Company, Decatur, $33,914.

Pierce County.—361 miles of surface-treated road on the Blackshear-Hoboken highway. Gibson and Robinson, Donaldsonville, $13,182.96.

Polk County.—5,813 miles of chert road, one bridge and one bridge culvert on the Rome-Cedar-town highway. R. T. Smith, Tallapoosa, $112,827.19.

Taylor County.—2,287 miles of surface-treated road on the Macomb-Columbus highway. Campbell Contracting Company, Columbus, $108,912.66.

Whitfield County.—Bridge and paved approaches in the city of Dalton on the Dalton-Chattanooga highway. L. N. Trammell, Atlanta, $38,861.04.

Decatur Elks' Lodge Is Awarded Membership Cup

Left to right above are S. L. Threadgill, exalted ruler of the Decatur Lodge, No. 1602, of the Elks' Club; Charles G. Bruce, district deputy; John S. McClelland, vice chairman of board of grand trustees; Caspian Hale, of New Smyrna, Fla., chairman of activities committee of the grand lodge; and David Sholtz, of Florida, grand exalted ruler of the Elks, presenting the loving cup which the Decatur lodge won.

WEATHER FORCES AMELIA DOWN TWICE

Continued From First Page.

what seemed like ages before the wheels finally lifted and cleared the fringe of trees on the edge.

Picturesque Rice Growers.—The wettest profession in the world is, I think, that of rice grower. Most of the way from Calcutta to Akayab we flew very low over endless paddies. Small figures trailing in the water looked up as we passed over their heads.

Some waved hats, others turned back to their work. Their every move reflected in a shining flood. Near-by their grass houses, ringed by dark, green trees, looked like mushrooms sprouting from luxuriant soil.

It rained every minute of the trip. The monsoon, I find, lets down more liquid per second than I thought could come out of the skies. Everything is obliterated in the deluge, and so hard was the rain that it beat off patches of paint along the leading edge of my plane's wing. Fortunately, the cockpit remained dry, otherwise Fred Noonan and I should have been drowned.

Golden Pagodas.—Akayab is a picturesque place from the air. Two pagodas, covered with gold leaf, stand out near by a creek, so called here in a country where rivers are enormous, which winds through the town, bearing many small boats on the surface.

Several large steamers were in the harbor. Hilly islands covered with dense jungles lie scattered about. Many of these are really mountainous, and mud volcanoes, I am told, operate on several. How mud keeps boiling during the monsoon downpour I cannot imagine. I should think rain would quench even the volcano's fire.

The airport is a port of call for most pilots passing this way. It has two runways and a large hangar. Imperial Airways and Air France stop regularly and K. L. M., the Dutch line, when necessary to refuel or on account of the weather. Speaking of air lines, I have noticed that all K. L. M.'s transports on this side of the world are named after birds.

Describes Difficulties.—I did not intend to stay at Akayab tonight. Instead I hoped to reach Rangoon at least, and started off from here after checking the weather and fueling. However, for the first time since starting I had to return. The weather grew progressively worse and after trying to get through for a couple of hours, we headed out to sea, flying just off the surface of the water. We were afraid to come low over land on account of the hills.

By uncanny powers, Fred Noonan managed to navigate us back to the airport, without being able to see anything but the waves beneath our plane. His comment was "two hours and six minutes of gasoline and a number of army and navy mechanics and photographers."

A second boat, the naval tug Ontario, left Pago-Pago, American Samoa, yesterday to stand by between Lae, New Guinea, and Howland Island during that 2,556-mile flight during the entire world journey.

GOLF CADDY DROWNED.—CHATTANOOGA, Tenn., June 18.—(AP)—Charles Duggan, 18-year-old golf caddy, drowned today in the Tennessee river. Two caddies who were with him said he dived into the river and failed to come to the surface.

TWO U. S. VESSELS
SAIL TO ASSISTANCE.—HONOLULU, June 18.—(AP)—Two United States government vessels headed for positions in the South Pacific today to aid Amelia Earhart in her world flight.

The coast guard cutter Itasca started for Howland Island, 1,532 miles southwest of Honolulu.

The Itasca carried 200 gallons of gasoline and a number of army and navy mechanics and photographers.

A second boat, the naval tug Ontario, left Pago-Pago, American Samoa, yesterday to stand by between Lae, New Guinea, and Howland Island during that 2,556-mile flight during the entire world journey.

GOLF CADDY DROWNED.—CHATTANOOGA, Tenn., June 18.—(AP)—Charles Duggan, 18-year-old golf caddy, drowned today in the Tennessee river. Two caddies who were with him said he dived into the river and failed to come to the surface.

TWO U. S. VESSELS
SAIL TO ASSISTANCE.—HONOLULU, June 18.—(AP)—Two United States government vessels headed for positions in the South Pacific today to aid Amelia Earhart in her world flight.

The coast guard cutter Itasca started for Howland Island, 1,532 miles southwest of Honolulu.

The Itasca carried 200 gallons of gasoline and a number of army and navy mechanics and photographers.

Political Work By Women Hit In Sholtz Talk

Continued From First Page.

More control by women in politics would not necessarily mean cleaner politics, Dave Sholtz, former Governor of Florida, said here yesterday.

"Once women get into politics," he explained, "they play the game just like a man, and politicians—men and women—are constantly having to compromise ideals with existing conditions."

Inspection Trip.—Sholtz, now grand exalted ruler of the Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks, was here for a visit of inspection to the comparatively new Decatur Lodge No. 602, as he headed a nation-wide tour of lodges.

Featuring his visit to the Decatur lodge was his personal presentation of the silver loving cup he had offered to the unit with the greatest percentage of increase in membership in the past six months. The Decatur lodge, which Sholtz installed as one of his first duties after becoming grand exalted ruler, took the cup in competition with those of Atlanta, Columbus and Athens.

The Elks' chief, who left the governorship of Florida the first of this year, was met on his arrival here yesterday afternoon by a motored of members of the Decatur and Atlanta lodges. An extensive entertainment program was carried out in his honor, including a dinner and dance last night at a Decatur hotel.

Cup Presented.—Following the dinner Sholtz presented the loving cup to the Decatur lodge and commented on the cordiality of his reception here.

"I have had a wonderful time visiting the lodges all over the country," he said, "but nowhere have I met with a more hospitable place than Decatur, and no place have I found better people than right here among my friends of this city."

Last night Mr. Sholtz said he planned to leave here this morning for Hendersonville, N. C., his summer home.

INSURANCE AGENTS TO NAME OFFICERS

Election Will Close Two-Day Convention.—Election of new officers this morning will conclude the annual two-day convention of the Georgia Association of Insurance Agents meeting at the Biltmore.

The group yesterday heard a score of insurance executives from all parts of the nation discuss problems of the business in a forum arranged by Herman J. Haas, president.

Last night the delegates assembled on the Biltmore terrace for the annual banquet and dinner-dance.

PUSHING STALLED AUTO IS FATAL TO ATLANTAN

Believed to have overexerted himself while pushing his stalled automobile out of a garage, David W. Kennedy, of 800 Highland avenue, N. E., collapsed and died while en route to a hospital.

Mr. Kennedy was 50 years old. In addition to his wife, he is survived by a stepson, George J. Whiddy. Funeral services will be held at 4 o'clock tomorrow afternoon at the Harris G. Pools chapel. Burial will be in Prospect Methodist cemetery, near Chamblee, Ga.

MRS. JAMES CARROUTH IS HURT IN S. C. CRASH

Mrs. James C. Carrouth, of 1100 West Rugby avenue, College Park, suffered a possible broken collar bone and painful cuts and bruises when her car skidded and overturned near Rock Hill, S. C., yesterday, according to an Associated Press dispatch.

Wallace, her 8-year-old son, sustained severe head bruises while other occupants of the car escaped injury.

AGED CABINET MAKER SHOOTS SELF TO DEATH

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., June 18.—(AP)—Ike Harmon, 79, retired cabinet maker, was found dead at his home here today, a bullet wound through his heart.

Justice of Peace Bryan said he took his own life.

AGE GROUP 3 TO 5 ELIGIBLE FOR TEST

Continued From First Page.

Payne, of 1132 Virginia avenue, N. E. Pat is four and a half years old and she sends in a photograph of herself sitting very charmingly in a bathtub.

Pat has a fetching smile on her face and almost any movie director should be able to see that she has that certain elusive quality which makes for audience favor.

Pat and Barbara aren't the only members of the very young set to apply for the tests. In fact, nearly a third of the applicants for sound movie tests have been from large juvenile stars.

The men form another large group, slightly less than a third of the total applicants and the girls make up the remainder, a total now in excess of 1,000.

And Still They Come.—The men form another large group, slightly less than a third of the total applicants and the girls make up the remainder, a total now in excess of 1,000.

Preliminary interviews now in progress at the Georgian Terrace hotel are being conducted by Mr. Marco, Clifford T. Burgess, talent scout and executive manager of Astral Productions, Hollywood, and Wilmer H. Kimberly, president of Visiographic Film Corporation of Atlanta.

Mr. Kimberly declared yesterday that the grade of applicants was above his expectations and in view of this it might be necessary to film more than the contemplated 30 or 40 tests.

"We want to be entirely fair," he said, "and we want to give an actual test to each person who merits it."

There is still time to make application for the tests. These may be made only by letter to: "The Talent Scout," "The Atlanta Constitution."

Pointers for Applicants.—Applicants should include full name and address and a recent photograph. Brief details of any previous training may also be included.

Candidates will be notified when to report for preliminary interviews and following these interviews, notification will then be sent when to report for rehearsals.

There are no strings attached to entry in The Constitution's movie talent hunt. Influence will have no effect in the selection of those who will receive the tests.

Selections will be made purely on the basis of screen possibilities. The Constitution has opened the door to screen fame. The rest is up to the applicant.

WATERMELON ACREAGE INCREASED 10 PER CENT

Hamilton Ralls, supervisor of the marketing division of the State Department of Agriculture, reported yesterday Georgia's acreage in watermelons was 10 per cent more than last year.

Ralls said prices on Florida watermelons, which began moving earlier than Georgia's, were about as usual for this time of year. He said prices ranged from $300 to $400 a carload at shipping point. Heavy shipments of Georgia melons will begin about July 1, Ralls said, although shipments will get underway next week at points below Vienna and Oglethorpe.

Despite Informality, She Retains Poise

Having one's picture snapped in the privacy of one's bath would upset a great many persons, but not Patricia Payne, four-year-old candidate for a screen test in The Constitution's movie talent hunt.

SECURITY BODY HIT FOR BOARD REVISION

Continued From First Page.

boards and that those selected should be in sympathy with the program, and should be in position to devote a reasonable portion of their time and effort toward insuring the success of the county departments."

In his statement from Athens, Hill contended "the law gives the county commissioners, where there are commissioners, sole authority to appoint members of the county welfare boards."

"The legislature did not intend that the State Welfare Department should have power to appoint these boards."

Political Angle.—The legislature knew that if the power to appoint these local boards were given to a state officer, the time would come when an administration then in power at the state capital could out any member of the county welfare board or name entirely new boards with each new administration and this important program of human welfare would always be up to its neck in politics."

Bibb county's situation required the county commissioners to order a special meeting when one of the board members—Dr. Charles L. Ridley—resigned.

The Macon Evening News quoted him as saying he resigned because he was "disgusted with the political aspect" of the appointment.

The state board also called on county authorities to have their approved committees meet as soon as possible and engage a welfare director.

Approval Necessary.—This director must be approved by the state board and by the Federal Social Security Board, Murdaugh said.

Murdaugh explained the department was sending county authorities "a memorandum covering the qualifications that will meet with the approval of the Social Security Board in Washington in order to enable the state to obtain federal funds."

The qualifications deal with education, special training and experience, and vary according to four classes into which the counties have been divided for administrative purposes.

Murdaugh declared the selections of county boards for directors must file application for employment to the state board. These applications will be investigated by the state agency, and recommendations will be forwarded to the federal board for final approval.

The director further declared that in approving county boards, the state agency reserved "the right to withdraw approval of any board or any member of any local board when necessary to the efficient operation of the department."

County Boards.—Following is a list of county boards:

Applying—Mrs. R. M. Dunn, Miss F. L. Jones, Dr. R. Thomas, D. Deen, R. N. Giff.

Applying—Mrs. J. McDonald, C. J. Morris, J. M. Roberts Jr., William Smith, Mrs. J. G. Gaskin, J. Sibley Jr., J. N. Johnson, Mrs. J. R. Taylor, L. A. Carter, Mrs. J. E. Baker, G. L. Davis, J. C. Odum, Roy Baker, Mrs. Toy Adams.

Applying—Mrs. J. Dunn, M. L. Payne, Banks, R. J. Henson, Newman Evans.

Applying—John V. Thomas, W. B. Perry, J. V. Booker, C. H. Cook, J. C. Poole, Bartow, W. M. Collins, Chas. May, Mrs. R. K. Smith, Mrs. E. J. Sexton, Arthur F. Jackson.

Applying—Mrs. E. J. Sexton, Arthur F. Jackson, J. D. Dorniny, W. F. Jones, A. N. Seward, C. A. Miller.

Applying—Mrs. J. Brannon, Henry Swindle, Mrs. J. H. Harvey, Julian J. Paulk, Dr. J. E. Jones, H. E. Henson, Newman Evans.

Applying—John V. Thomas, W. B. Perry, J. V. Booker, C. H. Cook, J. C. Poole, Bartow, W. M. Collins, Chas. May, Mrs. R. K. Smith, Mrs. E. J. Sexton, Arthur F. Jackson.

Applying—Mrs. E. J. Sexton, Arthur F. Jackson, J. D. Dorniny, W. F. Jones, A. N. Seward, C. A. Miller.

Applying—Mrs. J. Brannon, Henry Swindle, Mrs. J. H. Harvey, Julian J. Paulk, Dr. J. E. Jones, H. E. Henson, Newman Evans.

Applying—John V. Thomas, W. B. Perry, J. V. Booker, C. H. Cook, J. C. Poole, Bartow, W. M. Collins, Chas. May, Mrs. R. K. Smith, Mrs. E. J. Sexton, Arthur F. Jackson.

Applying—Mrs. E. J. Sexton, Arthur F. Jackson, J. D. Dorniny, W. F. Jones, A. N. Seward, C. A. Miller.

Applying—Mrs. J. Brannon, Henry Swindle, Mrs. J. H. Harvey, Julian J. Paulk, Dr. J. E. Jones, H. E. Henson, Newman Evans.

Applying—John V. Thomas, W. B. Perry, J. V. Booker, C. H. Cook, J. C. Poole, Bartow, W. M. Collins, Chas. May, Mrs. R. K. Smith, Mrs. E. J. Sexton, Arthur F. Jackson.

Applying—Mrs. E. J. Sexton, Arthur F. Jackson, J. D. Dorniny, W. F. Jones, A. N. Seward, C. A. Miller.

Applying—Mrs. J. Brannon, Henry Swindle, Mrs. J. H. Harvey, Julian J. Paulk, Dr. J. E. Jones, H. E. Henson, Newman Evans.

Applying—John V. Thomas, W. B. Perry, J. V. Booker, C. H. Cook, J. C. Poole, Bartow, W. M. Collins, Chas. May, Mrs. R. K. Smith, Mrs. E. J. Sexton, Arthur F. Jackson.

Applying—Mrs. E. J. Sexton, Arthur F. Jackson, J. D. Dorniny, W. F. Jones, A. N. Seward, C. A. Miller.

Applying—Mrs. J. Brannon, Henry Swindle, Mrs. J. H. Harvey, Julian J. Paulk, Dr. J. E. Jones, H. E. Henson, Newman Evans.

Applying—John V. Thomas, W. B. Perry, J. V. Booker, C. H. Cook, J. C. Poole, Bartow, W. M. Collins, Chas. May, Mrs. R. K. Smith, Mrs. E. J. Sexton, Arthur F. Jackson.

Applying—Mrs. E. J. Sexton, Arthur F. Jackson, J. D. Dorniny, W. F. Jones, A. N. Seward, C. A. Miller.

Members of U. S. Steel Mediation Board

LLOYD K. GARRISON. EDWARD F. McGRADY.

Barnes, A. R. Royal, Roy Byrd, J. A. Davidson, Columbia—Mrs. T. A. Dooler, Mrs. Edward Hendley, R. V. Ivey, W. C. Clary, J. R. Morris.

Cook—Rev. J. H. Stanford, L. M. Lewis, W. W. Pierce, R. L. Griffiths, Mrs. J. R. Kannon.

Crawford—M. L. Easley, C. T. Seagler, J. N. Clark, M. L. Burnett, J. T. Stewart, R. Kannon.

Dade—Rufus Massey, Mrs. E. A. Ellis, J. O. Gass, Roy E. Moore, Luther M. Allison.

Dawson—J. J. Delany, J. C. Slaton, W. D. Hall, A. W. Elliott, R. H. Swadford, W. C. Austin.

DeKalb—Mrs. M. B. Marbut, L. J. Casals, Douglas McCurdy, C. H. Blount, J. W. McCain.

Dodge—J. H. McCranie, C. L. Echols, C. E. Town, Jody Trippe, J. M. Hain, C. Douglas, Ed. Fayston, P. H. McGough, S. W. Mowley, D. O. Davis, M. J. Early.

Dodge—J. H. McCranie, C. L. Echols, C. E. Town, Jody Trippe, J. M. Hain, C. Douglas, Ed. Fayston, P. H. McGough, S. W. Mowley, D. O. Davis, M. J. Early.

Dodge—J. H. McCranie, C. L. Echols, C. E. Town, Jody Trippe, J. M. Hain, C. Douglas, Ed. Fayston, P. H. McGough, S. W. Mowley, D. O. Davis, M. J. Early.

Dodge—J. H. McCranie, C. L. Echols, C. E. Town, Jody Trippe, J. M. Hain, C. Douglas, Ed. Fayston, P. H. McGough, S. W. Mowley, D. O. Davis, M. J. Early.

Dodge—J. H. McCranie, C. L. Echols, C. E. Town, Jody Trippe, J. M. Hain, C. Douglas, Ed. Fayston, P. H. McGough, S. W. Mowley, D. O. Davis, M. J. Early.

Dodge—J. H. McCranie, C. L. Echols, C. E. Town, Jody Trippe, J. M. Hain, C. Douglas, Ed. Fayston, P. H. McGough, S. W. Mowley, D. O. Davis, M. J. Early.

Dodge—J. H. McCranie, C. L. Echols, C. E. Town, Jody Trippe, J. M. Hain, C. Douglas, Ed. Fayston, P. H. McGough, S. W. Mowley, D. O. Davis, M. J. Early.

Dodge—J. H. McCranie, C. L. Echols, C. E. Town, Jody Trippe, J. M. Hain, C. Douglas, Ed. Fayston, P. H. McGough, S. W. Mowley, D. O. Davis, M. J. Early.

Dodge—J. H. McCranie, C. L. Echols, C. E. Town, Jody Trippe, J. M. Hain, C. Douglas, Ed. Fayston, P. H. McGough, S. W. Mowley, D. O. Davis, M. J. Early.

Dodge—J. H. McCranie, C. L. Echols, C. E. Town, Jody Trippe, J. M. Hain, C. Douglas, Ed. Fayston, P. H. McGough, S. W. Mowley, D. O. Davis, M. J. Early.

Dodge—J. H. McCranie, C. L. Echols, C. E. Town, Jody Trippe, J. M. Hain, C. Douglas, Ed. Fayston, P. H. McGough, S. W. Mowley, D. O. Davis, M. J. Early.

Dodge—J. H. McCranie, C. L. Echols, C. E. Town, Jody Trippe, J. M. Hain, C.

Yates, 3 Down at 12th, Trims Carl Dann, 2-1, To Gain Finals

Williams Promises 15 Wins If He Can Pitch for Atlanta

AL IS HOPEFUL
HE CAN ASSIST
IN FLAG FIGHT

Connie Mack Will Advise Mann Today If He Can Stay.

By JACK TROY.
Almon Williams, of Waxahatchie, Texas, and at the present time a sort of fugitive from the Philadelphia Athletics and Williams, said here yesterday that "I'll win 15 games from here on out if Mr. Mack will let me pitch for Atlanta."

Yesterday was a busy day for the right-hander who won 17 and lost seven for the Crackers last year.

A storm first broke about his angular frame when he refused to report to Williamsport, in the New York-Penn league.

Dizzy Dean said, "I ain't going to sign nuthin." And Al Williams announced, in no uncertain terms, that "I ain't gonna play for Williamsport."

As announced in The Constitution, Williams was leaving the A's for Buford and a conference with John Allen relative to joining the Shoemakers.

Williams arrived at Buford yesterday and conferred both with Mr. Allen and President Earl Mann, of the Crackers. Williams then returned to Atlanta to stay until the situation is cleared up.

He didn't sign with the Buford club. Instead, he heeded the advice of Mr. Allen and President Mann to hold off until definite word is received from Connie Mack as to what he intends to do about the situation.

President Mann contacted Mr. Mack, veteran A's manager, over long-distance. Earl said Mr. Mack thought he should take some "disciplinary action" in Williams' case, but that he would confer with President Will Harridge, of the American league, and advise him (Mann) today as to the decision.

"We'd sure like to have Williams," Mann said.

Williams said yesterday he begged Mr. Mack for two days to send him back to Atlanta. "I'd rather pitch for Atlanta than any other team in the minor leagues," he declared.

"I promise I'll win 15 games from here on out if Mr. Mack will let me pitch for the Crackers. I'd like to help in that pennant fight and I think we could overcome that nine-game lead with Leo Moon also on the staff."

Williams said that when he was advised he wasn't going back to Atlanta but going to Williamsport instead, he asked to be sent to Little Rock.

"I named Little Rock as an alternative because I wanted to come back to the Southern league rather than be shunted off in some bus circuit. Atlanta was my first choice."

Williams is entirely recovered from a back injury and from a cold that settled in his pitching arm. He's ready to pitch.

Recently he held the Cincinnati Reds to three hits in six innings of an exhibition game. "I feel great," Williams said, adding, "when do we play the first night game after the club gets back?"

"WE CAN BEAT 'EM."

I didn't question that 'we' business.

Continued on Second Sports Page.

A GUEST COLUMN By Harry Mehre

(Editor's Note: During Ralph McGill's absence from the office, Break O' Day will be contributed by friends of The Constitution sports editor. Today's guest columnist is Harry Mehre, head football coach at the University of Georgia.)

ATHENS, Ga., June 18.—A telegram on the desk informs me that McGill, the old marine, is off again on his annual summer cruise with the United States navy boys. The McGill column must go on so the guest columnists will be like the troupers of old and carry on for McGill.

McGill has made orations to me from New York to California on the supremacy of the marines over the army and navy.

He must be slipping or softening up a bit to swallow his pride and tour for a month with the naval unit. If he tells those naval officers what he told me, he will need all the marines to keep him from being tossed overboard. I imagine he will tone down his discussions a bit after he is out to sea.

A football coach doing this guest columning job had better stick to his trade and write football. He may know something about this game, or at least think he does. (I wouldn't have made this statement last October.)

The question I have had to try to answer during the winter months is, what changed our last year's football team from one of the worst to ever represent the University of Georgia, to end up as one of the best teams we have ever had? That has been a difficult question to answer.

Very few coaches have had the experience I had last season. The day we played Tennessee in Athens, Georgia played probably the poorest and most spiritless game of any Georgia team I have ever coached. Three and four weeks later, against Fordham in New York and Georgia Tech in Athens, the team was one of the best I have ever had. What is the answer?

ANSWER IS PRIDE.

My answer is pride. We had an unusually fine type of boy on our squad last year and they did not enjoy those October defeats any more than the alumni or coaches enjoyed them. By the time of the Tennessee game the team had lost three consecutive games for various reasons.

I feel certain that every player on our squad had resolved not to make a mistake against Tennessee. They wanted to make certain just where a play was going before they would make a move. A team in this mental state is doomed and especially against a team like Tennessee brought to Sanford field last October.

I feel certain that if we had played Tennessee a close game that we would not have made the consistent come-back that we did. The size of that score and the type of game we put up was just too much for a fine type of American boy who had lost everything but his pride. Starting against Florida the next week this same team played four football games that they had no right to play.

Pride, spirit and determination turned the trick. That is the main reason for all upsets. Remember this, my friends,

Continued on Second Sports Page.

JIM BRADDOCK TURNS 'MEANIE' AS BOUT NEARS

Champion's Grumpiness Taken as Good Sign by His Handlers.

By EDDIE BRIETZ.
GRAND BEACH, Mich., June 18. (P)—James J. Braddock reached that somewhat belated "edge" with a long and resounding bang today.

Capering off a gruelling five-week training grind for his title bout with the Brown Bomber Joe Louis in Chicago Tuesday night, the usually complacent, good-natured and easy-to-get-to heavyweight champion cheered his handlers by suddenly getting aboard one of the finest peevish you ever saw in your life.

He was grumpy with photographers, snapped off interviews and sent his stooges and camp followers literally fleeing into the nearby woods with his crankiness.

The champ's sudden change of disposition all but caused a victory celebration in camp. Trainer Doc Robb dashed to a telephone to get the glad news to Manager Joe Gould in Chicago.

Most fighters get peevish just before an important fight. Jack Dempsey used to like to toss chairs around and tear doors off hinges.

Braddock is taking his out in just being hard to get along with. Both Gould and Robb are highly pleased with Braddock's mental and physical condition. If Jim would only go back to his old style of punching their happiness would be complete. Instead of relying mainly on a short jolting left that used to send the boys into dreamland, the champ now features a more looping variety of right-hand belt. It carries plenty of power, but Jim missed oftener than when he used the shorter lick and the experts think Louis may be able to take advantage of this missing to slip over a haymaker.

No work was scheduled today. Braddock spent most of the morning sitting in the sun in his open air arena and staring moodily into the woods. This afternoon he concentrated on a mystery story.

He'll do his last boxing tomorrow and Sunday. Four rounds are booked for each session, but if the champ shows the least sign of staleness tomorrow, the Sunday exhibition will be cut to two rounds.

Garden Loses Last Chance.

CHICAGO, June 18.—(P)—Removal of the last threat of a legal blockade for the Jim Braddock-Joe Louis heavyweight title fight, set for Tuesday night at Comiskey Park, coincided today with the disclosure of Co-Promoter Mike Jacobs' plans to conduct two more championship matches this year, in London and New York.

Having apparently wrested virtually complete control of the heavyweight situation from Madison Square Garden, for the first time since Tex Rickard passed out of the picture, Jacobs plans to solidify his position on "all fronts," at home and abroad.

Jacobs confirmed overtures for the Braddock-Louis winner to fight Tommy Farr, British Empire heavyweight champion, in a world title match at the White City stadium, London, although specifying he would make no formal announcements until after Tuesday's 15-round bout.

The Garden took a "third strike" today when the United States circuit court of appeals, in Philadelphia, ruled by a 2-to-1 vote against the Garden's appeal for an injunction to stop Braddock from fighting Louis here.

This apparently forestalls any eleventh-hour attempt to halt the Chicago bout but doesn't necessarily mean the Garden will toss in the sponge, in its contest with Jacobs and his associates.

Joe Lewis Seems In Best Shape.

KENOSHA, Wis., June 18.—(P)—Well satisfied that he is reaching his top form exactly as the doctor ordered for his big chance against James J. Braddock Tuesday night in Chicago, Joe Louis restricted his workout today to a six-mile run.

Louis weighed in at 199 pounds and looked to be in the best physical condition of his life.

The challenger will box eight more rounds before he climbs into the ring against the champion, doing four tomorrow and as many Sunday. He plans to stay in his camp here until the morning of the fight when he will motor into Chicago for the official weigh-in.

Louis was somewhat distressed today over rumors that Adolf Hitler had commanded Max Schmeling to forget further fights in the United States.

"I hope that isn't true," said Joe. "After Braddock I hope to meet Schmeling in September."

Softball

DEKALB COUNTY MEN'S LEAGUE. Halcyon Tire Co. 000 000-3 4 1 Oakhurst Presbyterian 004 000-6 7 1 Wallace and Lynch; Richards and Bowen.

Stone Mountain 420 000-6 6 7 1 Fern Crest Dairy 000 000-0 4 4 Wiggins and Williams; V. Bergquist, C. Bergquist and Blackwell.

TONIGHT'S GAMES. 7:30 P. M.—Oakhurst Presbyterian vs. Kirkwood Baptist. 8:30 P. M.—Stone Mountain vs. Oakhurst Baptist.

SPORTS THE ATLANTA CONSTITUTION

RALPH McGill, Sports Editor
Grantland Rice • Jack Troy • Melvin Pascal • Roy White • Thad Holt • Alan J. Gould

PAGE TEN THE CONSTITUTION, ATLANTA, GA., SATURDAY, JUNE 19, 1937.

'Uncle Jim' and Al Talk It Over Here

Constitution Staff Photo—Cornett.

Jim Lindsey is seen in the role of adviser above. The scene took place in an uptown hotel room. Lindsey spent several hours with Al Williams, who won 17 and lost seven for the Crackers last year and right now is a fugitive from the Athletics and Williamsport. Williams had planned to leave the A's and sign up with Buford, but he was persuaded by Lindsey, President Earl Mann and John Allen, Buford, to wait until today and see what steps Connie Mack intends to take. Mr. Mack will advise President Mann today whether or not the Crackers have a chance to get the tall right-hander back.

BUDGE TO PLAY AUSTIN IN FINAL

Match Offers Davis Cup Preview; Wayne Sabin Extends Bunny.

By GAYLE TALBOT.
LONDON, June 18.—(P)—Sore-topped Don Budge and stylish Henry Wilfred ("Bunny") Austin will offer British tennis fans a possible Davis cup preview tomorrow.

These two net acts, carrying the Davis cup hopes of the United States and Great Britain on their shoulders, qualified for the final round of the Queens Club tournament today but it remained, for another American, youthful Wayne Sabin, of Hollywood, to provide the gallery with most of its thrills.

Budge had a virtual walkover into the championship round, yielding only two games to the Japanese, Fumitero Nakano, in winning at 6-0, 6-2, but Austin found himself in a real dogfight before he could subdue Sabin, 6-4, 3-6, 6-3.

Sabin, a reserve on the American Davis cup team, played some of the best tennis of his career, especially in the second set, and for a time had the clever Austin on the run. The Briton held a 3-1 lead in the second set when the Hollywood youngster started his drive. Making fine use of baffling drop shots, he reeled off the next five games in a row for the set and continued his streak into the third set by capturing the first two games.

AUSTIN STEADIES.

Here Austin steadied. With the score 3-2 against him, the Englishman broke Sabin's service with three successive cross-court shots and went on to win the next three games with the loss of only two points.

Budge simply toyed with Nakano. The lanky Californian's drives off either hand had the Japanese netting or outing weakly. He never had a chance to reach the form he revealed in his match with the ailing Bryan (Bibi) Grant yesterday.

Budge, seeded No. 1 for the all-England tournament starting at Wimbledon next week and No. 1 singles star of the American Davis cup team which will play either Germany or Czechoslovakia in the interzone finals in July, rules the favorite over Austin who customarily saves his best tennis for Davis cup play.

WOMEN'S FINALISTS.

The Queens tournament finalists in women's single will be Jadwiga Jedzejowska, of Poland, and Kay Stammers, of England. The Polish girl eliminated Margaret Scriven, of England, 6-2, 10-8, and Miss Stammers won from Mrs. J. B. Pittman, also of England, 6-0, 6-1.

Budge and Gene Mako eliminated.

Continued on Second Sports Page.

CHARLIE MEETS HAAS, WHO BEAT POLLY BOYD, 3-1

Atlantan Whips McWilliams, Scudday Horner on Way to Finals.

By KENNETH GREGORY.
CHARLOTTE, N. C., June 18.—(P)—Charlie Yates, of Atlanta, and Freddie Haas, of New Orleans, advanced today to the finals of the thirty-fifth annual Southern Amateur Golf tournament. They will meet at 36 holes tomorrow for the title. The Atlantan reached the finals in three gruelling matches. He beat both Billy McWilliams, of Savannah, and Scudday Horner, young Alabamian, one up, and rallied to defeat Carl Dann, of Orlando, Florida.

Yates, after being two down through the 12th hole, staged a great rally, featured by a 40-foot putt for a birdie on the 13th, to defeat Carl Dann, of Orlando, Florida.

Leading from the outset of their 18-hole semi-finals battle, Haas trounced A. P. (Polly) Boyd, 37-year-old Chattanooga, Tenn., sharpshooter, 3 and 1, to advance to a contending position for his second southern championship. Haas won the crown in 1934.

LOOKED BAD.

Yates was two down to the Florida champion after nine holes. He lost the 10th when he putted up to within two feet of the cup from 90 feet away and then missed the short one to take a five and was three down.

The Atlantan, former Western Amateur and National Intercollegiate champion, then started his rally which netted him five wins out of the remaining eight holes.

Yates, who never before had gone farther than the semi-finals of the Southern, dropped a beautiful tee shot seven feet from the cup on the short 11th and won the hole with a birdie stroke. They halved the 565-yard 12th with 58.

40-FOOT PUTT.

The Georgian rolled in a great 40-foot putt on the 13th and squared the match at the 14th where Dann's approach rolled over the back side of the green. The Floridian, using a putter, rolled his ball up the bank and 12 feet past the cup, taking a 5.

They halved the 15th with 48, Yates barely missing a four-footer for a birdie three holes in a row. The Atlantan went one up at the 16th, where Dann, after making a great wood second shot from the rough to within 15 feet of the cup, putted four feet past and missed.

Both reached the 220-yard 17th with their tee shots, but Dann was 60 feet away and putted up eight feet short. Yates putted up, laying the Floridian a dead stymie. He tried to bounce his ball over with a No. 5 iron, but rolled wide and Yates ended the battle by canning his 16-inch putt.

HAAS HOLDS LEAD.

Haas, runner-up in the national intercollegiate tournament the same year Yates dropped his crown, stroked into a two-up lead over Boyd, four-time Tennessee champion, through a fine holes. Boyd dropped three holes in a row by three-putting, but won the 5th when he almost holed out a 150-yard spade-mashie shot for an eagle.

The Tennessean pulled up to within a hole of the Louisianian at the water-hole 11th as Haas drove his tee shot into the hole, but lost the 12th when Freddie rammed down an 18-foot putt for a birdie. They halved the next four holes in par and Haas ended the tussle at the 17th where Boyd pushed his tee shot into a trap.

Results of Matches In Lower Flights.

CHARLOTTE, N. C., June 18.—Results of matches in the lower flights of the Southern amateur golf tournament: SECOND FLIGHT. Charles Conner, defeated Darden Hamilton, Chattanooga, Tenn., default; Sut Alexander, Charlotte, defeated John Cummins, Memphis, default; Al Dowlin, Wake Forest, N. C., defeated Ed Michaels, Greensboro, N. C., default; Tommy Barnes, Atlanta, defeated Jack Heath, Charlotte, default; Crawford Johnson, Charleston, S. C., defeated Lew Oehmg, Chattanooga, one up; Lewis Johnson, Charleston, S. C., defeated Montgomery, Ala., defeated Vincent D'Antoni, New Orleans, default.

QUARTER-FINALS. Conner won on default. Alexander defeated Dowlin, 3 and 2. Balfwater defeated Barnes, 3 and 2. Doe defeated Johnson, 3 and 2.

SEMI-FINALS. Alexander defeated Conner, default. Balfwater defeated Doe, 19 holes.

THIRD FLIGHT. Raymond Pittman, Fayetteville, N. C., defeated T. R. Brem, Charlotte, 3 and 2. Dick Hackett, Rome, Ga., defeated W. B.

Continued on Second Sports Page.

WHITES with a Punch $5

Remember Dad on Father's Day

VITALITY shoes

The Tampa—Sueded calf with smart punched pattern—leather sole and heel.

Sizes 6 to 12—A to D Widths.

STREET FLOOR BALCONY

MAIL SERVICE

RICH'S

Baseball's BIG SIX

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.

Chuck Klein, the Phillies' clouting outfielder, and Cecil Travis, Washington infielder, passed the times-at-bat minimum today and climbed into baseball's big six in hitting. Klein, hitting two for four today in a 4-0 season average, advanced to second place in the National league behind Ducky Medwick, of the Cardinals. Travis, although going hitless today, boosted his at-bat total to 101 to take third place in the American league with 396, trailing Lou Gehrig and Beau Bell.

Standings of the leaders (first three in each league):

Player-Team	ab.	r.	h.	per.
Medwick, Cardinals	50	18	34	.680
Gehrig, Yankees	50	18	34	.680
Klein, Phillies	33	10	23	.697
Laughton, Pirates	30	10	20	.667
Bell, Browns	51	20	33	.647
Travis, Senators	29	10	12	.377

Prothro Predicts Slump for Pebs

NASHVILLE, Tenn., June 18.—(P)—Confident but not cocky, Doctor James Thompson Prothro predicted today the worst was yet to come for his league-leading Little Rock club in their spectacular battle for the Southern Association pennant.

"Certainly, we'll have a slump," he said.

"It's inevitable. In fact, we are in just a bit of a slump now. I expected it to come after the series with Memphis. We have fallen off in our hitting, but we'll be all right."

He declined to name any club as the most likely to knock his boys off the loop pinnacle.

But he looks for a great stretch race.

"Say, this Nashville club isn't out of it by any means," he explained. "They are dangerous, and so are Memphis, Atlanta, New Orleans and Birmingham."

Softball

DEKALB COUNTY MEN'S LEAGUE. Halcyon Tire Co. 000 000-3 4 1 Oakhurst Presbyterian 004 000-6 7 1 Wallace and Lynch; Richards and Bowen.

Stone Mountain 420 000-6 6 7 1 Fern Crest Dairy 000 000-0 4 4 Wiggins and Williams; V. Bergquist, C. Bergquist and Blackwell.

TONIGHT'S GAMES. 7:30 P. M.—Oakhurst Presbyterian vs. Kirkwood Baptist. 8:30 P. M.—Stone Mountain vs. Oakhurst Baptist.

Baker-Robinson Bout Is Delayed by Rain

LINDALE, Ga., June 18.—The ten-round fight between Sergeant Sammy Baker, of New York, and Dummy Robinson, of Huntsville, Ala., scheduled for the Lindale baseball park tonight, was postponed until tomorrow. Kid Howren, of Cartersville, fights Grady Gentry, of Dalton, in the semi-finals.

NEW Motorola AUTO RADIO

NEW Revolutionary FEATURES

COME IN

Ask Us to Demonstrate the Thrilling New "ACOUSTINATOR" Personal Preference Selector

Improved "Magic Eliminator" NO SPARK SUPPRESSORS

MATCHES THE DASH OF YOUR CAR.

PRIOR OFFERS EASY TERMS!

DONT CUSS—PHONE US

PRIOR TIRE CO.

Atlanta's Largest One-Stop Service Station

Peachtree at Pine WA. 9876

WE NEVER CLOSE

Michaels Holds Pelicans to Six Hits But Crackers Lose, 3-2

Hubbell Kayoed 6th Time in Row, Giants Losing, 5 to 3

ATLANTA SCORES TWO RUNS IN 3RD FOR EARLY LEAD

Lipscomb, George Lead Attack; Hooks, Mauldin Get Two Hits.

HEINEMANN PARK, NEW ORLEANS, June 18.—The Pelicans spotted the Crackers two hits Friday night and still beat the champions 3 to 2 in the opening game of their series of four.

Hugo Klaerner, who drew on a Pelican uniform only a few weeks ago came up with a splendid brand of route-going pitching, stopping Atlanta with eight hits and experiencing only one bad round.

John Lefty Michaels, whose nickname should be enough to make the Birds quaking in their boots, outpitched Hugo in the matter of baselines—giving the Pelicans six hits but his wildness in the two Pels' scoring innings was his undoing.

LIPSCOMB STARS.
The lower end of the Pelican batting order provided all of the fireworks. "Greek" George smashed out a triple with two aboard in the fourth and Nig Lipscomb, an ex-Cracker, socked home the winning run in the sixth with a timely single.

The Pels and Crackers will resume their series this afternoon at 3 o'clock, playing a single game. Either Miller or Durham will pitch for the Crackers with Bill Perrin working for New Orleans. Triples under the scoreboard in center field figured in the first scoring spree of both clubs and the ultimate damage was the same two runs.

Marshall Mauldin opened the Cracker third with a three-bagger over Milt Galatzer's head and came trooping home on Luby's single to center, after Michaels had lobbed to the box. Hill's single in center sent Luby to second and he scored on Hooks' blow to the same garden, although Galatzer's fine throw cut down Hill at third. Hooks went out stealing to end the round.

PELS TIE SCORE.
Two down, two to go. The Pelicans got around to tying the score in the fourth. Bettencourt was hit on the leg by one of Michaels' wild pitches and Lipscomb drove him to second with a single to left. Then Greek George lashed the ball under the scoreboard to drive in Bettencourt and Lipscomb. He did at third when Klaerner struck out.

A double-play cut off a Pelican rally in the sixth inning but not before the Birds had gotten a run and taken the lead, 3 to 2. With one out, Grims walked, went to second when Bettencourt scratched one to third and scored on Lipscomb's single to left field. Then came the twin killing, Michaels deflecting the ball to Chatham, who got Lipscomb at second and threw out George, the fourth inning hero.

The Box Score
ATLANTA—ab. r. h. o. a. e. g. 1. Hill, 2b. 4. 0. 1. 0. 0. 0. 0. 2. Luby, 1b. 4. 0. 2. 0. 0. 0. 0. 3. Michaels, 3b. 4. 0. 2. 0. 0. 0. 0. 4. Hooks, 2b. 4. 0. 1. 0. 0. 0. 0. 5. Mauldin, cf. 3. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 6. Lipscomb, p. 3. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 7. Betten-
court, 1b. 3. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 8. Galatzer, 2b. 3. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 9. Grims, 1b. 3. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 10. Lipscomb, 2b. 3. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 11. George, 3b. 3. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 12. Klaerner, p. 3. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 13. Betten-
court, 1b. 3. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 14. Galatzer, 2b. 3. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 15. Grims, 1b. 3. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 16. Lipscomb, 2b. 3. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 17. George, 3b. 3. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 18. Klaerner, p. 3. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 19. Betten-
court, 1b. 3. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 20. Galatzer, 2b. 3. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 21. Grims, 1b. 3. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 22. Lipscomb, 2b. 3. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 23. George, 3b. 3. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 24. Klaerner, p. 3. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 25. Betten-
court, 1b. 3. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 26. Galatzer, 2b. 3. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 27. Grims, 1b. 3. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 28. Lipscomb, 2b. 3. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 29. George, 3b. 3. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 30. Klaerner, p. 3. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 31. Betten-
court, 1b. 3. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 32. Galatzer, 2b. 3. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 33. Grims, 1b. 3. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 34. Lipscomb, 2b. 3. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 35. George, 3b. 3. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 36. Klaerner, p. 3. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 37. Betten-
court, 1b. 3. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 38. Galatzer, 2b. 3. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 39. Grims, 1b. 3. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 40. Lipscomb, 2b. 3. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 41. George, 3b. 3. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 42. Klaerner, p. 3. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 43. Betten-
court, 1b. 3. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 44. Galatzer, 2b. 3. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 45. Grims, 1b. 3. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 46. Lipscomb, 2b. 3. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 47. George, 3b. 3. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 48. Klaerner, p. 3. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 49. Betten-
court, 1b. 3. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 50. Galatzer, 2b. 3. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 51. Grims, 1b. 3. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 52. Lipscomb, 2b. 3. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 53. George, 3b. 3. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 54. Klaerner, p. 3. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 55. Betten-
court, 1b. 3. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 56. Galatzer, 2b. 3. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 57. Grims, 1b. 3. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 58. Lipscomb, 2b. 3. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 59. George, 3b. 3. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 60. Klaerner, p. 3. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 61. Betten-
court, 1b. 3. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 62. Galatzer, 2b. 3. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 63. Grims, 1b. 3. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 64. Lipscomb, 2b. 3. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 65. George, 3b. 3. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 66. Klaerner, p. 3. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 67. Betten-
court, 1b. 3. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 68. Galatzer, 2b. 3. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 69. Grims, 1b. 3. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 70. Lipscomb, 2b. 3. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 71. George, 3b. 3. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 72. Klaerner, p. 3. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 73. Betten-
court, 1b. 3. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 74. Galatzer, 2b. 3. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 75. Grims, 1b. 3. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 76. Lipscomb, 2b. 3. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 77. George, 3b. 3. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 78. Klaerner, p. 3. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 79. Betten-
court, 1b. 3. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 80. Galatzer, 2b. 3. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 81. Grims, 1b. 3. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 82. Lipscomb, 2b. 3. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 83. George, 3b. 3. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 84. Klaerner, p. 3. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 85. Betten-
court, 1b. 3. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 86. Galatzer, 2b. 3. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 87. Grims, 1b. 3. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 88. Lipscomb, 2b. 3. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 89. George, 3b. 3. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 90. Klaerner, p. 3. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 91. Betten-
court, 1b. 3. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 92. Galatzer, 2b. 3. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 93. Grims, 1b. 3. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 94. Lipscomb, 2b. 3. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 95. George, 3b. 3. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 96. Klaerner, p. 3. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 97. Betten-
court, 1b. 3. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 98. Galatzer, 2b. 3. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 99. Grims, 1b. 3. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 100. Lipscomb, 2b. 3. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 101. George, 3b. 3. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 102. Klaerner, p. 3. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 103. Betten-
court, 1b. 3. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 104. Galatzer, 2b. 3. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 105. Grims, 1b. 3. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 106. Lipscomb, 2b. 3. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 107. George, 3b. 3. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 108. Klaerner, p. 3. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 109. Betten-
court, 1b. 3. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 110. Galatzer, 2b. 3. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 111. Grims, 1b. 3. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 112. Lipscomb, 2b. 3. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 113. George, 3b. 3. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 114. Klaerner, p. 3. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 115. Betten-
court, 1b. 3. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 116. Galatzer, 2b. 3. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 117. Grims, 1b. 3. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 118. Lipscomb, 2b. 3. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 119. George, 3b. 3. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 120. Klaerner, p. 3. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 121. Betten-
court, 1b. 3. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 122. Galatzer, 2b. 3. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 123. Grims, 1b. 3. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 124. Lipscomb, 2b. 3. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 125. George, 3b. 3. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 126. Klaerner, p. 3. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 127. Betten-
court, 1b. 3. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 128. Galatzer, 2b. 3. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 129. Grims, 1b. 3. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 130. Lipscomb, 2b. 3. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 131. George, 3b. 3. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 132. Klaerner, p. 3. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 133. Betten-
court, 1b. 3. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 134. Galatzer, 2b. 3. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 135. Grims, 1b. 3. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 136. Lipscomb, 2b. 3. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 137. George, 3b. 3. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 138. Klaerner, p. 3. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 139. Betten-
court, 1b. 3. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 140. Galatzer, 2b. 3. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 141. Grims, 1b. 3. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 142. Lipscomb, 2b. 3. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 143. George, 3b. 3. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 144. Klaerner, p. 3. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 145. Betten-
court, 1b. 3. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 146. Galatzer, 2b. 3. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 147. Grims, 1b. 3. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 148. Lipscomb, 2b. 3. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 149. George, 3b. 3. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 150. Klaerner, p. 3. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 151. Betten-
court, 1b. 3. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 152. Galatzer, 2b. 3. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 153. Grims, 1b. 3. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 154. Lipscomb, 2b. 3. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 155. George, 3b. 3. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 156. Klaerner, p. 3. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 157. Betten-
court, 1b. 3. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 158. Galatzer, 2b. 3. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 159. Grims, 1b. 3. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 160. Lipscomb, 2b. 3. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 161. George, 3b. 3. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 162. Klaerner, p. 3. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 163. Betten-
court, 1b. 3. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 164. Galatzer, 2b. 3. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 165. Grims, 1b. 3. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 166. Lipscomb, 2b. 3. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 167. George, 3b. 3. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 168. Klaerner, p. 3. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 169. Betten-
court, 1b. 3. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 170. Galatzer, 2b. 3. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 171. Grims, 1b. 3. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 172. Lipscomb, 2b. 3. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 173. George, 3b. 3. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 174. Klaerner, p. 3. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 175. Betten-
court, 1b. 3. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 176. Galatzer, 2b. 3. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 177. Grims, 1b. 3. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 178. Lipscomb, 2b. 3. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 179. George, 3b. 3. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 180. Klaerner, p. 3. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 181. Betten-
court, 1b. 3. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 182. Galatzer, 2b. 3. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 183. Grims, 1b. 3. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 184. Lipscomb, 2b. 3. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 185. George, 3b. 3. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 186. Klaerner, p. 3. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 187. Betten-
court, 1b. 3. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 188. Galatzer, 2b. 3. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 189. Grims, 1b. 3. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 190. Lipscomb, 2b. 3. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 191. George, 3b. 3. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 192. Klaerner, p. 3. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 193. Betten-
court, 1b. 3. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 194. Galatzer, 2b. 3. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 195. Grims, 1b. 3. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 196. Lipscomb, 2b. 3. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 197. George, 3b. 3. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 198. Klaerner, p. 3. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 199. Betten-
court, 1b. 3. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 200. Galatzer, 2b. 3. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 201. Grims, 1b. 3. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 202. Lipscomb, 2b. 3. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 203. George, 3b. 3. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 204. Klaerner, p. 3. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 205. Betten-
court, 1b. 3. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 206. Galatzer, 2b. 3. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 207. Grims, 1b. 3. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 208. Lipscomb, 2b. 3. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 209. George, 3b. 3. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 210. Klaerner, p. 3. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 211. Betten-
court, 1b. 3. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 212. Galatzer, 2b. 3. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 213. Grims, 1b. 3. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 214. Lipscomb, 2b. 3. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 215. George, 3b. 3. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 216. Klaerner, p. 3. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 217. Betten-
court, 1b. 3. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 218. Galatzer, 2b. 3. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 219. Grims, 1b. 3. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 220. Lipscomb, 2b. 3. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 221. George, 3b. 3. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 222. Klaerner, p. 3. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 223. Betten-
court, 1b. 3. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 224. Galatzer, 2b. 3. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 225. Grims, 1b. 3. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 226. Lipscomb, 2b. 3. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 227. George, 3b. 3. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 228. Klaerner, p. 3. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 229. Betten-
court, 1b. 3. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 230. Galatzer, 2b. 3. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 231. Grims, 1b. 3. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 232. Lipscomb, 2b. 3. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 233. George, 3b. 3. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 234. Klaerner, p. 3. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 235. Betten-
court, 1b. 3. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 236. Galatzer, 2b. 3. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 237. Grims, 1b. 3. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 238. Lipscomb, 2b. 3. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 239. George, 3b. 3. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 240. Klaerner, p. 3. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 241. Betten-
court, 1b. 3. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 242. Galatzer, 2b. 3. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 243. Grims, 1b. 3. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 244. Lipscomb, 2b. 3. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 245. George, 3b. 3. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 246. Klaerner, p. 3. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 247. Betten-
court, 1b. 3. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 248. Galatzer, 2b. 3. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 249. Grims, 1b. 3. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 250. Lipscomb, 2b. 3. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 251. George, 3b. 3. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 252. Klaerner, p. 3. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 253. Betten-
court, 1b. 3. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 254. Galatzer, 2b. 3. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 255. Grims, 1b. 3. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 256. Lipscomb, 2b. 3. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 257. George, 3b. 3. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 258. Klaerner, p. 3. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 259. Betten-
court, 1b. 3. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 260. Galatzer, 2b. 3. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 261. Grims, 1b. 3. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 262. Lipscomb, 2b. 3. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 263. George, 3b. 3. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 264. Klaerner, p. 3. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 265. Betten-
court, 1b. 3. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 266. Galatzer, 2b. 3. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 267. Grims, 1b. 3. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 268. Lipscomb, 2b. 3. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 269. George, 3b. 3. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 270. Klaerner, p. 3. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 271. Betten-
court, 1b. 3. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 272. Galatzer, 2b. 3. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 273. Grims, 1b. 3. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 274. Lipscomb, 2b. 3. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 275. George, 3b. 3. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 276. Klaerner, p. 3. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 277. Betten-
court, 1b. 3. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 278. Galatzer, 2b. 3. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 279. Grims, 1b. 3. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 280. Lipscomb, 2b. 3. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 281. George, 3b. 3. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 282. Klaerner, p. 3. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 283. Betten-
court, 1b. 3. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 284. Galatzer, 2b. 3. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 285. Grims, 1b. 3. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 286. Lipscomb, 2b. 3. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 287. George, 3b. 3. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 288. Klaerner, p. 3. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 289. Betten-
court, 1b. 3. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 290. Galatzer, 2b. 3. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 291. Grims, 1b. 3. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 292. Lipscomb, 2b. 3. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 293. George, 3b. 3. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 294. Klaerner, p. 3. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 295. Betten-
court, 1b. 3. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 296. Galatzer, 2b. 3. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 297. Grims, 1b. 3. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 298. Lipscomb, 2b. 3. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 299. George, 3b. 3. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 300. Klaerner, p. 3. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 301. Betten-
court, 1b. 3. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 302. Galatzer, 2b. 3. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 303. Grims, 1b. 3. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 304. Lipscomb, 2b. 3. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 305. George, 3b. 3. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 306. Klaerner, p. 3. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 307. Betten-
court, 1b. 3. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 308. Galatzer, 2b. 3. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 309. Grims, 1b. 3. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 310. Lipscomb, 2b. 3. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 311. George, 3b. 3. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 312. Klaerner, p. 3. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 313. Betten-
court, 1b. 3. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 314. Galatzer, 2b. 3. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 315. Grims, 1b. 3. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 316. Lipscomb, 2b. 3. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 317. George, 3b. 3. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 318. Klaerner, p. 3. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 319. Betten-
court, 1b. 3. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 320. Galatzer, 2b. 3. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 321. Grims, 1b. 3. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 322. Lipscomb, 2b. 3. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 323. George, 3b. 3. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 324. Klaerner, p. 3. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 325. Betten-
court, 1b. 3. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 326. Galatzer, 2b. 3. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 327. Grims, 1b. 3. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 328. Lipscomb, 2b. 3. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 329. George, 3b. 3. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 330. Klaerner, p. 3. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 331. Betten-
court, 1b. 3. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 332. Galatzer, 2b. 3. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 333. Grims, 1b. 3. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 334. Lipscomb, 2b. 3. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 335. George, 3b. 3. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 336. Klaerner, p. 3. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 337. Betten-
court, 1b. 3. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 338. Galatzer, 2b. 3. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 0. 339. Grims, 1b. 3

THE GUMPS—DOLLARS AND SENSE

LITTLE ORPHAN ANNIE—ALL IN FUN

MOON MULLINS—THE BOYS GO IN FOR A LITTLE TRAINING

DICK TRACY—MEN WANTED

JANE ARDEN—On the Mark

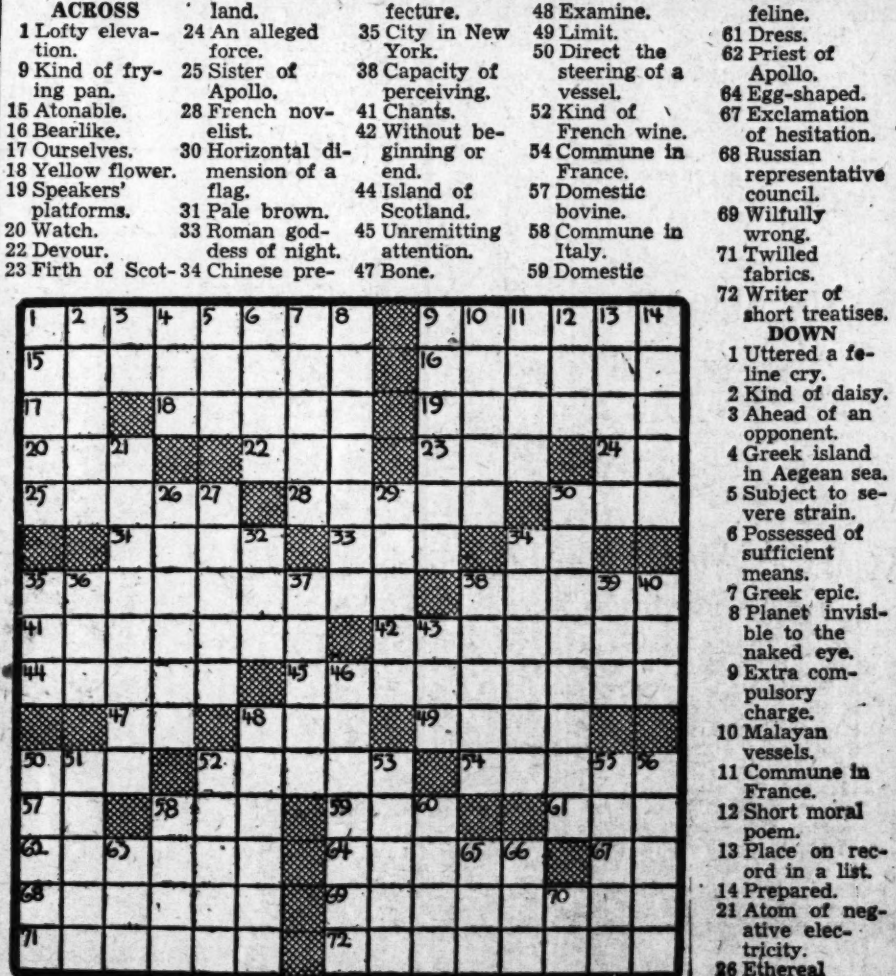

By Monte Barrett and Russell Ross

SMITTY—AIN'T IT THE TRUTH

CONSTITUTION'S DAILY CROSS WORD PUZZLE

ANITA LOOS' SARATOGA

Illustrated by Vincentini

INSTALLMENT XXVI

Again she wanted to weep. She also wanted to burst out laughing. She was not the hysterical type, but at that moment she knew she must put up a fight to keep from acting like a neurotic woman, who had lost all control of herself.

"I'm all right," she said. "What's a little coughing spell, anyway? Nothing to get excited about."

"What you don't know about yourself is a plenty," he said. "I say you are not all right. And I'm the master here and I'm going right on being that. Do I make myself plain?"

"In part," she said. She was wishing he would make himself plain on other things—the important things—as he had done in his orders to her. But he gave no sign that he remembered what she had said; he acted as if his one interest in her was to cure her cold.

She knew she should leave well enough alone. Perhaps she would regret always that she had not taken advantage of his attitude to save her pride. But she was beyond caring about that. Only one thing in the world mattered now. She must know whether he loved her, whether there was any use hoping he ever would love her. She would not tell him again she loved him. It would not be fair to him if he could not say to her the same words. Suddenly her eyes fell on the crumpled papers on which she had been writing. She reached out her hand and picked up the last sheet on which she had written.

"I'll be good," she said softly. "But I want to tell you something. I'm writing Hartley—breaking our engagement."

"What's that?" he cried in astonishment.

"I know you think I've been talking wild words, didn't know what I was saying. But I do know what I'm saying, Duke. This isn't anything I'm saying because I have fever—if I have any. I've been intending to do it for days."

"You mean—" he gasped.

"I mean I'm through with him. It's all over. We'll never see him again, I hope."

"He—he won't be in Saratoga?"

"No. He'll get this in New York. I've made it absolutely final. There won't be any reason for his coming to Saratoga."

Duke didn't speak. He couldn't. Always quick of tongue, never failing to better any emergency, jauntily taking any loss—now he was silent. This was, he knew, the crucial moment in his life. It wasn't only that he had been so content a moment before that he would win enough on the Hopeful Stakes to leave the tracks behind him forever. It was more than that. Even to himself he had not admitted that he was almost flat broke—he had used the euphemism that he was desperately in need of money. But Carol's words had shattered his optimism.

There was a dead heavy silence in the room. Then the door opened and Rosetta, with a beaming smile, came in. She was carrying a tray with two glasses of orange juice on it.

"Here I am," she announced. "I brought—"

She stopped suddenly. This was not what she had expected to find. Neither of them looked at her. They were glaring at each other like strange unfriendly animals, waiting to claw each other to pieces.

"I can't do this to YOU?" Carol spat the words out at Duke. Her eyes were hostile as she started to rise from the bed. He had sunk on the rumpled bed, and she stood above him glaring down at him. "I can't do this to YOU?" she repeated. "What can't I do to you?"

"Lose Madison now," he cried. "Why I've waited five whole months for this, I've counted on him for the Hopeful. He's my one chance to get even! You can't do this to me!"

There was another silence, shattered only by her violent breathing. Again she felt that murderous desire in her heart. Then suddenly she threw back her head and a loud, bitter laugh, hideous with hatred, rattled through the little room.

"So I can't do this to you! Well, how do you like that!"

"What's the matter," he cried stupidly.

"So, all along, I've been a come-on—a steer-broad, that's all."

"What'd you think I am?" he shouted. "Someone you can stall for a whole year and then leave holding the bag?"

"A come-on!" repeated Carol, her fury increasing with every word Duke said. "I, Carol Clayton—I—a steer-broad."

She broke off as another paroxysm of coughing tore through her. "Get back into bed," commanded Duke.

"Get out of my room!" shrieked Carol between coughs. Duke left the change in him and her heart had sung with joy. She had taken a desperate chance in telling him she loved him, but she could do nothing else. All the barriers between them had to be broken down and she alone could break them. Now they were down.

She waited, unafraid, for him to speak. She thought it only natural that he should not say those words at once, when she had made it clear that she had meant all she had said. All her love was written in her face, as she held out her hands to him. The letter was in them. It was the symbol that she had broken with the past, that the future belonged to Duke.

"Did you hear me, dear?" she asked softly, as he still stared at her. "Do you understand that I'm through with Hartley, forever?"

Then he spoke.

"You can't do this to me!"

She thought she had not understood. Surely he had not said those angry words. She drew in her breath sharply. Now it was she who could not speak.

"I won't let you gum up the works," he said. "Now when I have everything right where I want it! I'll be ruined! Ruined, I tell you! You can't do this to me."

He had said them! Crashing ruthlessly through her hopes, her dreams, her love, came those hateful, bitter words. She felt as if she were frozen, and then she glowed with a throbbing anger. She wished that she could kill him. If she had been mistaken in thinking he loved her, she might have faced it. Other women, from the beginning of time, had had to bear that hurt. But to be humiliated in this way, was more than any human being should be asked to bear.

There was a dead heavy silence in the room. Then the door opened and Rosetta, with a beaming smile, came in. She was carrying a tray with two glasses of orange juice on it.

"Here I am," she announced. "I brought—"

She stopped suddenly. This was not what she had expected to find. Neither of them looked at her. They were glaring at each other like strange unfriendly animals, waiting to claw each other to pieces.

"I can't do this to YOU?" Carol spat the words out at Duke. Her eyes were hostile as she started to rise from the bed. He had sunk on the rumpled bed, and she stood above him glaring down at him. "I can't do this to YOU?" she repeated. "What can't I do to you?"

"Lose Madison now," he cried. "Why I've waited five whole months for this, I've counted on him for the Hopeful. He's my one chance to get even! You can't do this to me!"

There was another silence, shattered only by her violent breathing. Again she felt that murderous desire in her heart. Then suddenly she threw back her head and a loud, bitter laugh, hideous with hatred, rattled through the little room.

"So I can't do this to you! Well, how do you like that!"

"What's the matter," he cried stupidly.

"So, all along, I've been a come-on—a steer-broad, that's all."

"What'd you think I am?" he shouted. "Someone you can stall for a whole year and then leave holding the bag?"

"A come-on!" repeated Carol, her fury increasing with every word Duke said. "I, Carol Clayton—I—a steer-broad."

She broke off as another paroxysm of coughing tore through her. "Get back into bed," commanded Duke.

"Get out of my room!" shrieked Carol between coughs. Duke left the change in him and her heart had sung with joy. She had taken a desperate chance in telling him she loved him, but she could do nothing else. All the barriers between them had to be broken down and she alone could break them. Now they were down.

She waited, unafraid, for him to speak. She thought it only natural that he should not say those words at once, when she had made it clear that she had meant all she had said. All her love was written in her face, as she held out her hands to him. The letter was in them. It was the symbol that she had broken with the past, that the future belonged to Duke.

"Did you hear me, dear?" she asked softly, as he still stared at her. "Do you understand that I'm through with Hartley, forever?"

Then he spoke.

"You can't do this to me!"

She thought she had not understood. Surely he had not said those angry words. She drew in her breath sharply. Now it was she who could not speak.

"I won't let you gum up the works," he said. "Now when I have everything right where I want it! I'll be ruined! Ruined, I tell you! You can't do this to me."

He had said them! Crashing ruthlessly through her hopes, her dreams, her love, came those hateful, bitter words. She felt as if she were frozen, and then she glowed with a throbbing anger. She wished that she could kill him. If she had been mistaken in thinking he loved her, she might have faced it. Other women, from the beginning of time, had had to bear that hurt. But to be humiliated in this way, was more than any human being should be asked to bear.

There was a dead heavy silence in the room. Then the door opened and Rosetta, with a beaming smile, came in. She was carrying a tray with two glasses of orange juice on it.

"Here I am," she announced. "I brought—"

She stopped suddenly. This was not what she had expected to find. Neither of them looked at her. They were glaring at each other like strange unfriendly animals, waiting to claw each other to pieces.

"I can't do this to YOU?" Carol spat the words out at Duke. Her eyes were hostile as she started to rise from the bed. He had sunk on the rumpled bed, and she stood above him glaring down at him. "I can't do this to YOU?" she repeated. "What can't I do to you?"

"Lose Madison now," he cried. "Why I've waited five whole months for this, I've counted on him for the Hopeful. He's my one chance to get even! You can't do this to me!"

There was another silence, shattered only by her violent breathing. Again she felt that murderous desire in her heart. Then suddenly she threw back her head and a loud, bitter laugh, hideous with hatred, rattled through the little room.

"So I can't do this to you! Well, how do you like that!"

"What's the matter," he cried stupidly.

"So, all along, I've been a come-on—a steer-broad, that's all."

"What'd you think I am?" he shouted. "Someone you can stall for a whole year and then leave holding the bag?"

"A come-on!" repeated Carol, her fury increasing with every word Duke said. "I, Carol Clayton—I—a steer-broad."

She broke off as another paroxysm of coughing tore through her. "Get back into bed," commanded Duke.

"Get out of my room!" shrieked Carol between coughs. Duke left the change in him and her heart had sung with joy. She had taken a desperate chance in telling him she loved him, but she could do nothing else. All the barriers between them had to be broken down and she alone could break them. Now they were down.

She waited, unafraid, for him to speak. She thought it only natural that he should not say those words at once, when she had made it clear that she had meant all she had said. All her love was written in her face, as she held out her hands to him. The letter was in them. It was the symbol that she had broken with the past, that the future belonged to Duke.

"Did you hear me, dear?" she asked softly, as he still stared at her. "Do you understand that I'm through with Hartley, forever?"

Then he spoke.

"You can't do this to me!"

She thought she had not understood. Surely he had not said those angry words. She drew in her breath sharply. Now it was she who could not speak.

"I won't let you gum up the works," he said. "Now when I have everything right where I want it! I'll be ruined! Ruined, I tell you! You can't do this to me."

He had said them! Crashing ruthlessly through her hopes, her dreams, her love, came those hateful, bitter words. She felt as if she were frozen, and then she glowed with a throbbing anger. She wished that she could kill him. If she had been mistaken in thinking he loved her, she might have faced it. Other women, from the beginning of time, had had to bear that hurt. But to be humiliated in this way, was more than any human being should be asked to bear.

There was a dead heavy silence in the room. Then the door opened and Rosetta, with a beaming smile, came in. She was carrying a tray with two glasses of orange juice on it.

"Here I am," she announced. "I brought—"

She stopped suddenly. This was not what she had expected to find. Neither of them looked at her. They were glaring at each other like strange unfriendly animals, waiting to claw each other to pieces.

"I can't do this to YOU?" Carol spat the words out at Duke. Her eyes were hostile as she started to rise from the bed. He had sunk on the rumpled bed, and she stood above him glaring down at him. "I can't do this to YOU?" she repeated. "What can't I do to you?"

"Lose Madison now," he cried. "Why I've waited five whole months for this, I've counted on him for the Hopeful. He's my one chance to get even! You can't do this to me!"

There was another silence, shattered only by her violent breathing. Again she felt that murderous desire in her heart. Then suddenly she threw back her head and a loud, bitter laugh, hideous with hatred, rattled through the little room.

"So I can't do this to you! Well, how do you like that!"

"What's the matter," he cried stupidly.

"So, all along, I've been a come-on—a steer-broad, that's all."

"What'd you think I am?" he shouted. "Someone you can stall for a whole year and then leave holding the bag?"

"A come-on!" repeated Carol, her fury increasing with every word Duke said. "I, Carol Clayton—I—a steer-broad."

She broke off as another paroxysm of coughing tore through her. "Get back into bed," commanded Duke.

"Get out of my room!" shrieked Carol between coughs. Duke left the change in him and her heart had sung with joy. She had taken a desperate chance in telling him she loved him, but she could do nothing else. All the barriers between them had to be broken down and she alone could break them. Now they were down.

She waited, unafraid, for him to speak. She thought it only natural that he should not say those words at once, when she had made it clear that she had meant all she had said. All her love was written in her face, as she held out her hands to him. The letter was in them. It was the symbol that she had broken with the past, that the future belonged to Duke.

"Did you hear me, dear?" she asked softly, as he still stared at her. "Do you understand that I'm through with Hartley, forever?"

Then he spoke.

"You can't do this to me!"

She thought she had not understood. Surely he had not said those angry words. She drew in her breath sharply. Now it was she who could not speak.

"I won't let you gum up the works," he said. "Now when I have everything right where I want it! I'll be ruined! Ruined, I tell you! You can't do this to me."

He had said them! Crashing ruthlessly through her hopes, her dreams, her love, came those hateful, bitter words. She felt as if she were frozen, and then she glowed with a throbbing anger. She wished that she could kill him. If she had been mistaken in thinking he loved her, she might have faced it. Other women, from the beginning of time, had had to bear that hurt. But to be humiliated in this way, was more than any human being should be asked to bear.

There was a dead heavy silence in the room. Then the door opened and Rosetta, with a beaming smile, came in. She was carrying a tray with two glasses of orange juice on it.

"Here I am," she announced. "I brought—"

She stopped suddenly. This was not what she had expected to find. Neither of them looked at her. They were glaring at each other like strange unfriendly animals, waiting to claw each other to pieces.

"I can't do this to YOU?" Carol spat the words out at Duke. Her eyes were hostile as she started to rise from the bed. He had sunk on the rumpled bed, and she stood above him glaring down at him. "I can't do this to YOU?" she repeated. "What can't I do to you?"

"Lose Madison now," he cried. "Why I've waited five whole months for this, I've counted on him for the Hopeful. He's my one chance to get even! You can't do this to me!"

There was another silence, shattered only by her violent breathing. Again she felt that murderous desire in her heart. Then suddenly she threw back her head and a loud, bitter laugh, hideous with hatred, rattled through the little room.

"So I can't do this to you! Well, how do you like that!"

"What's the matter," he cried stupidly.

"So, all along, I've been a come-on—a steer-broad, that's all."

"What'd you think I am?" he shouted. "Someone you can stall for a whole year and then leave holding the bag?"

"A come-on!" repeated Carol, her fury increasing with every word Duke said. "I, Carol Clayton—I—a steer-broad."

She broke off as another paroxysm of coughing tore through her. "Get back into bed," commanded Duke.

"Get out of my room!" shrieked Carol between coughs. Duke left the change in him and her heart had sung with joy. She had taken a desperate chance in telling him she loved him, but she could do nothing else. All the barriers between them had to be broken down and she alone could break them. Now they were down.

She waited, unafraid, for him to speak. She thought it only natural that he should not say those words at once, when she had made it clear that she had meant all she had said. All her love was written in her face, as she held out her hands to him. The letter was in them. It was the symbol that she had broken with the past, that the future belonged to Duke.

"Did you hear me, dear?" she asked softly, as he still stared at her. "Do you understand that I'm through with Hartley, forever?"

Then he spoke.

"You can't do this to me!"

She thought she had not understood. Surely he had not said those angry words. She drew in her breath sharply. Now it was she who could not speak.

"I won't let you gum up the works," he said. "Now when I have everything right where I want it! I'll be ruined! Ruined, I tell you! You can't do this to me."

He had said them! Crashing ruthlessly through her hopes, her dreams, her love, came those hateful, bitter words. She felt as if she were frozen, and then she glowed with a throbbing anger. She wished that she could kill him. If she had been mistaken in thinking he loved her, she might have faced it. Other women, from the beginning of time, had had to bear that hurt. But to be humiliated in this way, was more than any human being should be asked to bear.

There was a dead heavy silence in the room. Then the door opened and Rosetta, with a beaming smile, came in. She was carrying a tray with two glasses of orange juice on it.

"Here I am," she announced. "I brought—"

She stopped suddenly. This was not what she had expected to find. Neither of them looked at her. They were glaring at each other like strange unfriendly animals, waiting to claw each other to pieces.

"I can't do this to YOU?" Carol spat the words out at Duke. Her eyes were hostile as she started to rise from the bed. He had sunk on the rumpled bed, and she stood above him glaring down at him. "I can't do this to YOU?" she repeated. "What can't I do to you?"

"Lose Madison now," he cried. "Why I've waited five whole months for this, I've counted on him for the Hopeful. He's my one chance to get even! You can't do this to me!"

There was another silence, shattered only by her violent breathing. Again she felt that murderous desire in her heart. Then suddenly she threw back her head and a loud, bitter laugh, hideous with hatred, rattled through the little room.

"So I can't do this to you! Well, how do you like that!"

"What's the matter," he cried stupidly.

"So, all along, I've been a come-on—a steer-broad, that's all."

"What'd you think I am?" he shouted. "Someone you can stall for a whole year and then leave holding the bag?"

"A come-on!" repeated Carol, her fury increasing with every word Duke said. "I, Carol Clayton—I—a steer-broad."

She broke off as another paroxysm of coughing tore through her. "Get back into bed," commanded Duke.

"Get out of my room!" shrieked Carol between coughs. Duke left the change in him and her heart had sung with joy. She had taken a desperate chance in telling him she loved him, but she could do nothing else. All the barriers between them had to be broken down and she alone could break them. Now they were down.

She waited, unafraid, for him to speak. She thought it only natural that he should not say those words at once, when she had made it clear that she had meant all she had said. All her love was written in her face, as she held out her hands to him. The letter was in them. It was the symbol that she had broken with the past, that the future belonged to Duke.

"Did you hear me, dear?" she asked softly, as he still stared at her. "Do you understand that I'm through with Hartley, forever?"

Then he spoke.

"You can't do this to me!"

She thought she had not understood. Surely he had not said those angry words. She drew in her breath sharply. Now it was she who could not speak.

"I won't let you gum up the works," he said. "Now when I have everything right where I want it! I'll be ruined! Ruined, I tell you! You can't do this to me."

He had said them! Crashing ruthlessly through her hopes, her dreams, her love, came those hateful, bitter words. She felt as if she were frozen, and then she glowed with a throbbing anger. She wished that she could kill him. If she had been mistaken in thinking he loved her, she might have faced it. Other women, from the beginning of time, had had to bear that hurt. But to be humiliated in this way, was more than any human being should be asked to bear.

There was a dead heavy silence in the room. Then the door opened and Rosetta, with a beaming smile, came in. She was carrying a tray with two glasses of orange juice on it.

"Here I am," she announced. "I brought—"

She stopped suddenly. This was not what she had expected to find. Neither of them looked at her. They were glaring at each other like strange unfriendly animals, waiting to claw each other to pieces.

"I can't do this to YOU?" Carol spat the words out at Duke. Her eyes were hostile as she Atlanta's Greatest Mid-Summer Furniture Event!

Sterchi's June Jubilee Sales!

Dramatic Savings
In Every Department!

Upholstered in Brocatelle

A Gracious Suite of Georgian Heritage!

From the exclusive 4th Floor we choose this particular design as representative of the excellent values offered in GOOD furniture at June Jubilee prices. Many other outstanding period reproductions await your selection there.

109⁵⁰

LIVING ROOM DEPT., 4TH FLOOR

SUMMER FURNITURE REDUCED!

All Odd Lots Closed Out!

- 13 regular $6 Bar Harbor Chairs, reduced to $3.95
- $12.95, 9x12 Fibre Summer Rugs in gay colors, now $9.95
- Three Reclining Metal Frame Chairs, upholstered, originally $13.95, Shopworn $4.95
- 32 Unfinished Tabettes or Flower Stands, Shopworn 19c
- 2—$18.50 3-Pc. Rustic Suites for porch or lawn $11.75
- 4—Rustic Child's Chairs, Very smart for a little fellow 98c
- 7—Regular $2.50 Adjustable Beach Chairs, reduced to $1.65
- 14—Yacht Chairs with reinforced seats; originally $1.45 98c
- 9—All-Metal Refreshment Tables in brilliant colors $3.35
- 11—Metal Window Flower Boxes with drainage channel $1.19

SUMMER FURN. DEPT., 1ST FLOOR

RADIOS, REFRIGERATORS WASHERS REDUCED

New! Display Models.. Used!

- 2—1937 Stewart-Warner Consoles; brand-new models; were $39.50
- 1—1937 RCA Console Floor Sample, regularly $98.50, $29.50
- 1—1937 Stromberg-Carlson Console Floor Sample; was $139.50, $69.50
- 2—Brand-new 1937, 12-Tube Lyric Consoles, were $98.50, $39.50
- 1—11-Tube Philco, All-Wave Table Model, used $39.50
- 1—Philco Baby Grand Table Model, used; great buy at $9.50
- 1—4 Cu. Ft. Frigidaire, reconditioned refrigerator $49.50
- 1—$189.50 5 Cu. Ft. late model Grunow Refrigerator $69.50
- 1—6 Cu. Ft. Crosley Electric Refrigerator, used $54.50
- 1—4 Cu. Ft. Coldspot Electric Refrigerator, used $49.50

ELECTRICAL DEPT., 1ST FLOOR

COLONIAL
of the Deep South
The 4 Pieces Are Only
89⁵⁰

We wish we could show you an actual sample of this suite—no picture can do it justice!... we want you to feel the satin smooth maple surfaces... see its mellow, amber-gold coloring... note the painstaking skill with which each detail is attended! Bed, Vanity, Chest and Bench Included.

BEDROOM DEPT., 2ND FLOOR

Close-Out All Odd Lots of Unfinished Furniture

Made of California Redwood

50% off

- ★ Book Cases
- ★ Tea Carts
- ★ Pier Cabinets
- ★ End Tables
- ★ Corner Cabinets
- ★ Vanity Benches
- ★ Modernistic Benches
- ★ Flower Stands

ONE-HALF OFF!... All lots limited; some of only one and two of a kind! Each piece smoothly sanded; ready for painting or staining!

Exactly 42 of These $7.95
"Sun-Rest" Lounges!3⁹⁵

The swankiest porch and lawn chair that ever a tired frame was eased into! Heavily enameled hardwood; waterproof fabrics of gay summer colors! Adjust to upright or reclining positions without getting up! A bona fide $7.95 value!

Fashion Flow... Now As Low As

America's smartest bedroom furniture now available on the add-a-piece plan. Visit Fashion Flow Hall, 5th floor.

$25 EACH PIECE

A Smart New Maple Suite! 2 Pieces

New roll-front cushions for extra comfort; plaid homespun upholstery of traditional Colonial practice. Maple, third floor.

39.75

20th Century For You Moderns!

Streamlined in the American manner! Upholstered in a variety of striking fabric combinations! Living Room Dept., first floor.

67.75$5 Trade-In AllowanceFor Your Old Ice Box On A New 'Ice King!'

LOOKS LIKE AN ELECTRIC

- ★ Modern Ice Refrigerator.
- ★ Streamline Cabinet; all white and black.
- ★ Interior Lighting Available.
- ★ Ice Cuber Furnished, at small cost.

New beauty for your kitchen! Scientifically constructed to afford maximum food preservation. Heavily insulated. Trade in your old box today!

Keeps Hot or Cold!
98cTubular Frame Chair
2.95$4.95 Camp Chair
2.95Will Fold Up!
1.49$1.75 Ice Water Jar
1.00$1.95 Zipper Bags
98cOvernight Case!
1.00Awning Estimates
CALL MA. 3100

Sets in refrigerator. Chromium top; serving tray top!

Rubber-lined. Ideal for bathing and picnicking. Only $1!

Unusual bargain at $1! Modern, smart in appearance.

Awnings of every kind complete installed. Easy terms.

HOUSEWIVES
EVERYWHERE..ARE THRILLED WITH THE NEW ECONOMY OF THE WORLD'S MOST BEAUTIFUL
REFRIGERATOR...CROSLEY
SHELVADOR*3 YEARS

TO PAY FOR YOURS!

- ★ As Low As $5 Delivers!
- ★ As Low As $1 Weekly Pays!

STERCHI'S

116-120 WHITEHALL ST.

South's Largest Department Store of Home Furnishings!

Activities of Derby Day in England Described by Former Atlantan

Your Figure, Madam

By IDA JEAN KAIN.

MILK NEEDED BY THE REDUCER.

Milk bars, in London, are popping up like mushrooms, with everybody singing "Let's Have a Tidy-dle at the Milk Bar." Britishers, it seems, have taken to drinking milk like they do their tea.

This sudden popularity of milk is a distinct contrast to the dangerously low milk consumption which formerly existed in England, and is a decided step toward ward in nutrition. It was only a short time ago that a visiting nutritionist from England professed amazement at the enormous quantities of milk consumed by Americans. She was also impressed by the prevalence of beautiful teeth in this country.

The widespread use of milk in England is undoubtedly due to the work of Dr. H. C. Corry Mann, whose experiments with English school children revealed the necessity for more milk in the diet. In a four-year experiment, one group of children was given a diet adequate except milk; another group was given the same daily diet plus a pint of milk. In the first group, the average year's growth was 3.85 pounds and 1.84 inches, while in the group receiving milk the average year's gain was 6.98 pounds and 2.63 inches. Dr. Mary Swartz Rose, professor of nutrition at Columbia University, credits these and similar experiments with popularizing milk.

Milk protects both health and beauty.

In this country, milk is used extensively except by the reducer, who regards it as a fattening food. Even in the reducer's bill of fare, milk is essential. Skimmed milk, buttermilk are not fattening. They contain only half as many calories as whole milk and are equally rich in calcium and phosphorus. In fact, the safe reducing diet is based on the protective foods, which must be included in normal amounts. Besides the one or two glasses of milk daily, the reducing menu should provide a serving of lean meat, an egg, fresh vegetables in adequate amounts and a small amount of whole grain cereal, bread and butter.

Iron is the other mineral important in the diet, and is needed in normal amounts by the reducer. Women require four times as much iron as men, and even the high calorie diet may easily be deficient in this mineral. Iron is picked up bit by bit from the iron-rich foods—beef, oysters, liver, eggs, whole grains, greens and molasses. Since Vitamin C is connected with the utilization of iron in the diet, it is doubly important that a citrus fruit be used daily. Canned or fresh grapefruit, oranges, pineapple and tomato, as well as raw cabbage and potatoes, supply Vitamin C.

This emphasis on the protective foods may not be your idea of dieting but it is the only way to reduce safely. Milk is truly a protective food, for it reinforces the diet at more points than any other one food item. Children need from three to four glasses of milk daily, and adults require at least one, preferably two glasses, daily.

BALANCED REDUCING MENU.
Calories.
Orange juice 50
Soft-boiled egg 75
Toast, 1 slice 75
Butter, 1 level tsp. 33
Coffee, 1 tsp. cream, 50
1 rounded tsp. sugar 50

TOTAL LUNCHEON—
283
Fresh spinach 25
Crisp bacon, 2 strips 150
Fresh fruit salad 150
(Fruit dressing)
Hot roll 100
Butter, 1-2 pat 50
Glass of skimmed milk 80

TOTAL DINNER—
455
Lamb chop, broiled 100
French fruit potatoes 100
(8 pieces)
String beans, 1 cup 30
Butter, 1 level tsp. 33
Sliced tomato 25
Custard pie, 3-inch 200
Tea, 1 lump sugar 25

TOTAL 513

Total calories for day 1,251
Your Dietitian,
IDA JEAN KAIN.

Safeguard your health while dieting by observing the food values listed in the "Protective Diet Chart." This leaflet may be obtained by sending a self-addressed, stamped envelope to Miss Ida Jean Kain, in care of The Atlanta Constitution.
(Copyright, 1937, for The Constitution.)

Sigma Delta Chi.

Miss Mary Clonts entertained members of Sigma Delta Chi sorority at a luncheon Friday at her home on Wyman street.

Members of the sorority are Mrs. Olin Barfield Jr., president; Miss Agnes Allen, vice president; Miss Dorothy Martin, treasurer; Miss Frances Wade, secretary; Miss Allene Barron, scribe; Miss Margaret Wade, Post Morris; Juanita Moody; Mary Clonts, Mary Jane Turner, Marjorie Paris and Helen Green.

Merry Crowds at Epsom Downs for Once-a-Year Free-for-All Affair

Editor's Note: Mrs. Wallace, author of this article, who has made her home in England and France for the past six years, is the former Miss Louise Stuart Todd, of Atlanta.

By LOUISE TODD WALLACE.
LONDON, June 18.—The distractions at Epsom Downs for Derby Day are numerous and varied, suited to saint and sinner alike.

One may go all dressed up in his best and sit in a cushioned seat in a flower-bedecked stand, lunch in splendor as in his club in town, gaze upon the King and Queen and swank all over the de luxe section or—go with the crowd.

Since it is a free-for-all picnic affair, (no admission charge), why not for once in a lifetime be one of the merry crowd. In my case I did just that, and would like to invite you to come along with me next year.

I went with a friend; we booked our seats in a char-a-banc, were at the starting point at 9 a. m. Everybody arrives with baskets filled with good things to eat, thermos bottles containing tea and bottles of champagne.

Once arrived, our char-a-banc took its stand parked in the front row next the track. This was to be our "home base" for the day. It was two hours before the first race, ample time to inspect the glorified side shows, the world's most unique. There was a pathway open over the track to the paddock where pandemonium was at its height. Topsy Lee's daughters and daughters' daughters, cousins and in-laws were there in plenty to tell your fortune.

Gypsies wearing gold hook earrings and bandana headress, tight velvet bodices and full skirts, with babies in their arms, were everywhere. "You with the bonnie face something for the baby, bring you luck," they said.

One could see from afar Ras Prince Monolou with his many-colored plumes blowing in the wind and hear his soft, resonant voice as he called, "I got a horse!"

Other racing tipsters shouting and perspiring. Merry-go-rounds never still. Clown bands adding their chatter. Spangled tumblers frequently using that word that means nothing in America and is so vulgar here, "Pee-wee." Betting against the track fence where they had been since early dawn. A man near by fainting, some one offered him lemonade, his pal shouted, "You blinking blighter, what he wants is first aid!" A vulgar "Pee-wee" (each syllable accented equally) it was in bottles, no ice, just hot! I refrained. There were crumpets, scones, sausage-rolls, cucumber sandwiches, cold veal pies and sweets in profusion on unending stands. Even chewing gum!

"Well, I say she's no lady! a-capering about the Downs with a lot of g-bachelors, and half the world a-looking on!" This was the comment made by the scandalmongers about Gainsborough Lass, the only filly in the Derby.

When we had made our bets, (that is my sad story), we returned to our "home base," stood in the seats and pretended we could really distinguish the colors worn by our jockey as he sped past. All over in a second and if you were lucky this Derby Day you collected 12 to 1. A revelation—two years ago a yearling colt by Solario, Bridge of Allen, was led into the sale ring at Newmarket and was led out again unsold. Later he was privately sold and was called Midday Sun. As winner of the Derby, Midday Sun is worth 50,000 pounds ($250,000). A London astrolger in Half Moon street collected cheques amounting to 2,300 pounds ($11,500) from bookmakers on the Derby. He had his tip from the stars that Midday Sun would be the winner.

"The marriage of the Duke of Windsor with Mrs. Warfield was not only regarded with the utmost good-will, but treated with exemplary good taste by the nation as a whole. So closes the historic episode which opened with convulsive effect, which has passed without leaving behind the least trace of constitutional disturbance, quoted from one of the world's leading newspapers.

By mutual consent, news reel pictures of the wedding will not be shown in any cinema in this country. This step was taken as a matter of policy, considering it not wise or tactful to show them.

And thus he who once said, "The thought of a garden with its mingled scents and riot of colors comes from time to time as a refreshing breeze, and a reminder that beyond all the noise and bustle there is an England—the England of gay cottage gardens, the grim flower beds and the smell of damp earth," has forgotten and is being forgotten.

But stay. Lives there one soul in all England who can forget? I venture to say no. Deep in the heart is the pain, the hurt, the grief and the martyrdom that he, Prince of the Royal Blood, is no other than a quitter.

HEALTH TALKS

By DR. WILLIAM BRADY.

TREATMENT OF CHRONIC ANOXIA.

Asphyxia means literally not to throb, that is, absence of heart beat. More specifically it means lack of oxygen in the blood and tissues, gassing, choking and strangulation are familiar forms of asphyxia. Asphyxia refers to extreme lack of oxygen.

Anoxia is a new fangled term which refers to an oxygen deficiency of milder degree. Anoxemia refers to such oxygen deficiency in the blood; anoxia more particularly to the oxygen deficiency in the tissues and cells of the body.

Anoxia of the heart muscles is now generally believed to be the immediate cause of the attack of angina pectoris.

Carbon monoxide gas, having three hundred times greater affinity for the hemoglobin in the blood than oxygen has, simply crowds oxygen out of the blood, and this anoxemia is the cause of death or any symptoms resulting from any degree of carbon monoxide poisoning.

Carbon monoxide is a self in no way injurious or poisonous to the tissues or cells of the body. Yet the presence of as little as one part of carbon monoxide in 2,000 parts of air will cause symptoms if breathed several hours daily. Remember, carbon monoxide is colorless, odorless, tasteless, non-irritating—gives no warning of its presence. Stealthily death—although it is not itself poisonous or injurious to the body.

For acute monoxide gassing, if the victim is rescued in time, of course artificial respiration by the prone-pressure method (not the faulty Red Cross method)—if you think you know more than I do about this, send 10 cents and a stamped envelope bearing your address, for booklet on "Resuscitation" which gives the facts according to Schaefer, the discoverer of the method, and points out the fatal fault in the funny method taught by the Red Cross and various yes-man organizations. If, along with immediate and uninterrupted prone-pressure manipulation the victim may have the advantage of carboxygen (5 to 10 per cent carbon dioxide and oxygen mixture) to inhale from an inhalator, the chance of a successful outcome is considerably increased.

For chronic monoxide anoxia or anoxia from any other cause, probably neither oxygen nor carbon dioxide nor mixtures of the two will give any more relief or help than the patient can get from the daily practice of belly breathing for half a dozen inhalations or inflations say every hour. Needless to say this exercise should be done out doors or at least where the air is pure and not polluted with carbon monoxide.

Sea level is better for anoxia individuals than elevated places. Temperate climate is better than very warm climate. Winter is better for them than summer—provided they are not confined during cold weather where they are exposed to monoxide in the air.
(Copyright, 1937, for The Constitution.)

For chronic monoxide anoxia or anoxia from any other cause, probably neither oxygen nor carbon dioxide nor mixtures of the two will give any more relief or help than the patient can get from the daily practice of belly breathing for half a dozen inhalations or inflations say every hour. Needless to say this exercise should be done out doors or at least where the air is pure and not polluted with carbon monoxide.

Sea level is better for anoxia individuals than elevated places. Temperate climate is better than very warm climate. Winter is better for them than summer—provided they are not confined during cold weather where they are exposed to monoxide in the air.
(Copyright, 1937, for The Constitution.)

Cross Stitch A Joy To Do and Use

Household Arts by Alice Brooks

Roses Stitched in 8 to the Inch Crosses

PATTERN 5872

Roses cross-stitched in two shades of pink, red or yellow will add immeasurably to the festivity of your tea table, breakfast nook or luncheon party linens. Try some and see! It's stitchery you'll welcome as pick-up work, of an evening when friends drop. Work the pretty rose motifs in 8 to the inch crosses, with three shades of one color, two shades of a color with black, or in their natural coloring. Grand for dressing up "gift" linens. In Pattern 5872 you will find a transfer pattern of one and one reverse motif 10-14x 10-3-4 inches; two and two reverse motifs 5-3-4x6-1-2 inches and four motifs 3-1-4x3-1-4 inches; illustrations of the stitches used; material requirements; color suggestions. To obtain this pattern send 10 cents in stamps or coin (coin preferred) to Household Arts Department, The Constitution, Atlanta, Ga. Be sure to write plainly your name, address and pattern number.

FRIENDLY COUNSEL

By CAROLINE CHATFIELD.

Problems of general interest submitted by readers will be discussed in this column. Correspondence invited. Your name paid in confidence. Write Miss Chatfield, care The Atlanta Constitution.

Have you ever looked around at the happily yoked pairs of your acquaintance and wondered how they put over their marriages in such fine style, while so many fail to make a go of it? Happy marriages don't just happen as falling in love happens. They are the result of straight thinking, unselfish living and hard work—largely on the part of wives.

I don't know an outstandingly happy marriage in which the woman doesn't take seriously the job of being wife. That includes paying attention to her personal appearance, keeping herself dainty and attractive; running her home to please her husband; having the sort of meals he likes, when he prefers to have them; providing the particular comforts he enjoys; making the home works revolve about him.

It includes taking him in on the ground floor of her life; conferring with him about all the little and big decisions she has to make; planning her days with reference to him; being on tap to go with him or stay at home with him as he chooses. It also includes her accepting his family and his friends, whether or not she fancies them, doing all within her power to advance his interests; pulling with him; being on tap to go with him on matters of paramount importance to him.

Why shouldn't a wife take her job seriously and put everything she's got into it? Her husband is a soldier; remember, he's all others to be his life's companion and mother of his children. That is enough to warrant her placing him first, studying him to see what he wants and working hard to give it to him. He can't soldier out from all other things to be his life's companion and mother of his children. That is enough to warrant her placing him first, studying him to see what he wants and working hard to give it to him. He can't soldier out from all other things to be his life's companion and mother of his children. That is enough to warrant her placing him first, studying him to see what he wants and working hard to give it to him.

Furthermore, her romance with her husband, which every woman values next to life itself, will not survive unless she stays on her job. In time a man will take his wife for granted if she permits it. The humdrum of matrimony will prove romance to a slow death if she doesn't continually breathe the breath of life into it. She must keep the game from becoming a grind. She must continually add some variations to the old tune.

When she groans about having all this to do, there's glee in her eyes that gives her completely away. She's as pleased as pie with the job she is putting over and well she may be; for if a man is halfway decent, he responds in a big way to his wife's efficiency as a homemaker and to her wholehearted devotion to him and his interests.

Look around at the happily married couples of your acquaintance and in the secret, every wife among them is her husband's best friend and every husband among them is his wife's best friend. Nine times out of ten the wife has been engineer for the firm.
CAROLINE CHATFIELD.
(Copyright, 1937, for The Constitution.)

Gifford-Ohrtmann.

CHICAGO, Ill., June 18.—Miss Marjorie Gifford, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. O. Gifford, of College Park, Ga., became the bride of Arthur Ohrtmann, of this city, at the Rockefeller chapel of the University of Chicago at 5:30 o'clock this afternoon.

The bride wore for the ceremony a gown of cream lace posed over ivory satin. Her flowers were bride's roses and valley lilies. Mr. and Mrs. Ohrtmann will reside in Chicago.

AUNT HET

By ROBERT QUILLLEN.

"John wouldn't take a nickel that belonged to anybody else, but he loves it so much that sometimes he thinks the wrong one is his."
(Copyright, 1937, for The Constitution.)

ENGLAND'S QUEENS

No. 54

Throughout Victorian reign Britain had the finest collection of the most prosperous middle classes lived complex lives in dual comfortable homes. The Empire widened. New Zealand, Canada, Australia became self-governing. Gas, electricity, telegraph and telephone, tube railways and the motor car and cinematograph changed life greatly.

Of course there were some troubles—riots of the Chartists (1839-1848) with their long petition demanding mining reform; the Fenians (1867-1872) but no more serious than the Irish for their campaign for an Irish Republic. This continued until recent years.

Hollywood Today

By HAROLD HEFFERMAN

HOLLYWOOD, June 18.—"If you don't let me in that gate I'll stick this knife through your throat!"

The man gave a maniacal cry and started for Will McDowell, uniformed policeman at the reception desk of one of Hollywood's studios.

McDowell grasped the man by the wrist, put out his foot and with a twist typical of jiu jitsu experts hurled the man to the floor and handcuffed him.

Then McDowell took a deep breath, went back to his desk and told a good-looking and sirenish young woman that he was very sorry but he could not permit her to go through the studios. He smiled. She left McDowell fainting.

Every few days, an incident something like that occurs at the gates of some Hollywood studio. If it isn't a wild man with a knife or gun, it's a girl with hysterics and an overpowering movie ambition.

Hollywood's studios have built a Frankenstein. They have made the public intensely movie-conscious—so much, in fact, that thousands lose their hearts and their heads when they approach a studio or a star. Many a male star can recall with a shudder a time or two when his clothes have been torn from his body because the fans became too wild in their fanmania. Ask Clark Gable and Robert Taylor!

Visitors by the hundreds of thousands swarm into Hollywood each summer. Some are wealthy, the majority are average citizens, but all seem to be ardent movie fans. And with each drove come the chiselers, those who seek something for nothing or have something to sell the stars: Their talents, shirts, ties, or a desire to crash the studios.

That's why they film pictures behind great china walls; that's why, behind these walls, uniformed police, numbering 2,500, and trained in the gentle art of chisel-chasing, jiu jitsu, marksmanship, billigerency and diplomacy, maintain a 24-hour vigil.

According to McDowell, every studio's No. 1 rule for gatekeepers is "Instruct nobody; remember, he's a movie fan or he wouldn't be here." So, to the meek visitor, the gatekeeper is pleasant, but to the fighting guest, the pompous lady or gent, he becomes a bit hard. McDowell says he can spot a crasher yards away, by his walk or the gleam in his eye.

Some of the boys behind the reception desks are former chiefs of police, detectives or sheriffs. Others were officers in the A. E. F. All are duly sworn members of the Los Angeles, Burbank or Culver City police departments and undergo the same training as the radio policemen.

Captain Taylor E. Duncan, of

Home Institute Simple Magic for Parties

MYSTIFY YOUR GUESTS WITH EASY TRICKS
Mystify your party guests with magic! They'll vote your parties the most exciting in town.

The enchanted glass takes a steady hand. Fill a drinking glass with water, making sure the rim is perfectly dry. Drop in coins, one by one, until the water bulges perilously above the rim without running over.

For the upright egg trick sprinkle a spot of salt on a white cloth before your audience knows what's up. The egg stands in it, staunch as a soldier. As you lift the egg to let your guests try the stunt themselves, deftly brush the salt away. Try as they will, they can't make the egg stand.

"Here are the aces of spades, diamonds and clubs," you announce, holding up three cards. Shuffle the three. Lay them on the table. Move your hands over them mysteriously, saying, "I command the ace of diamonds to disappear and the ace of hearts to take its place." Turn up the cards. Sure enough, there's the

MY DAY

By Eleanor Roosevelt

HYDE PARK, N. Y., Thursday.—I was very much interested in the young girl who did the broadcast with me last night. I asked her if she had ever been on the air before and she almost gasped: "Never!"

While we waited to begin our radio conversation, I told her that I would look her up next winter when I went up to Cornell for farm and home week. She is taking a regular college course, not home economics, so my particular friend, Miss Flora Rose, will not have her under her jurisdiction. I will be interested to see if a few months away from home makes much of a change in her. I never saw a more poised and sensible looking girl, besides she radiated health, which, with good looks, makes a very attractive combination.

I can hardly realize that I have only four more weeks left in this series of broadcasts. When I began I felt I was undertaking a tremendous task, but everyone has been so delightful to work with I have found it a very pleasant weekly experience and will be really sorry when the series comes to an end.

We had a bite to eat and took the evening train to Hyde Park. When we drove up to Mrs. Scheider's apartment the syringa bushes gleamed in the moonlight and the air all around us was perfumed by them. The police dog, who as a rule has very little use for me when Miss Goodwin, Miss Dickerman and Miss Cook are around, behaved as though he was very glad to see me and settled himself in my room for the night.

As I was alone in one of the buildings, it was very pleasant to have his company, but I was a little annoyed when I turned over sleepily this morning and found that I was not alone. Before I realized what was happening, both paws were on the bed and his nose was in my face.

Mrs. Scheider and I had breakfast in her living room and then started out to see what we could do to begin settling our guest house. It is an astonishing thing how much needs to be done to make even a small place livable. After starting two or three people on various jobs, she and I went off to visit my mother-in-law at the big house, buy some food, and start acquiring such necessary things as hooks, picture wire and electric light bulbs.

Later this afternoon I am going down to visit a young friend who is in the hospital in Poughkeepsie and I shall spend the night with Mrs. Henry Morgenthau Jr. at her farm near Fishkill, N. Y.

A scientist, who has discovered an extraordinary product, paid me a short visit this morning. If all the accomplishments and claims for it are true, and I hope they are, it will mean a great deal to humanity, not to speak of the fact that it might mean a good deal to the poor man himself and his family.
(Copyright, 1937, for The Constitution)

Lillian Mae Styles

Columbia pictures, says his worst encounters were with an insane man, and, three days later, with a man so intoxicated he wanted to kill all people engaged in film making. Edward Donnelly, of R. K. O., was literally walked over by another man. But the visitor strolled into a clenched fist. Out at Warner Brothers, A. S. Leduc was intimidated by a man with a ferocious-looking English bulldog. This chap started to walk past Leduc and when the latter tried to stop him threatened to "sic" the animal on him.

"I haven't been a dog fancier 10 years for nothing," said Leduc. "English bulls are the most gentle of all breeds."

When a psychopathic case approached McDowell at his Paramount desk one day this spring, he was refused admittance. He became violent. "Mac" left his seat for half an hour and talked gently to the man. He went away, thoroughly calmed.

(Copyright, 1937, for The Constitution and the North American Newspaper Alliance, Inc.)

Home Institute Simple Magic for Parties

Look around at the happily married couples of your acquaintance and in the secret, every wife among them is her husband's best friend and every husband among them is his wife's best friend. Nine times out of ten the wife has been engineer for the firm.
CAROLINE CHATFIELD.
(Copyright, 1937, for The Constitution.)

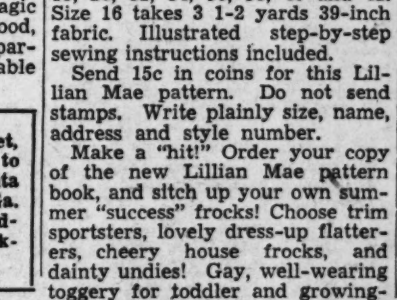

Gifford-Ohrtmann.

CHICAGO, Ill., June 18.—Miss Marjorie Gifford, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. O. Gifford, of College Park, Ga., became the bride of Arthur Ohrtmann, of this city, at the Rockefeller chapel of the University of Chicago at 5:30 o'clock this afternoon.

The bride wore for the ceremony a gown of cream lace posed over ivory satin. Her flowers were bride's roses and valley lilies. Mr. and Mrs. Ohrtmann will reside in Chicago.

AUNT HET

By ROBERT QUILLLEN.

"John wouldn't take a nickel that belonged to anybody else, but he loves it so much that sometimes he thinks the wrong one is his."
(Copyright, 1937, for The Constitution.)

ENGLAND'S QUEENS

No. 54

Throughout Victorian reign Britain had the finest collection of the most prosperous middle classes lived complex lives in dual comfortable homes. The Empire widened. New Zealand, Canada, Australia became self-governing. Gas, electricity, telegraph and telephone, tube railways and the motor car and cinematograph changed life greatly.

Of course there were some troubles—riots of the Chartists (1839-1848) with their long petition demanding mining reform; the Fenians (1867-1872) but no more serious than the Irish for their campaign for an Irish Republic. This continued until recent years.

Pleasant Homes

By ELIZABETH McRAE BOYKIN.

A TASTE FOR GLAMOUR.

There comes a time in every girl's life (usually at about the age of 15) when the glamorous interiors provided as settings for the pale beauties of the screen seem just about the most luxurious and desirable home decorations in the world. When we were young the movies were running to shirred taffeta and many, many satin and lace pillows. Tastes change and long-legged adolescent girls grow up, but maybe mothers will find their daughters much more tractable if they will indulge their movie-struck desires at the time when they are rampant.

The Answer.
A mother we know said, "All right, my fine young daughter, you shall have your pink and blue setting—shell pink and a lovely, powder blue; and you shall have your French garb 'furniture' but you won't beggar your poor mother in the bargain." So she bought yards and yards of pink and blue sateen, with a fine sheen yet durable and cleanable. This material was fashioned into luxurious-looking draperies, full blue hanging ones covered by a deep swag of the shell pink at the top of the windows. The bedspread was of pink, with a full long ruffle around the edge, piped in blue. The dressing table was draped in blue with a pink lining showing alluringly here and there.

The Furniture Details.
No, the mother didn't go out and buy an expensive French suite for her gangly daughter. She bought exactly one new piece and faked the rest. A really good chest of drawers was acquired on the theory that mother found of furniture could be used to advantage almost anywhere later, when daughter's tastes or name had changed. This chest was the lovely, subtle French grey with a suggestion of pink that is impossible to find on close inspection. The bed was a double studio type, headboard and footboard, with a sauteen-draped canopy along the wall made it quite a glamorous background for a teen-age taste. An old tufted chair was rescued from the attic. This had been spurned by the mother when Aunt Susy died and left it to her, but now, with pale blue upholstery and shell pink fringe and its carved frame painted French grey, it gave just the "Camille" touch to the room that was needed. The rug was a problem till mother found some pink velour-pile bath rugs—on a wash floor they looked "sophisticated," said Miss Film Fan.

Send a stamped, self-addressed envelope to Miss Boykin, in care of The Atlanta Constitution, for the writer's bulletin, "Recipes for New Wall Colors." It contains directions for mixing the subtle off tones that are fashionable now.
(Copyright, 1937, for The Constitution.)

Sally's Sallies

No matter how high the temperature, how bright the sun, you'll be ever so cool and dainty this summer at garden parties, teas, and all festive occasions if you choose Pattern 4442, newest and gayest of Lillian Mae's simple, sew-at-home frocks! Carry your spell in its gracefully curved v-neck, charming collar, and unusual bodice that's cut all in one with the most comfortable of short sleeves! So easy is this distinctive pattern, that the few hours spent in stitching it up, will seem like so much fun. Wouldn't you like your frock of a dainty sheer such as voile or chiffon?

Pattern 4442 is available in misses' and women's sizes 14, 16, 18, 20, 22, 24, 26, 28, 30, 32, 34, 36, 38, 40 and 42. Size 16 takes 3 1/2 yards 39-inch fabric. Illustrated step-by-step sewing instructions included. Send 15c in coins for this Lillian Mae pattern. Do not send stamps. Write plainly name, address and style number.

Make a "hit!" Order your copy of the new Lillian Mae pattern book, and stitch up your own summer "success" frocks! Choose trim sportswear, lovely dress-up flatterers, cheery house frocks, and dainty undies! Gay, well-wearing, toggery for toddler and growing—

5-MILL TAX LIMIT TO STAND DESPITE INTANGIBLES LEVY

Prohibition Against Higher Duties Remains, Yeomans Rules.

Attorney General M. J. Yeomans ruled yesterday the intangible tax amendment ratified by voters June 8 did not disturb the five-mill maximum limit of state property levies.

His ruling was given to Comptroller General William B. Harrison in response to a direct query as to possibility of the state levying a tax in excess of five mills.

The amendment, Yeomans said, affected only a section of the constitution only, and not that part of the document limiting the state's taxing power.

Intent Set Forth.

Roy W. Harris, speaker of the house of representatives, declared the legislative intention was to leave the limit on state taxes undisturbed.

"The effect of the amendment in tax rates," he explained, "will be felt in counties and municipalities, limits of whose taxing authority the legislature can fix by statute."

"It was never intended to permit the state to levy a higher tax than five mills."

"As it now stands, however, under the 'uniform' regulation, county and city taxes also have to be uniform."

"By allowing the state to fix different rates of taxes for different classes of property, the amendment will permit the legislature to fix different limits for taxes by the subdivisions."

"As it now stands, intangible property is either driven from the state if an attempt is made to tax it, or it is not returned for taxes."

New Tax Law Allowed.

"The amendment will permit the legislature to write a new law which will both keep the intangible property in the state and make possible the collection of some tax from it."

Harris said a comprehensive study will be necessary before determining what the legislature should do in revising the tax laws under the amendment, but added that the new law probably would be very extensive.

Yeomans expressed the opinion the legislature would have authority to set only one class of tangible (real) property and levy only one rate for it under the constitutional amendment. The classes for intangible property, he said, could be numerous.

The amendment provides: "Classes of subjects for taxation of property shall consist of tangible property, and one or more classes of intangible property, including money. The general assembly shall have the power to classify property, including money, for taxation and to adopt different rates and different methods for different classes of such property."

Tangibles Defined.

Tangible property includes real estate and personal property and intangible includes bonds, stocks, franchises, notes and other commercial paper.

The beginning of a system of intangible property taxation is being contemplated for a special session of the legislature in July.

Harris, along with Senate President John B. Spivey, is a member of a special committee which will report to Governor Rivers early next month on the advisability of such a step.

FIRE RAZES TOWN.

WARSAW, June 18.—(P)—Fire that burned throughout the night today had razed the whole town of Kleck, on the Polish-Russian border. More than 500 families were left homeless but no lives were lost.

BIGGER-BETTER SUPERIOR

12 OUNCES

ORIGINAL 5¢

PEPSI-COLA

REFRESHING HEALTHFUL

A NICKEL DRINK WORTH A DIME

ST. MARK M. E. CHURCH, SOUTH

"OLD TESTAMENT QUESTIONS AND NEW TESTAMENT ANSWERS" by Lester Rumble, D. D., Pastor

June 20—"Why Does a Good Man Suffer?"

June 21—"Can a Righteous God Forgive Sin?"

June 22—"Shall Religion Be National or Universal?"

June 23—"Is Religion This-Worldly or Other-Worldly?"

June 24—"Is God Near or Far?"

Evening service each Sunday at 8 o'clock during the summer.

Boy Finds Mouth Poor Place to Keep Nails

With his hands just this busy, young Robert Bernard Coker, age 7, put a nail into his mouth for safekeeping, and then swallowed it. From his bed at Grady hospital he advises other boys and girls to keep their nails in their pockets.

Youngster Gulping Nail Advises Boys and Girls Against Practice

'I Was Awful Busy,' Explains Child Who Popped Brightly Colored Object Into Mouth—and Swallowed; Operation May Be Required.

When inquisitive people ask Robert Bernard Coker, young man of seven years, and son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Franklin Coker, of 1060 Manigault street, why he swallowed a nail, he looks wise, and says, "I was hungry, and I ate it."

But when he talks seriously about that nail, he has quite a different story. "The nail was just a little one," he said at Grady hospital, "but when I was under observation, and where he may have to undergo an operation to remove the nail."

"The nail was about this big," he said, and he measured an inch or so between his chubby fingers. "It was colored gold, and I found it on the porch. I was awful busy, and I didn't have enough hands to take care of everything, so I just put the nail in my mouth to keep it for a minute."

"I forgot that it was in there, and when I went to swallow, that nail was gone, just like that," said Bobby, with a gesture of his hand that went pretty fast.

"My mama said 'Oh, I think, but I don't remember exactly. She was awful worried. I'm sorry I worried my mama,' the young man said."

When asked if he had a message for other boys and girls, he said, "Tell them to keep their nails in their pockets."

CLUE REVEALED

Ocean Explosion May Have Destroyed Missing Ship.

NEW YORK, June 18.—(U.P.)—A possible clue to the disappearance of the motorship Moloka, a banana boat, in the southeastern Gulf of Mexico was given today by Captain E. G. Stolt, of the freighter Yoro.

Stolt told officials at the Honduran consulate that on June 5 he saw what appeared to be a triple explosion near the Florida Straits. He raced his ship toward the explosion and found a blazing hull, just sinking. No sign of life was observed, Stolt said, and he saw no lifeboats. Only a few empty oil drums and a large tank floated to the surface after the ship sank.

The Moloka, with a crew of nine, left Tampa June 2, bound for British Honduras to take on cargo.

STATE DEATHS

THOMAS WALTER GLAZE.—Walter Glaze, 65, native Georgian, died early today at his home, 1015 E. 10th St. Mr. Glaze, a son of the late Thomas Wesley Glaze and Frances Miller Glaze, was born on the Hogansville road near Albany, and moved with his parents to Marietta, Ga., in 1890. He was a member of the Central Georgia railway as general freight agent in both Marietta and Albany. He served as a field auditor during the World War, and as a warehouseman for a wholesale grocery company in Portland. He was married January 1, 1910, to Mrs. L. C. Roy, of Dawson, the former Miss Bessie Peady.

MRS. FLORENCE EASTRIDGE.—LAGRANGE, Ga., June 18.—Mrs. Florence Eastridge, died Thursday at her home on the Hogansville road near LAGRANGE, and funeral services were held today at a local church. Rev. J. D. Key officiating. Burial was in Hillview Annex.

DR. WILLIAM H. STEELE.—GRiffin, Ga., June 18.—Dr. William Henry Steele, 67, a practicing physician in Jackson, and who for more than 35 years, died at his home here after a long illness.

Funeral services were held here today.

MRS. T. J. LEINBACH.—LAFAYETTE, Ga., June 18.—Services for Mrs. T. J. Leinbach, 61, were held Thursday morning at 10 o'clock at the Church, South, Rev. C. R. Jones and Rev. R. L. Wright officiating. Interment was in Forest Hills cemetery.

She was the widow of the late T. J. Leinbach, for many years a prominent citizen of this county.

She is survived by two daughters, Mrs. Lawrence Smith, of Viola, Ill., and Mrs. L. A. Dalley, of Rossville, and three sons, G. B. Leinbach, of Rossville, H. W. Leinbach, of Kansas City, Kan., and John Leinbach, of Allentown, Pa.

MRS. SALLIE O. EUBANKS.—AUGUSTA, Ga., June 18.—Mrs. Sallie O. Eubanks, 80, died Wednesday at her home here. She was a native of Washington county, but had lived in Augusta many years.

Surviving are three sons, W. B. and L. S. Eubanks, of Lynch, Ky., and four daughters, Mrs. Eula Godfrey, of Oconee; Mrs. R. L. Jones, of Atlanta; Mrs. C. E. Emerson, of Macon; and Mrs. E. Meeks, of Warthen, Georgia.

GRANT PARK Church of Christ

Dr. Augustus Ave. and Hill St., S. E.

JAMES H. McBRIDE, Minister

Revival Meetings Under New Tent

Near Augusta and Hill streets

June 20th to July 4th at 8 P. M.

Preaching by Evangelist David H. Bobo, of Cleveland, Tennessee.

Evening service each Sunday at 8 o'clock during the summer.

News of Gate City Told in Paragraphs

Rev. Sam M. Haines, evangelist, is continuing the series of revival services at Kelley's Chapel. Henry Mullins, choirmaster of Wesley Memorial church, is in charge of special musical features. The public is invited.

Robert L. Hall, 191 Warren street, S. E., has been named a delegate to the American Legion fifth district convention June 19 and the Georgia department convention June 24-26 by Atlanta Post No. 1.

Hugh Grantham, 17, of 100 Waters avenue, East Point, whose right arm was broken Thursday afternoon when he stepped into a moving airplane propeller at Candler airport, was reported much improved yesterday at Grady hospital.

Detectives Leo Nahlik and M. M. Coppenger were commended yesterday by General Robert O. VanHorn, commandant at Fort McPherson, for their work in recently recovering a piece of jewelry stolen from the general's headquarters. The general praised the detectives in a letter to Mayor Hartsfield.

Unlocked safe was rifled of $30 in postage stamps at offices of the Rybert Printing Company, 313 Edgewood avenue, police reports revealed yesterday.

Olis Johnson, negro, was found guilty of robbery in Fulton superior court yesterday and sentenced to serve 24 months, after the jury recommended the charge be reduced to a misdemeanor. Johnson is alleged to have held up two white men, J. V. Andrews and Jack Beech, and robbed them of $6 while threatening them with a knife.

Herbert Drummond was cleared of any criminal charge in connection with the death of J. W. Curtis May 9 when the Fulton grand jury returned a "no bill" to charges of involuntary manslaughter. Curtis was run over and fatally injured by a car driven by Drummond.

Fulton grand jury yesterday returned four no bills and 11 true bills.

Annual reunion of the Broom family will be held tomorrow at Frylock Springs, three miles south of Dalton on the Mountain Valley road. J. W. Broom estimates more than 150 members of the clan will be present.

Promotion to the rank of first lieutenant for Second Lieutenants Ian McL. Davidson, Newnan, coast artillery reserve, and Henry N. Parrish, LaGrange, field artillery reserve, was announced at fourth corps area headquarters yesterday.

Nathaniel B. Dobbs, Barnesville, has been appointed a second lieutenant of the infantry reserve, it was announced yesterday at fourth corps area headquarters.

Open competitive examination for position of foreman cutter in the Atlanta Federal penitentiary's clothing factory is announced by the United States Civil Service Commission. The post carries a salary of $2,000 a year. Receipt of applications will close July 8. Information may be obtained from the manager, Fifth United States district, new postoffice building.

"Should Presbyterian Ministers Marry Divorcees" will be the topic of an address to the Presbyterian ministers of the city at 11 o'clock Monday morning at the Y. C. A. by Dr. William Elliott, pastor of the Druid Hills Presbyterian church. An open forum on the question will follow the address.

Laymen's Day will be observed at Trinity Methodist church at 11 o'clock tomorrow morning, with Judge Luther Z. Rosser speaking on "The Church and Citizenship."

Recent high school and college graduates in the congregation of the Atlanta Federal penitentiary will be honored at special services at 7 o'clock tomorrow night. The group, which numbers 42, will march in an academic procession from the educational building to the church auditorium.

"Father and Son Day" will be observed tomorrow at Calvary Methodist church, with the morning service dedicated to the fathers of the congregation and the evening worship to the sons. Dr. Walt Holcomb, pastor, will preach at 11 a. m. on "The Charming of Christ," and at 8 p. m. on "The Home of the Home of Missions."

"The Danger of Prayer" will be the sermon topic of Dean Raimundo de Ovies at 11 o'clock tomorrow morning at the Cathedral of St. Philip. An unusual musical program has been arranged.

Members of the junior department of the Decatur First Methodist church will present a musical variety program at 9:30 tomorrow morning in the Young People's auditorium of the church. All young people are invited.

Commissioners of Agriculture Columbus Roberts and Hamilton Ralls, supervisor of the marketing division of the State Department of Agriculture, will leave today for Ames, Iowa, to attend the annual session of the American Institute for Co-operation on Marketing of Farm Products. The session will begin Monday and end Friday.

Members of the Druid Hills Methodist church who were graduated from high school or college will be honored at special services at the church at 8 o'clock tomorrow night.

Dr. Louie D. Newton will preach at 11 o'clock Sunday morning ing on "Whoever Doth Not Bear His Cross, Cannot Be My Disciple." At 8:30 o'clock Sunday night Dr. Charles A. Wells, an official of the Northern Baptist convention, will speak at Druid Hills.

Rev. J. E. Cobb, pastor of Brookhaven Baptist church, will conduct revival services at Calvary Baptist church, beginning tomorrow. Services will be held at 8 o'clock each night except Saturday.

Evangelist David H. Bobo, of Cleveland, Tenn., will hold revival meetings for Grant Park Church of Christ, beginning tomorrow, in the new tent opposite the church, Hill and Love streets.

Dr. K. Owen White, who has been conducting revival services at Grant Park Baptist church for the past two weeks, returns to his pulpit at Kirkwood Baptist church tomorrow morning.

Rev. Sam M. Haines, evangelist of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, is preaching at Kelley's Chapel. Special music is a feature.

Rev. George W. Elliott, of Birmingham, will begin a series of revival services tomorrow at East Point Avenue Methodist church.

New deacons will be ordained and installed into office at the Pryor Street Presbyterian church at 11 o'clock tomorrow morning, it was announced last night by the pastor, the Rev. Lawrence A. Davis.

Daily vacation Bible school will begin at 8 o'clock Monday morning at Gordon Street Presbyterian church, continuing through July 2. George Pickard will be in charge of the school.

Suffering from effects of swallowed insect poison, Paul Jones, 6 of 145 Central avenue, East Point, was admitted to Grady hospital yesterday. His condition is "fair."

Struck by a bucket of dirt while digging a well, Code Page, 28, of Bolton street, a possible fractured skull Thursday, police reports revealed yesterday. He was admitted to Grady hospital.

Charged with sounding a false fire alarm from a box under the viaduct at Wall street and Kimball way, a negro, listed as Tommy Burk, of a rear of Tenth street address, was arrested early yesterday morning.

Dr. J. L. Harrison will conduct a week of revival meetings at the Atlanta Federal penitentiary, beginning at 11 o'clock tomorrow morning. Services will be held at 8 o'clock each night.

Rev. Nath Thompson, superintendent of the Georgia Anti-Saloon League, will preach at 11 o'clock tomorrow morning at Collins Memorial church. A reception for new members will be held tomorrow night.

Special Father's Day program will be held at the Kirkwood Wesley. Memorial church at 8:45 o'clock tomorrow night. D. H. Perryman will be principal speaker. The program is under the direction of Miss Martha King.

Father's Day will be observed at the St. Luke's Episcopal church at 11 o'clock tomorrow morning. Miss Betty Lee Clarkson, president-elect of the Young People's Service League, will be principal speaker.

Annual commencement exercises of the Eliza Moses Freeman's school will be held at 3:30 o'clock tomorrow afternoon in the Flipper chapel of the A. M. E. church. The Rev. J. W. Thompson will deliver the baccalaureate sermon.

Rev. E. M. Altman's ninth year as pastor of the Grant Park Baptist church will be commemorated at the church at special services at 11 o'clock tomorrow morning.

Mrs. R. O. Stull, Christian missionary to Peru, addressed a special young people's meeting at the Atlanta Gospel Tabernacle last night.

Emory summer school students will be honored at 9:30 o'clock tomorrow morning at special services at the Glenn Memorial church. Dr. Sterling Brinkley will be principal speaker at the morning service, and Dr. Harvey W. Johnson, pastor, will address the group at the 7 o'clock services.

Beginners' confirmation class will be inaugurated at the St. Luke's Episcopal church at 8 o'clock Wednesday night. The Rev. John Moore, rector, announced yesterday.

"Handling That Feeling of Inferiority" will be the subject of a sermon to be delivered by the Rev. Robert W. Burns, pastor of the Peachtree Christian church, at the church at 11 o'clock tomorrow morning.

Rev. F. E. Singleton, pastor of the Second Baptist Church of Macon, will be guest speaker at both the morning and night services of the Olive Springs Baptist church tomorrow.

Rev. Ben McDonald will open a two-week revival service at the East Point Christian church at 8 o'clock tomorrow night. Services will be held at 8 o'clock each evening. Public invited.

John T. Marler Jr., son of the city councilman, Dr. Marler, is recuperating from a recent illness in a private hospital. He is expected to return to his home Tuesday, his father said last night.

As a negro man held a nickel-plated revolver, a negro woman rifled the pockets of Cecil Long, 90 Oak street, at Nelson and Forsyth streets, at about 10:30 o'clock last night. The bandits escaped with $26 in cash and a fountain pen. Long reported to police.

A well-known scientist credits the Chinese with inventing more ingenious devices for catching fish than any other people he knows.

AGED WOMAN DIES OF FALL INJURIES

Cincinnati Resident Hurt at Tourist Home on Ponce de Leon.

Injuries sustained when she fell from the steps of a tourist home located at 414 Ponce de Leon avenue, N. E., yesterday proved fatal to Mrs. Anna K. Gregg, 83, of Cincinnati, Ohio.

Mrs. Gregg was taken to the Georgia Baptist hospital, suffering from a broken thigh. She succumbed to the injuries two hours after the accident.

She was en route to Cincinnati from Miami, where she had been visiting her son.

The only immediate survivors are two sons, Frank P. Gregg, of Miami, and Harry S. Gregg, of Cincinnati. The body will be taken to Cincinnati for funeral services and burial.

FUNERAL NOTICES

MILLER—The friends of Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Miller, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Miller, Mr. and Mrs. H. G. Landers are invited to attend the funeral of Mary Yvonne Miller, the little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Miller, tomorrow (Sunday) afternoon at 3 o'clock, from Mt. Vernon M. E. church, Interment, Crest Lawn, J. Austin Dillon Co., funeral directors.

TEMPLE—Friends of Mr. James Temple Sr., Mr. and Mrs. James A. May, Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Williams, Mr. James Temple Jr., Miss Mary Temple are invited to attend the funeral of Mr. James Temple Sr., this (Saturday) morning at 10:30 from the Sacred Heart church, Rev. Father J. T. Murphy will officiate. Interment Greenwood cemetery. Sam Greenberg & Co., Raymond Bloomfield in charge.

CLYBURN—The friends and relatives of Mr. and Mrs. H. R. Clyburn, Mr. and Mrs. H. R. Clyburn, Mr. and Mrs. George H. Clyburn Sr., J. M. Ferguson, Raeford, N. C.; and Mrs. John Clyburn, Hartsville, S. C.; Mr. George H. Clyburn Jr., Jack Miller and Wayne Clyburn are invited to attend the funeral of Mr. H. R. Clyburn this (Saturday) afternoon, June 19, 1937, at 2 o'clock at Spring Hill. Rev. J. A. Gray will officiate. Interment, West View. The following gentlemen will serve as pallbearers and please meet at Spring Hill at 1:45 o'clock: Mr. M. T. Burton, Mr. W. L. Combs, Mr. T. L. Entrip, Mr. E. E. Gilleland, Mr. A. A. Leister and Mr. H. B. McAtter. H. M. Patterson & Son.

FLEECE—The friends and relatives of Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Berry Fleece, Miss Caroline Fleece, Rev. and Mrs. G. Allen Fleece, Chattanooga, Tenn., and Mr. and Mrs. Preston B. Hinman, Greenwood, Miss., are invited to attend the funeral of Mr. Hugh Berry Fleece this (Saturday) morning, June 19, 1937, at 10 o'clock at Spring Hill. Dr. R. O. Flinn will officiate. Interment, West View. The following will please meet at Spring Hill at 9:45 o'clock to serve as pallbearers: Mr. C. J. Williamson, Mr. Herbert Halverstadt, Mr. N. M. Patten, Mr. Ralph Holzworth, Mr. Frank Holden and Mr. James C. Moody. To serve as casket bearers and deacons of the North Avenue Presbyterian church and Mr. Franklin Taylor and the department heads of the Regional Office Home Owners' Loan Corporation and Mr. Robert Brock, Mr. William Franklin, Mr. James Edwards, Mr. Wells Hoge, Mr. D. S. Audley, Mr. Harry C. Piker, Mr. J. Arthur Younger, Mr. Tom H. Semple, Mr. John W. Childress, Mr. Horace Russell, Mr. Fred W. Catlett and Mr. H. E. Cox. H. M. Patterson & Son.

LODGE NOTICES

A called communication of the Atlanta Lodge No. 416, F. & A. M., will be held in its hall at 8 o'clock this (Saturday) afternoon, June 19, 1937, for the purpose of paying the tribute of respect to our deceased Worshipful Brother James Franklin Lord. All members of Bolton Lodge are urged to attend. Visitors are invited to meet with us. By order, J. A. GRAMLING, Senior Warden. ALEX. A. WHITLEY, Sec'y.

A called communication of East Point Lodge No. 288, F. & A. M., will be held at 8 o'clock this (Saturday) night, June 19, at 8 o'clock for the purpose of paying the tribute of respect to our deceased Worshipful Brother James Franklin Lord. All members of Bolton Lodge are urged to attend. Visitors are invited to meet with us. By order, J. A. GRAMLING, Senior Warden. ALEX. A. WHITLEY, Sec'y.

PRIVATE LOANS

On Diamonds, Watches and Jewelry W. D. LEWIS & CO. 4TH FLOOR PETERS BLDG.

Business Opportunities

Want to sell a filling station? Want a partner to run the office while you're out selling? How'd you like to buy a going lunch room, easy terms? Hit The Constitution Want Ads and watch things develop!

Call Walnut 6565

FUNERAL NOTICES

GRIGG—Mrs. Anna K. Gregg, of Cincinnati, Ohio, June 18, 1937. She is survived by her sons, Mr. Frank T. Gregg, Miami, Fla., and Mr. Harry S. Gregg, Cincinnati, Ohio. Funeral arrangements will be announced later by H. M. Patterson & Son.

KENEDY—The friends and relatives of Mr. and Mrs. David W. Kennedy, Mr. and Mrs. Grover J. Whiddy and Anne Whiddy are invited to attend the funeral of Mr. David W. Kennedy tomorrow (Sunday) afternoon at 4 o'clock from the chapel of Harry G. Poole, Interment Prospect Methodist churchyard, near Chamblee, Ga.

LIVELY—(Note change of time). Anticipating arrival of relatives, funeral services for Mr. George L. Lively will be held Sunday afternoon, June 20, 1937, at 2 o'clock, from the funeral home of Henry M. Blanchard, 1088 Peachtree street, N. E. Rev. G. C. Light will officiate. Interment will be in Prospect Methodist churchyard, Chamblee, Ga. Gentlemen selected to serve as pallbearers will please meet at the funeral home at 1:45 o'clock.

CASEY—The friends and relatives of C. D. Casey Jr., Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Casey Sr., Billy Casey, Hugh Casey, Miss Betty Casey and Miss Martha Sue Casey are invited to attend the funeral services of C. D. Casey Jr., this (Saturday) morning at 11 o'clock at the First Church of the Nazarene. Rev. E. K. Hardy will officiate. Interment in Acworth, Ga. Pallbearers selected will meet at the residence, 1030 Boulevard Drive, N. E., at 10:30 o'clock. A. S. Turner, funeral director.

MADISON—The friends and relatives of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew B. Madison, Atlanta; Mrs. Dorothy Ann Madison, Mrs. Mabel Horrie, Miss Bessie Madison, Mrs. Doris Madison, Miss Nina Horrie, Neal Horrie and Mr. Loren Horrie, Gardner, Ill., are invited to attend the funeral of Mr. Andrew B. Madison tomorrow (Sunday) afternoon, June 20, 1937, at 4 o'clock, from Peachtree Chapel. Rev. Herman L. Thibault will officiate. Interment College Park cemetery. The following gentlemen will serve as pallbearers and meet at Peachtree Chapel at 3:45: Mr. George Fielding, Mr. J. M. Sweeney, Dr. I. H. Etheridge, Mr. Charles P. Dismar, Mr. R. Leonard Moore, Mr. Fred Nash, Mr. J. L. Nash and Mr. J. Clayton Burke. The Atlanta Lodge No. 78, B. P. O. Elks, will form an honorary escort and have charge of graveside services. The remains will lie in state at the residence, 181 Roswell road, from 3 o'clock this (Saturday) afternoon until 11 o'clock Sunday morning. Brandon-Bond-Condor.

WELDON—Friends and relatives of Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Weldon, of Bolton, Ga.; Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Weldon, of Bolton, Ga.; Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Mayo, of Dayton, Ohio; Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Rogers, of Bolton, Ga.; Miss Ollie Lord, of Bolton, Ga.; Mr. and Mrs. L. C. White, of Stonefall, Ga.; Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Howell, of Bolton, Ga.; Miss Clara Lord and Master Paul Smith, of Bolton, Ga., are invited to attend the funeral services of Mr. James F. (Uncle Jim) Lord this (Saturday) afternoon, June 19, 1937, at 3 o'clock (E. S. T.), from Collins Memorial Methodist church, Bolton, Ga. Other survivors are two sisters, Mrs. G. Cobb, of Hammette, S. C.; Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Adams, Atlanta, and several grandchildren. Members of Bolton Chapter No. 143, O. E. S., will act as honorary escort. The following past masters of Bolton Lodge No. 416, F. & A. M., will act as pallbearers and please meet at the residence on Bolton road at 2:30 o'clock: Mr. C. C. Groover, Mr. C. M. Stovall, Mr. C. Henry Mitchell, Mr. G. C. Beard, Mr. H. L. Wilson, Mr. James M. Moore, Rev. T. P. Tribble and Rev. R. L. Whitehead will officiate. Members of Bolton Lodge No. 416, F. & A. M., will have charge of graveside services. Earl Barrett, funeral director.

COCKRELL—The friends and relatives of Mrs. Marie A. Cockrell, Miss Anne Cockrell, Miss Anita Cockrell, Miss Marie Belle Cockrell, Miss Ruth Cockrell, Miss Ethel Cockrell and Mrs. J. C. Chatham, Texas, are invited to attend the funeral of Mrs. Marie A. Cockrell this (Saturday) morning, June 19, 1937, at 9:30 o'clock at the Sacred Heart church. Rev. Father Edward P. McGrath will officiate. Interment, Crown Hill Mausoleum. The following gentlemen will serve as pallbearers and please meet at the residence, 1179 Briarcliff road, at 8:45 o'clock: Dr. Frank K. Boland, Dr. Kels Boland, Dr. Cliff Sauls, Mr. Dowse B. Donaldson, Dr. Thomas C. Cox and Mr. E. N. Greene, H. M. Patterson & Son.

HANCOCK—The friends and relatives of Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Hancock Sr., Mr. and Mrs. Frank Dillard, Miss Adelle Hancock, Mr. R. J. Hancock Jr., Master Robert Hancock, Mrs. J. W. Hancock, all of Marietta; Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Head, of Atlanta, Fla., and Mr. and Mrs. Don C. Hancock, Cartersville, Ga., are invited to attend the funeral of Mr. Ralph James Hancock Sr., at 4 p. m. daylight-saving time, from the First Presbyterian church, Rev. J. H. Patton officiating. Interment in Mountain View cemetery. The following gentlemen are requested to serve as pallbearers and please meet at the residence, 809 Church street at 3:30 o'clock: Mr. J. B. Dinwiddie, Mr. J. B. Mahoney, Mr. William Rushton, Dr. W. H. Perkins, Dr. Sam Rambo, Mr. A. B. Pope, Mr. W. E. Roberts, Colonel L. M. Blair, Mayes Ward & Co., Marietta.

WELDON—Friends and relatives of Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Weldon, of Bolton, Ga.; Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Weldon, of Bolton, Ga.; Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Mayo, of Dayton, Ohio; Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Rogers, of Bolton, Ga.; Miss Ollie Lord, of Bolton, Ga.; Mr. and Mrs. L. C. White, of Stonefall, Ga.; Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Howell, of Bolton, Ga.; Miss Clara Lord and Master Paul Smith, of Bolton, Ga., are invited to attend the funeral services of Mr. James F. (Uncle Jim) Lord this (Saturday) afternoon, June 19, 1937, at 3 o'clock (E. S. T.), from Collins Memorial Methodist church, Bolton, Ga. Other survivors are two sisters, Mrs. G. Cobb, of Hammette, S. C.; Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Adams, Atlanta, and several grandchildren. Members of Bolton Chapter No. 143, O. E. S., will act as honorary escort. The following past masters of Bolton Lodge No. 416, F. & A. M., will act as pallbearers and please meet at the residence on Bolton road at 2:30 o'clock: Mr. C. C. Groover, Mr. C. M. Stovall, Mr. C. Henry Mitchell, Mr. G. C. Beard, Mr. H. L. Wilson, Mr. James M. Moore, Rev. T. P. Tribble and Rev. R. L. Whitehead will officiate. Members of Bolton Lodge No. 416, F. & A. M., will have charge of graveside services. Earl Barrett, funeral